OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, April 28, 1949

Hon. Ben HulseSenate Chamber

Senate Bill No. 1377, re real estate subdivisions. No. 6310

DEAR SENATOR HULSE: You have requested an analysis of this bill, with particular attention to whether or not it will operate to deprive boards of supervisors of any powers.

The bill amends Section 11000 of the Business and Professions Code which defines the terms "subdivision" and "subdivided land" as used in Sections 11000 to 11020, inclusive, of said code, which comprise Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 4 thereof.

The bill provides that these terms do not include a parcel of land subdivided into lots or parcels the area of each of which is five acres or more.

The section affected appears in a chapter which is a part of the former Real Estate Act (Chapter 605, Stats. 1919). The principal features of the chapter are as follows:

Prior to offering subdivided lands for sale the subdivider must file a notice of intention with the Real Estate Commissioner, giving a description of the land and certain information as to the condition of the title, the terms on which it is intended to sell the land and other specified information (Sec. 11010).

The Real Estate Commissioner is authorized to investigate the subdivision (Sec. 11014). If he does he makes a public report which he may publish (Sec. 11018).

The commissioner may also make an order prohibiting the sale or lease of the land if the examination shows that the sale or lease would constitute misrepresentation to or deceit or fraud of purchasers of lots or parcels in the subdivision. Such order may be issued only after a hearing and is subject to judicial review (Sec. 11019).

These provisions are designed to prevent fraudulent practices in the sale of subdivided lands. This has been held to be a valid exercise of the police power of the State. In re Sidsbotham (1938) 12 Cal. 2d. 434.

In that case, in answer to the contention that the provision that the land must be divided into five or more lots was arbitrary the court said "The Legislature must necessarily choose some point at which the sale of parcels from a large tract gives rise to the possible evils which require regulation, and we can not say that the determination of five lots is improper" (12 Cal. 2d at p. 437-438).

We believe that the courts would sustain the five-acre provision proposed to be added by the bill on similar reasoning. At some point the size of the parcels eliminates or at least minimizes the dangers of the fraudulent practices at which the law is aimed and it is the Legislature's province to determine where that point lies.

The bill would not leave subdivisions containing only lots or parcels which are over five acres in area without regulation. They would be subject to other state laws regulating subdivisions, such as the Subdivision Map Act (Sees. 11500-11628, incl., B. & P. C.) unless otherwise exempted by the provisions of such laws.

The bill would not deprive the boards of supervisors of the power to enact ordinances affecting such subdivisions.

Section 11 of Article XI of the Constitution provides that counties may make and enforce within their limits all such local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as are not in conflict with general laws.

It is probable that if the bill becomes law that the counties could not impose upon such subdivisions the same regulations as the bill exempts them from. Presumably the Legislature has occupied the entire field of regulations to prevent fraud and deceit in sales of lots in subdivisions and its exemption of subdivisions containing only lots of more than five acres would probably be construed to be a determination that regulation in that respect of such subdivisions is unnecessary.

Unless it could be shown that peculiar conditions in a county justified such regulation the board of supervisors could probably not impose the same or substantially similar regulations on such subdivisions.

This would not, however, prevent the board of supervisors from regulating such subdivisions in other respects, so long as such other regulations were not, in themselves, in conflict with some general law.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

(a) Any municipality may by resolution of its governing body, which resolution shall take effect immediately upon the adoption thereof, submit to its qualified voters at an election held for that purpose, the proposition of issuing revenue bonds under this act [to provide funds for the acquisition, construction or improving of an enterprise or for any combination of two or more such purposes] to provide funds for the acquisition, construction, improving or financing of an enterprise, including any or all expenses incidental thereto or connected therewith or any combination of two or more of such purposes. Such resolution may be adopted at a regular or special meeting and at the same meeting at which it is introduced, by a majority of all members of the governing body then in office. Such resolution shall state the purpose or purposes for which the revenue bonds are proposed to be issued, the estimated cost of the acquisition, construction or improvement, the principal amount of the bonds to be issued therefor, the maximum rate of interest to be paid on such bonds, which shall not exceed 6 per centum per annum, payable annually or semiannually, and shall fix the date on which the aforesaid election will be held, the manner of holding such election, and the manner of voting for or against the issuance of said bonds, and shall state that in all particulars not recited in said resolution such election shall be held and the votes canvassed in the manner provided by law for the holding of general municipal elections in such municipality. Such proposition may be submitted at the same election with other propositions authorized by law. Such resolution shall also state that said bonds are to be revenue bonds, payable exclusively from the revenue of the enterprise and are not to be secured by the taxing power of the municipality.

(b) Such resolution shall be published once a day for at least seven days in some newspaper published at least six days a week in such municipality, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days a week in such municipality, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be a sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days a week. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published, such resolution shall be posted in three public places therein for two succeeding weeks. No other notice of such election need be given. It shall require the votes of a majority of all the voters voting on any such proposition to authorize the issuance of the revenue bonds herein provided for.

(c) If the issuance of the revenue bonds is authorized by the votes of a majority of all the voters voting on the proposition, the governing body shall by resolution provide for their issuance and sale. Such resolution shall take effect immediately upon the adoption thereof.

SEC. 3. Section 5 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 5. Terms of Revenue Bonds. The revenue bonds may be issued in one or more series, may bear such date or dates, may mature at such time or times not exceeding forty years from their respective dates (provided, that if any authorized issue of revenue bonds is divided into two or more series or divisions, the maximum maturity date of each of such series or divisions shall be calculated from the date on the face of each bond separately, irrespective of the fact that different dates may be prescribed for the bonds of each separate series or division of any authorized issue), and any bonds or any series or division of any authorized issue may be in the form of serial bonds or sinking fund bonds with serial or term maturities, may bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 6 per centum per annum, payable annually or semiannually, may be in such denomination or denominations, may be in such form, either coupon or registered, may carry such registration and conversion privileges, may be executed in such manner, may be payable in such medium of payment, at such place or places, and may be subject to such terms of redemption, with or without a premium (provided, that no such premium shall be in excess of 6 per centum of the par value of such revenue bonds; and provided further, that none of said revenue bonds shall be subject to call or redemption prior to their fixed maturity date unless the right to exercise such call is expressly stated on the face of the bonds), all as provided in said resolution. Such resolution may also provide the terms and conditions upon which all such revenue bonds issued thereunder may be declared or become due and payable in the event of certain defaults, if any, as may be specified in said resolution, and may also provide for the replacement of mutilated, destroyed, stolen, or lost bonds. Said revenue bonds may be authenticated in such manner and upon compliance with such conditions, and may contain such other terms and covenants, as may be provided by resolution of the governing body of the municipality. Pending the preparation of the definitive bonds, interim receipts or temporary bonds, exchangeable for definitive bonds when such definitive bonds are ready for delivery, in such form and with provisions as the governing body may determine, may be issued to the purchaser of the bonds. Notwithstanding the form or tenor thereof, and in the absence of an express recital on the face thereof that the bond, or interim receipt, is nonnegotiable, the bonds and interim receipts therefor shall at all times be, and shall be treated as, negotiable instruments for all purposes. The governing body of the municipality in determining the amount of revenue bonds to be issued may include in such amount [all costs and estimated costs of the issuance of said bonds, all engineering, inspection, fiscal agent's and legal expenses, working capital and interest which is estimated will accrue during the construction period and for not exceeding 12 months thereafter on money borrowed or which it is estimated will be borrowed pursuant to this act.] all costs and estimated costs incidental to or connected with the acquisition, construction, improving or financing of the enterprise, including engineering, inspection, legal and fiscal agent's fees, costs of the bond election and of the issuance of said revenue bonds, bond reserve funds and working capital and bond interest estimated to accrue during the construction period and for a period of not to exceed twelve months after completion of construction."

THE SENATE

LANSING 2, MICHIGAN, April 26, 1949

Hon. Goodwin J. Knight
President of the Senate
Sacramento, California

GOOD MORNING, MR. KNIGHT:

The Michigan Legislature, by adoption of the enclosed resolutions, has directed me to forward to you, as presiding officer of your Senate, a duly attested copy of House Concurrent Resolution No. 26, making application to the Congress for the calling of a convention to propose an amendment to the Constitution of the United States; and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 18, requesting your Legislature to adopt the above resolution.

The Michigan Legislature requests that you place House Concurrent Resolution No. 26 before your Senate for consideration as soon as possible; if you are now in session, by immediate presentation; if not in session, by presentation at the next special or regular session.

May we have an acknowledgment of receipt of these resolutions?

Sincerely yours,

FRED I. CHASE
Secretary of the Senate

STATE OF MICHIGAN
MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 18

Offered by Senators Tripp, Bonine, Hittle, and Martin; and Representatives Anderson, Christman, Carroll, and Hutchinson

A concurrent resolution requesting the several states of the United States to adopt a resolution making application for a convention to propose an amendment to the Constitution relating to taxes

When in the course of human events it becomes evident that the Federal Government of the United States of America:

1. Has progressively invaded most of the lucrative fields of taxation.

2. Has multiplied its levies of taxes.
3. Has used the taxing power to bring about a veritable revolution in the economic structure of the Nation.
4. Has collected taxes far in excess of its just or reasonable needs.
5. Has utilized the excess tax revenues to create controlled doles to the states.
6. Has by such doles more and more completely controlled through a centralization of government the lives and affairs of the people.
7. Has created an ever increasing number of bureaus.
8. Has granted power to bureaucrats to make rules having the effect of law, and subjected the people to them.
9. Has created waste and fostered inefficiency in government.
10. Has, by inducement of matching funds, lured legislatures into participating in such waste.
11. Has depleted federal trust funds and thereby caused the need of new taxes to restore broken guarantees.
12. Has wasted, according to recent reports, 3 billions of dollars per annum by inefficient methods in civil government.
13. Has wasted more billions by permitting continued inefficiency and disunity in the operations of the armed forces.
14. Has fostered dissension and the creation of classes, special interests and pressure groups.
15. Has in large part destroyed the balance of government as created in and intended by the Constitution of the United States.

It becomes necessary for the state to take cognizance of the dangerous trends of government and utilize the safeguards in the Constitution provided for the states in the wisdom and forethought of the framers of the Constitution; and,

WHEREAS, The State of Michigan has adopted a resolution making application under Article V of the Constitution for the calling of a convention to propose to the states a specific amendment to the Constitution to limit taxing power and to return to the states a portion of money collected in federal taxation and to authorize the expenditure of such funds in fields in which the Congress has more and more invaded the states, thereby preventing further invasion of basic functions of the states and recapturing some functions heretofore lost; and,

WHEREAS, In order to exercise the rights and powers of the states under Article V it is necessary that a minimum of 32 states adopt an identical resolution in order to control the operation of such a convention when called; and,

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of Michigan has considered the various problems involved in the suggested procedure and has arrived at what it deems an acceptable resolution containing sufficient safeguards; and,

WHEREAS, If amendments thereto are adopted, the validity and effect of the entire proceedings may be jeopardized and brought to naught; and,

WHEREAS, Because of the foregoing, the Legislature of the State of Michigan believes the principles of government affected thereby and the purposes to be accomplished may be acceptable to at least two-thirds of the states; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Legislature of the State of Michigan, That copies of this resolution be sent, together with copies of the resolution proposing a convention for the amendment of the Constitution, to all the Legislatures of the states of the Union, and that such states are hereby requested to adopt such resolution as written, in order that the principle of amendment by the states may be tested, to the end that the states may benefit from the proposals contained therein.

Adopted by a majority vote of the Senators-elect, April 11, 1949.

Adopted by a majority vote of the Representatives-elect, April 14, 1949.

FRED I. CHASE
Secretary of the Senate

NORMAN E. PHILLEO
Clerk of the House of Representatives

Resolution read, and re-referred to Committee on State and Local Taxation.

STATE OF MICHIGAN MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No. 26

Offered by Representatives Anderson, Christman, Carroll and Hutchinson; and Senators Tripp, Bonine, Hittle and Martin

A Concurrent Resolution Making Application to the Congress of the United States for the Calling of a Convention to Propose an Amendment to the Constitution of the United States

WHEREAS, Article V of the Constitution of the United States reads in part as follows: "The Congress * * * on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states, shall call a convention for proposing amendments, which, in either case, shall be valid to all intents and purposes, as part of this constitution, when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states—"; and

WHEREAS, The legislature of the state of Michigan, in view of the increasing tax problems of the state, caused in large part by the invasion of tax sources by the Federal Government, believes that its problems as well as the problems of other states similarly situated, can be solved only by some restraint upon present unrestrained exercise of the taxing power by the Federal Government; and

WHEREAS, The Federal Government is using and has been using for a number of years the taxing power to produce revenue beyond a legitimate necessity of a Federal Government, other than defense needs, and has been using the funds so raised to invade the province of legislation of the states and to appropriate in many fields that which amounts to a dole to the states of the money raised therefrom to accomplish many purposes, most of them worthy, but by the described process making the money available only under conditions which result in a control by the Federal Government from centralized agencies in Washington, in many cases unfit, and in other cases unable to administer the laws according to the local needs because of varying conditions in the country as a whole; resulting in inequities in the administration of the very benefits purported to be granted; and

WHEREAS, State and local needs are disadvantaged because the people are already taxed far beyond the real need for any purpose other than forcing the centralization of all government in Washington; and

WHEREAS, The framers of the Constitution of the United States clearly foresaw the possibility of a condition similar to that herein described, and made provision in the Constitution for safeguarding the states against any oppression or invasion of rights by the federal government; therefore be it

Resolved by the legislature of the state of Michigan, That said legislature, hereby and pursuant to Article V of the Constitution of the United States, makes application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the proposing of the following amendment to the Constitution of the United States:

ARTICLE

Section 1. The power to levy taxes and appropriate the revenues therefrom heretofore granted to the Congress by the states in the several articles of this Constitution is hereby limited.

Sec. 2. This article shall be in effect except during a state of war, hereafter declared, when it shall be suspended. The suspension thereof shall end upon the termination of the war but not later than three months after the cessation of hostilities, whichever shall be earlier. The cessation of hostilities may be declared by proclamation of the President or by concurrent resolution of the Congress or by concurrent action of the legislatures of 32 states.

Sec. 3. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article V, this article may be suspended for a time certain or amended at any time by concurrent action of the legislatures of three-fourths of the states.

Sec. 4. There shall be set aside in the treasury of the United States a separate fund into which shall be paid 25 percent of all taxes collected by authority derived from the Sixteenth Amendment to this Constitution, except as provided in Section 5, and 25 percent of all sums collected by the United States from any other tax levied for revenue.

Sec. 5. There shall be set aside in the treasury of the United States a separate fund into which shall be paid all sums received from taxes levied on personal incomes in excess of 50 percent thereof and from taxes levied on income or profits of corporations in excess of 38 percent thereof.

Sec. 6. Before paying any sums into the funds created by Sections 4 and 5 hereof, the treasurer of the United States shall deduct therefrom 20 percent which shall be used in payment of the principal of the national debt of the United States.

Sec. 7. No tax shall hereafter be imposed on that portion of the incomes of individuals which does not exceed, in the case of unmarried persons the sum of $600 per annum, and in the case of married persons the sum of $1,200 per annum jointly. A minimum deduction of $600 per annum shall be allowed for each dependent.

Sec. 8. The treasurer of the United States shall once in each year, from the separate fund created by Section 4 hereof, pay to each of the several states one-fourth of 1 percent of said fund and from the remainder of said fund shall pay to each state a portion of such remainder determined by the population of each state in ratio to the entire population of the several states according to the last federal decennial census or any subsequent general census authorized by law.

Sec. 9. The treasurer of the United States shall, from the separate fund created by Section 5 hereof, pay to each state, once in each year, a sum equal to the amount of money in such fund which was collected from persons or corporations within such state.

Sec. 10. Any sums paid hereunder to the several states shall be available for appropriation only by the legislatures thereof. The legislatures may appropriate therefrom for any purpose not forbidden by the constitutions of the respective states and may appropriate therefrom for expenditures within the states for any purpose for which appropriations have heretofore been made by the Congress except such purposes as are specifically reserved by this Constitution for the exclusive power of the Congress. The people of each state may limit the expenditures of funds herein made available to the legislature, but shall not direct the appropriation thereof.

Sec. 11. Each legislature shall have power by rule or resolution to provide for the assembly thereof in special sessions for the purpose of considering amendments to, the suspension of or the ratification of amendments proposed to this article.

Sec. 12. Each legislature shall have power to elect one or more persons to represent such legislature in any council or convention of states created by concurrent action of the legislatures of 32 states for the purpose of obtaining uniform action by the legislatures of the several states in any matters connected with the amendment of this article.

Sec. 13. The Congress shall not create, admit or form new states from the territory of the several states as constituted on the first day of January, 1949, and shall not create, form or admit more than three states from the territories and insular possessions under the jurisdiction of the United States on the first day of January, 1949, or from territory thereafter acquired without the express consent of the legislatures of three-fourths of the several states.

Sec. 14. On and after January 1, 1949, the dollar shall be the unit of the currency. The gold content of the dollar as fixed on January 1, 1949, shall not be decreased.

Sec. 15. Concurrent action of the legislatures of the several states as used herein shall mean the adoption of the same resolution by the required number of legislatures. A limit of time may be fixed by such resolution within which such concurrent action shall be taken. No legislature shall revoke the affirmative action of a preceding legislature taken therein.

Sec. 16. During any period when this article is in effect the Congress may, by concurrent resolution adopted by two-thirds of both houses wherein declaration is made that additional funds are necessary for the defense of the nation, limit the amount of money required by this article to be returned to the several states. Such limitation shall continue until terminated by the Congress or by concurrent action of a majority of the legislatures of the several states. Upon termination of any such limitation the Congress may not thereafter impose a limitation without the express consent by concurrent action of a majority of the legislatures of the several states.

Sec. 17. This article is declared to be self-executing.

and be it further

Resolved, That attested copies of this concurrent resolution be sent to the presiding officers of each House of the Congress and to each member of the Michigan delegation in Congress, and that printed copies thereof, showing that said concurrent resolution was adopted by the legislature of Michigan, be sent to each House of each legislature of each state of the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That this application hereby made by the legislature of the state of Michigan shall constitute a continuing application in accordance with Article V. of the Constitution of the United States until at least two-thirds of the legislatures of the several states shall have made similar applications pursuant to said Article V; and be it further

Resolved, That since this is an exercise by a state of the United States of a power granted to it under the Constitution, the request is hereby made that the official journals and Record of both Houses of Congress, shall include the resolution or a notice of its receipt by the Congress, together with similar applications from other states, so that the Congress and the various states shall be appraised of the time when the necessary number of states shall have so exercised their power under Article V of the Constitution; and be it further

Resolved, That since this method of proposing amendments to the Constitution has never been completed to the point of calling a convention and no interpretation of the power of the states in the exercise of this right has ever been made by any court or any qualified tribunal, if there be such, and since the exercise of the power is a matter of basic sovereign rights and the interpretation thereof is primarily in the sovereign government making such exercise and since the power to use such right in full also carries the power to use such right in part the legislature of the state of Michigan interprets Article V to mean that if two-thirds of the states make application for a convention to propose an identical amendment to the Constitution for ratification with a limitation that such amendment be the only matter before it, that such convention would have power only to propose the specified amendment and would be limited to such proposal and would not have power to vary the text thereof nor would it have power to propose other amendments on the same or different propositions; and be it further

Resolved, That the legislature of the state of Michigan does not, by this exercise of its power under Article V, authorize the Congress to call a convention for any purpose other than the proposing of the specific amendment which is a part hereof;

nor does it authorize any representative of the state of Michigan who may participate in such convention to consider or to agree to the proposing of any amendment other than the one made a part hereof; and be it further

Resolved, That by its actions in these premises, the legislature of the state of Michigan does not in any way limit in any other proceeding its right to exercise its power to the full extent; and be it further

Resolved, That the Congress, in exercising its power of decision as to the method of ratification of the proposed article by the legislatures or by conventions, is hereby requested to require that the ratification be by the legislatures.

Adopted by a majority vote of the Representatives-elect, April 7, 1949.

Adopted by a majority vote of the Senators-elect, April 11, 1949.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 29, 1949

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California, Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 656, entitled: "An act to amend Section 6303 of the Public Resources Code, relating to state lands, granting privileges with respect thereto."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

It was intended by this measure to permit the State Lands Commission to allow any contractor to have sand, gravel, or other spoils dredged from state lands without paying a royalty when such dredging was done in connection with the execution of a contract with the Federal Government for dredging navigable streams. Unfortunately the language of the bill is so broad as to permit the State Lands Commission to authorize such taking by any person having such a contract whether such taking is in connection with the execution of the contract or not.

Because this authority to the State Lands Commission was not intended, I have been requested on behalf of the commission, which sponsored the bill, to return it without my signature.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Request for Unanimous Consent

Senator Brown asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up Senate Bill No. 656, at this time, for consideration of Governor's veto.

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of said bill, after line 16, insert

"Sec. 4. Section 1 of the California Unemployment Insurance Act is amended to read:

Section 1. [As a guide to the interpretation and application of this act the public policy of this State is declared as follows:

Experience has shown that large numbers of the population of California do not enjoy permanent employment by reason of which their purchasing power is unstable. This is detrimental to the interests of the people of California as a whole.

The benefit to all persons resulting from public and private enterprise is realized in the final consumption of goods and services. It is contrary to public policy to permit the supply of consumption goods and services at prices which do not provide against that harm to the population consequent upon periods of unemployment of those who contribute to the production and distribution of such goods and services.

Experience has shown that private charity and local relief cannot alone prevent the effects of unemployment. Experience has shown that if the State awaits the coming of excessive unemployment it can neither create immediately the organization necessary to orderly, economical and effective relief nor bear the financial burden of relief without disrupting its whole system of ordinary revenues and without jeopardizing its credit.

The Legislature therefore declares that in its considered judgment the public good and the general welfare of the citizens of the State require the enactment of this measure under the police power of the State, for the compulsory setting aside of funds to be used for a system of unemployment insurance, providing benefits for persons unemployed through no fault of their own, and to reduce involuntary unemployment and the suffering caused thereby to a minimum.

It is the intent of the Legislature that unemployed persons claiming unemployment insurance benefits shall be required to make all reasonable effort to secure employment on their own behalf.]

As a guide to the interpretation and application of this act the public policy of this State is declared to be as follows:

Experience has shown that, in the best of business circumstances, there is a considerable number of workers in California who do not enjoy permanent, continuous employment. In periods of high business activity, such unemployment as there is, which is neither by the choice nor the fault of the persons unemployed is what may be called "frictional" unemployment resulting from the need for continuous readjustment of the labor force to variations in industry loads and to constantly changing business requirements. The cause of frictional unemployment is not so much the lack of work opportunities as it is the lag between the ending of one employment and the finding of the next.

Experience has shown that, as business recedes from a high point of activity, job opportunities shrink, which condition causes another kind of unemployment. Unemployment from lack of work due to business recession contracts purchasing power which leads to further shrinkage of work opportunities, which interaction, if not arrested, leads to mass unemployment.

Experience has further shown that failure to reduce the lag period between successive periods of employment which causes frictional unemployment may reduce purchasing power enough to start the spiral of progressive shrinkage of purchasing power and work opportunities which leads to mass unemployment.

Experience has also shown that there are many persons who normally work and so are not covered by workmen's compensation insurance.

Any kind of unwanted unemployment is demoralizing to the individual and a loss of purchasing power to the economy of the State. Mass unemployment is a disaster not only to the unemployed but to everyone else. It is contrary to public policy to permit the supply of consumption goods and services at prices which do not provide for means to prevent the harm to the population and the economy which results from periods of unemployment of those who contribute to the production and distribution of such goods and services.

Experience has shown that the resources of private charity and local relief do not alone prevent the ill effects of progressive unemployment. Experience has shown that, if the State awaits the coming of mass unemployment, it cannot create immediately the organization necessary to orderly, economical and effective relief of those in distress, and that the cost of mass relief is much greater than the cost of preventing mass unemployment.

The Legislature therefore declares that in its considered judgment the public good and general welfare of the citizens of the State require the enactment of this measure under the police power of the State, to stabilize employment by providing: for the establishment of a state operated system of free public employment offices to reduce frictional unemployment by assisting employers to find needed workers and by assisting the unemployed to find work; for the establishment of a system of unemployment insurance, based on compulsory contributions by employers, to provide partially against loss of wages by persons able to work and available for work who are unemployed through no choice or fault of their own; and for the establishment of a system of disability insurance, based on compulsory contributions by employees, to provide partially against loss of wages by persons unemployed because of illness or disability.

It is the considered judgment of the Legislature that the first line of defense against progressive unemployment is the reduction of frictional unemployment in times of good business by finding work for the unemployed, and it is the intent of the Legislature that the free public employment service established by this act shall be the most important phase of this employment stabilization program.

It is the intent of the Legislature that the unemployment insurance program shall be in truth an insurance and not a relief program, that its benefits shall be payable only to regular workers who are able and willing to work and who are actively seeking work on their own behalf, and that in no case shall the amount of benefits payable be a sufficient portion of a worker's normal average earnings to be an inducement not to work. It is not intended that the number of payments payable to an individual in any one year, nor, that the size of the insurance reserve fund shall be such as would cover relief needs in an extended period of mass unemployment, but only that they shall be sufficient to lessen the hardships due to loss of wages in a limited period of unemployment and that they shall offset the loss of purchasing power so as to prevent mass unemployment.

It is the intent of the Legislature that the unemployment disability program shall lessen the hardships due to loss of wages in time of illness or disability to the same extent and for the same length of time as provided for the able unemployed by unemployment insurance.

SEC. 5. Section 92 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 92. [In addition to all other powers granted and duties imposed by this act, the commission] It is the opinion of this Legislature that the most desirable way to stabilize employment is by getting jobs for unemployed people, and, it is, therefore, the intent of this Legislature that the primary function of the Department of Employment is the placing of people in jobs, and that the service rendered to employers seeking workers and to people seeking work shall be reasonably comparable to that provided by a successful private placement agency. To this end, among other appropriate activities, the department:

(a) Shall establish, maintain and operate adequately staffed public employment offices for men, women and juniors who are legally qualified to engage in gainful occupations and shall maintain a veterans' placement service to be devoted to securing work for veterans and a farm placement service to promote the placement and clearance of agricultural labor, and a youth placement department to promote the placement of youth in suitable fields of employment; provided, however, that the commission is not required to maintain a farm placement service if and during such time as applicable federal laws provide for a system of farm labor placement financed from federal funds which is separate and apart from the general system of public employment offices. Adequate records and statistics on all the classifications above mentioned shall be compiled and kept by the employment service, and a report of such records, statistics, applications and placements shall be made semiannually.

(b) Shall inform employers and job seekers of its placement facilities through adequate public information efforts, solicit job orders from employers and solicit applications for jobs from the general public as well as from claimants for unemployment insurance; and in doing so, the department shall use personal calls, telephone calls, advertising, publication or any other means calculated to produce the most effective results per dollar of cost.

(c) May promulgate such rules as it finds desirable for the registration of unemployed persons, and for placing them in available employment. To this end it may accept financial contributions from any governmental unit or agency, or private person.]

(c) Shall accept any job order, regardless of specifications contained therein and regardless of whether or not such job is, in its opinion, substandard in pay or conditions of work, except if such job is open by reason of a trade dispute or if the services to be performed or the terms or conditions of employment are contrary to federal, state or local law, and shall inform any qualified applicant of the existence of such job opening; provided, that, if a job applicant is a claimant for benefits and refuses a referral to such job, the department shall thereafter determine whether such job constitutes suitable work.

(d) Shall require an applicant to furnish reasonable evidence of his qualifications to perform each kind of work for which he applies before he is considered as being qualified to perform such work.

(e) Shall, except when a referral to a job is immediately available, create, for each job applicant, a record which contains, in addition to any other necessary information which the director shall prescribe, the applicant's name, address, telephone number and social security account number, if any, signature and a designation of each kind of work he is qualified to perform up to not less than three such designations in order of his qualifications and preference, and shall maintain such record in an alphabetical file by applicants' names; provided, however, that, if an applicant is not a claimant for benefits, the department shall not be required to keep his application record beyond thirty days from the date of his last communication with the department.

(f) Shall provide adequate means for continuous cross-reference of job orders with qualifications of applicants, and shall, when the qualifications of two or more applicants for any one job appear equal, and after giving effect to priority due veterans because of any federal, state or local law, give preference in referral in accordance with the following factors in order: (1) Their usual occupation, (2) their preferences and (3) priority of their filing applications.

(g) Shall request each employer who has a job order on file to notify the department when the job opening concerned has been filled, and request notification by an applicant when he is no longer seeking work.

(h) Shall, whenever an applicant who is also a claimant for benefits has been disqualified for benefits because of his refusal of a particular job opening in suitable work if, and as long as, such job is the only job suitable for such applicant for which the department has a job order, continue to offer that same job to that same applicant each week until the job order has been filled, each refusal of such job opening to be considered as being an additional refusal of suitable work.

(i) Shall require that its local offices effect a reasonable exchange with each other, of information relative to the supply of specific classes of labor in their respective territories, and to specific unfilled job orders on hand, and require each local office to offer to applicants suitable work in the territory of another office when such work is not available in its own territory, even though an applicant who refuses to apply for such work may not be subject to disqualification for benefits by reason of his refusal of such an offer.

(j) May promulgate such rules as it finds desirable for the registration of unemployed persons, and for placing them in available employment, and to this end, may accept financial contributions from any governmental unit or agency, or private persons.

(k) If any provision of this section shall be found not to conform to federal requirements for eligibility for federal grants for administration of the employment service, such provision shall not be effective to the extent of such nonconformance.

SEC. 6. Section 84 is added to said act, to read:

SEC. 84. In addition to all other powers granted and duties imposed by this act, the director may create unemployment districts and other territorial subdivisions for the proper administration of the act.

SEC. 7. Section 57 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 57. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature: That the California unemployment insurance program shall be in fact an insurance and not a relief program; that eligible persons shall receive unemployment insurance benefits as a matter of right and not of need; that unemployment insurance benefits shall be payable only to unemployed persons who have had earnings of not less than specified amounts within and over a specified prior period, in work for which wages are payable under this act, and so whose employers have, in effect, paid their "insurance premiums" for them, and that it shall be like "term insurance" in that, if a person stops work for long enough, his insurance shall run out. It is not intended that such benefits shall be paid to persons who are not truly attached to the labor market or who do not really want to work during their unemployment, or to persons who cause their own unemployment and so are not properly insurable risks. The provisions of this section and of Sections 58 and 59 give specific effect to this legislative intent.

(b) An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive unemployment insurance benefits with respect to any week only if [the commission finds that]:

[(a)] (1) He has certified that he was unemployed within the meaning of this act and has made a claim for benefits with respect to such week [has been made] in accordance with such regulations as the commission director may prescribe.

[(b)] (2) He has registered [for work, and thereafter continued to report] and asked for employment at a public employment office or such other place as the [commission] director may approve, stating the nature of each kind of work he is qualified by experience to perform and offering reasonable evidence of his competence to perform each such kind of work; and has thereafter continued to report as directed by the department at such public employment office; except that either or both of the requirements of this subdivision may be waived or altered by authorized relation as to partially employed individuals attached to regular jobs:

[(c)] (3) He was able to work and available for work throughout such week; provided that, if he has removed his residence to a place which is beyond reasonable travel from any place where his usual or last previous kind of work is performed or his usual or last previous kind of work is of a seasonal nature which is not then being performed in the locality, he shall not be considered available for work if he restricts the kind of work he will accept to his usual or last previous kind of work; and provided further that a pregnant woman shall not be considered, for the purposes of this act, as being able to work after her seventh month of pregnancy until eight weeks after the termination of such pregnancy;

[(d)] (4) He has been unemployed for a waiting period of one week with respect to which no benefits were payable; provided that no week shall be counted as a week of unemployment for the purposes of such waiting period:

(i) Unless it occurs within the benefit year which includes the week with respect to which he claims payment of benefits, provided that this requirement shall not interrupt the payment of benefits for consecutive weeks of unemployment, and provided further that the week immediately preceding a benefit year, if part of one uninterrupted period of unemployment which continues into such benefit year shall be deemed (for the purposes of this subsection only) to be within such benefit year as well as within the preceding benefit year:

(ii) If benefits have been paid with respect thereto;

(iii) Unless the individual was eligible for benefits with respect thereto in all respects, except for the requirements of this subsection (4) and Section 53.

(5) He has during his base year been paid wages for employment by one or more subject employers of not less than [three] six hundred dollars [300] ($600) provided, however, that, if the total of such base period wages is not equal to one and one-half times the greatest amount of such wages paid in any calendar quarter of such base year, he shall not be eligible for benefits unless the total of such base-period wages is not less than forty times his weekly benefit amount.

(6) He has presented convincing evidence that he has, during such week, made a reasonable effort in good faith in seeking employment on his own behalf by following a course of action which is reasonably designed to result in his prompt reemployment in suitable work, considering the customary methods of obtaining work in his usual occupation, or for which he is suited; provided that, if the department finds that, in a particular locality, the prospects of claimants within a particular occupation or class for finding employment outside the public employment service are so remote that any effort in seeking work other than by registration as provided in subparagraph (2) of this subdivision would be useless to the claimant and burdensome to employers, then such registration by the claimant shall be considered a reasonable effort in seeking work on his behalf.

SEC. 8. Section 57.5 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. [57.5.] 57.1. An individual shall not be eligible for benefits on account of unemployment for any week or part of any week, with respect to which [or a part of which] he has received or is seeking unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law of any other state or of the United States; provided, that if the appropriate agency of such other state or of the United States finally determines that he is not entitled to unemployment benefits, the provisions of this section shall not apply.

SEC. 9. Section 57.2 is added to said act, to read:

Sec. 57.2. An unemployed individual shall not be eligible for unemployment insurance benefit payments if:

(1) He has left his most recent subject employment because of a trade dispute which is still in active progress in the establishment in which he was employed; or

(2) He has left subject employment prior to his most recent subject employment because of a trade dispute which is still in active progress in the establishment in which he had such prior employment, except if he shall present proof that he has, by a positive act of his own, severed his connection with the establishment in which he had such prior employment and irrevocably surrendered any seniority or other right to reemployment by such establishment he might otherwise have had on termination of such trade dispute.

(3) He has voluntarily left his last subject employment to be married or because of duties connected with marriage or to join his spouse at some other place of residence until he has earned one hundred dollars ($100) in subject employment occurring subsequent to the date of such voluntary leaving.

SEC. 10. Sections 56 and 58 of said act are repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 57.3 is added to said act, to read:

Sec. 57.3. If an unemployed individual has been determined by the department to be ineligible for unemployment insurance benefit payments pursuant to the provisions of this section or has been disqualified for such payments by the department pursuant to Section 59, and if, thereafter, such determination or disqualification has been reversed on appeal, he shall be entitled to receive such benefit payments for any week in which he received no benefit payment while the appeal was pending only if, during such week, he has acted as would have been required of him to be eligible for such benefit payments if there had been no such determination of ineligibility or disqualification.

SEC. 12. Section 201 of the Unemployment Insurance Act is amended to read:

Sec. 201. "Disability" or "disabled" includes both mental or physical illness and mental or physical injury. An individual shall be deemed disabled in any week in which, because of his physical or mental condition, he is unable to perform his regular or customary work; provided, however, that [in no case shall the term "disability" or "disabled" include any injury or illness caused by or arising in connection with pregnancy up to the termination of such pregnancy and for a period of four weeks thereafter], if a pregnant woman is unemployed within the period beginning with the end of the seventh month of pregnancy and ending eight weeks after the termination of such pregnancy, but not to exceed a total of 16 weeks, she shall be deemed disabled, but, beyond such period the term "disability" or "disabled" shall in no case include any injury, illness or other incapacity caused by or arising in connection with pregnancy.

SEC. 13. Section 57.7 of said act is renumbered to become Section 58.

SEC. 14. Section 59 is added to said act, to read:

Sec. 59. An unemployed individual who is otherwise eligible shall be disqualified for unemployment insurance benefit payments:

(a) If he has left his most recent subject employment:

(1) Voluntarily—that is, without there having been a material change in the desirability of his employment which was directly attributable to the employer, or his having had a compelling reason beyond his choice or control; or

(2) By reason of discharge for misconduct—that is, for misconduct connected with his work or directly affecting his desirability as an employee; in either of which circumstances his period of disqualification shall be for six weeks; provided, however, that he shall be presumed not to have left voluntarily or by reason of discharge for misconduct if he so states, and if the department has no evidence to the contrary, unless his most recent subject employer, or any subject employer by whom he was employed in his base period, shall have mailed or delivered to the department a written notice to the contrary, setting forth such facts as are necessary to establish a prima facie case in support thereof; and provided further that, if such notice is mailed or delivered within five days from the date on which notice of the filing of his claim for unemployment insurance benefits shall have been mailed to his most recent subject employer by the department, any period of disqualification pursuant to this paragraph shall be from and including the first week for which such benefits would otherwise have been payable to him, but, if the mailing or delivery of such notice is delayed beyond such five days, and the claimant is not disqualified for fraud in connection with any claim in question, any such period of disqualification shall be from and including the week in which such delayed notice is received by the department, and any payments made to him prior to such delayed notice shall not be considered as overpayments and shall be charged to the reserve account of one or more employers in his base period as provided in Section 41;

(b) If, at any time prior to his most recent subject employment, he has left voluntarily, or has been discharged for misconduct from, subject employment which at the time of separation could reasonably have been expected to continue indefinitely, and has thereafter accepted subject employment in one or more instances which could reasonably have been expected at the time of acceptance to be temporary, for the purpose of becoming eligible and avoiding disqualification for unemployment insurance benefits, in which circumstances he shall be considered, and his case shall be treated as if he had left voluntarily, or been discharged for misconduct from, his most recent subject employment; provided, further, that, in the circumstances described in this subsection, it shall be a presumption that he has acted to bring about such circumstances for the purpose of becoming eligible and avoiding disqualification for unemployment insurance benefits.

(c) If he has refused to accept suitable employment when offered to him or failed to apply for suitable employment when notified by a public employment office, he shall be disqualified for benefits for a period of four weeks for each such occurrence, such period to be in addition to any disqualification for any other reason, and, if there be more than one such occurrence, the disqualification resulting from each instance shall not be cumulative, but shall be for four weeks from the date of the last such instance; provided that, if such individual has been separated by reason of a temporary layoff, wherein the employer has expressed his intent to reemploy him at the termination of such layoff, he shall not be considered within the first four weeks after such separation as having so refused or failed if the job in prospect is other than temporary.

(d) If he has been found by the department to have used profane or obscene language to, or to have threatened or perpetrated violence on, any employee of the department, or to have been guilty of a breach of the peace on the premises of the department, he shall be disqualified for benefits for a period of four weeks from the week of occurrence or from the expiration of any unexpired period of disqualification previously incurred for each occurrence, and, if there be more than one such occurrence, the disqualification resulting from each instance shall be cumulative.

(e) If he is disqualified under subsection (a), (b), or (c) of this section:

(1) He shall, throughout the period of disqualification, be required to report weekly to the office of the department in which his claim is on file and certify that, during the prior benefit week, he has acted in the same manner as would be required of him to be eligible for benefits if he had not been so disqualified, and, if, in any week, he fails so to report and certify, each such failure shall extend the total elapsed time of the disqualification period by one week, but no such added week shall operate to reduce the maximum amount of benefits payable to him; and

(2) His acceptance of employment during such disqualification shall reduce the elapsed time of his period of disqualification by the number of weeks worked up to the total period of disqualification and, during such employment, he shall be relieved of the requirements of subparagraph (1) of this subsection.

(f) If he has wilfully made a false statement or a misrepresentation of a fact which is pertinent to a determination of his eligibility to receive, or disqualification for, benefits under any of the provisions of this act, or has wilfully failed to report a material such pertinent fact, or if, for the purpose of obtaining benefits, he has wilfully followed a course of action designed to discourage prospective employers from hiring him:

(1) If such is found by the department, he shall be disqualified for benefits for a period of one year from date of such wilful action; and

(2) If such is proved by his conviction of a criminal charge by a court of competent jurisdiction, he shall be disqualified permanently from the date of such wilful action; provided, however, that, after three years from the date of such wilful action, further disqualification because of such action may be removed by the court in which such conviction was had.

Sec. 15. Section 13 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 13. [(a) "Suitable employment" means work in the individual's usual occupation or for which he is reasonably fitted, regardless of whether or not it is subject to this act.

In determining whether the work is work for which the individual is reasonably fitted, the commission shall consider the degree of risk involved to his health, safety, and morals, his physical fitness and prior training, his experience and prior earnings, his length of unemployment and prospects for securing local work in his customary occupation, and the distance of the available work from his residence. Any work offered under such conditions is suitable if it gives to the individual wages at least equal to his weekly benefit amount for total unemployment.

In any particular case in which the commission finds it impracticable to apply one of the foregoing standards, the commission may apply any standard set by it which is reasonably calculated to determine what is suitable employment.

(b) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, no work or employment shall be deemed suitable and benefits shall not be denied to any otherwise eligible and qualified individual for refusing new work under any of the following conditions:

(1) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lockout, or other labor dispute;

(2) If the wages, hours, or other conditions of the work offered are substantially less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality;

(3) If, as a condition of being employed, the individual would be required to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization.] "Suitable employment" is defined, for purposes of this act, as follows:

(a) During the first four consecutive weeks in which an individual is unemployed, "suitable employment" means work in the individual's usual occupation or a closely related occupation at a rate of pay not substantially less than the rate prevailing in the locality for newly-hired employees of approximately equal skill in such work, regardless of whether or not it is subject to this act.

(b) After an individual has been unemployed for four consecutive weeks "suitable employment" means work in any occupation for which he is reasonably fitted, regardless of whether or not it is in his usual occupation or closely related thereto, and regardless of whether or not it is subject to this act; provided that it does not entail unreasonable risk of damage to his health, safety or morals, or an unreasonable amount of uncompensated time or difficulty in travel from his residence to the location of the work; and provided further that it gives him wages at least equal to his weekly benefit amount for total unemployment.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, no work or unemployment shall be deemed suitable and benefits shall not be denied to any otherwise eligible and qualified individual for refusing new work under any of the following conditions:

(1) If the position offered is vacant due directly to a strike, lockout, or other labor dispute;

(2) If the wages, hours, or other conditions of the work offered are substantially less favorable to the individual than those prevailing for similar work in the locality;

(3) If, as a condition of being employed, the individual would be required to join a company union or to resign from or refrain from joining any bona fide labor organization.

SEC. 16. Section 53 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 53. The maximum amount of benefits payable to an individual during any one benefit year shall be 26 times his weekly benefit amount; provided, that in no case shall the total amount of benefits payable be more than one-half the total wages paid such individual during his base period; and provided further, that if such benefit is not a multiple of one dollar ($1) it shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1); and provided further, that the maximum amount of benefits otherwise payable to any individual shall be decreased, whenever he is disqualified under the provisions of subdivision (b) or (c) of Section 59 of this act, by an amount equal to the product of the total number of weeks of such disqualification multiplied by his weekly benefit amount.

Sec. 17. Section 100 of said act is amended to read:

Almighty God, our hearts are saddened as we consider the death of our associate Senator Michael J. Burns. Eventide has fallen for him. He has crossed the bar to meet Thee, his Creator and his God. He has fought his fight. He has finished his course. Comfort his family, Oh God. Be Thou a father to them. Sustain them in this their hour of sorrow. May we who survive our friend be reminded that we, too, shall in our turn face death. We, too, shall be called to meet Thee. Help us to so live that when our summons comes, we may hear Thy welcoming voice say: Well done thou good and faithful servant. These things we ask in Jesus' name.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS BY SENATOR DESMOND IN THE JOURNAL

Senator Powers moved that the remarks by Senator Desmond in presenting Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 50 be printed in the Journal.

Motion carried.

Remarks by Senator Desmond

Mr. President and Members of the Senate:

The roll has been called and there is one of our number who fails to respond. His chair is vacant and the wreath which lies upon his desk gives mute testimony to the fact that his soul has returned to its Creator and his body lies peacefully in death.

Senator Michael J. Burns has answered his last roll call upon the floor of this Senate but he has responded to the final roll call of his Maker to whom he will give an account of his stewardship. I am certain, as are all within the hearing of my voice that in response to this last roll call, God, in His infinite goodness and justice, will look upon the spiritual being of our former colleague and say "Well done, thy Good and Faithful Servant, enter Thou into the Kingdom of Heaven, there to enjoy eternal peace."

I am sure of this, as all of you are, for Michael J. Burns was a man of character, a man of virtue, a man blessed with a keen perception of moral values. His character, his humor, his wisdom, his sound judgment left their imprints upon the mind and hearts of all of us who knew him.

Michael J. Burns, the humble man, the Senator, was my friend. His wisdom and sage advice was a guiding influence upon me during our service in the Legislature. He was my seat mate in the Assembly for many years and he was my seat mate in the Senate, he was a man among men. His heart was free of guile, and after a bitter legislative struggle, win or lose, Mike bore ill to no man, his was a character that forgave and never sought revenge.

Mike is gone, never again will his Irish wit give us courage in our times of trial; never again will the Irish wisdom of Mike Burns come to our aid in the solution of difficult problems of State; never again will the honest, straightforward character of Mike Burns be here to guide our footsteps along the pathway of righteousness.

But, while the mortal remains of Mike Burns rest in the ever peaceful solitude of death, the spirit of Mike Burns will always be present in our midst, and in solemn tribute we bow our heads in respect to a man of character, to an humble man, who sought nothing for himself, but whose life and its living was the true essence of that immortal and everlasting law, "Do unto others as you would that others should do unto you."

We pay our last tribute to Senator Michael J. Burns. Our minds flash back over the years and we turn the pages of memory and in the present as we visualize our friend Mike before his God to give an account of his stewardship, let us offer a silent prayer of sympathy for his beloved wife, his children and his grandchildren who survive him, and then let us say to ourselves, "Mike, you have attained your reward, pray for us that we may some day join you in a life of Eternal Happiness."

POSTPONEMENT OF MOTIONS TO RECONSIDER

Senator Powers asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the motion by Senator Breed to reconsider the vote whereby Senate Bill No. 1377 was passed, and the motion by Senator Desmond to reconsider the vote whereby Assembly Bill No. 608 was passed, continued until the next legislative day.

ADJOURNMENT

At 2.25 p.m., on motion of Senator Powers, the President declared the Senate adjourned until 1 p.m., Tuesday, May 3, 1949, out of respect to the memory of the late Senator Michael J. Burns.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

HOUSING AND HOME FINANCE AGENCY

OFFICE OF THE ADMINISTRATOR
WASHINGTON 25, D. C., April 29, 1949

DEAR MR. BEEK: The President has asked me to thank you for sending him a copy of Senate Joint Resolution No. 7 of the California Legislature concerning the removal of temporary Lanham Act housing in your State.

While the Lanham Act requires that all temporary housing be removed by January 1, 1950, it gives this office discretionary authority, after consultation with the local communities, to postpone removal from year to year. These postponements must be reported to the Congress.

It is contemplated that recommendations for changes in this law will be submitted to the Congress in time for action prior to January 1, 1950. If, however, the law is not changed prior to that date, the required community consultations will be held and removal of the housing postponed when it is found that it is still needed.

If you desire additional information on this subject, please feel free to call on me.

Sincerely yours,

RAYMOND M. FOLEY, Administrator

MR. JOSEPH A. BEEK, Secretary of the Senate
State of California, Sacramento, California

(xv) If as of such computation date the employer's net balance of reserve is 11½ percent or more of his average base pay roll, there shall be no contributions.

(2) If, as of the close of business on any December 31st, the balance in the unemployment fund equals 7½ percent or more of the total taxable wages reported as paid or payable during the twelve consecutive months ended on the next preceding September 30th, the tax contribution to be paid in accordance with the rates provided under subsection (b) (1) of this section shall be the whole tax contribution for the following calendar year, and the pooled-payments part of the whole tax contribution shall be zero. However, if at such time, on such December 31st, such balance is less than such 7½ percent, the director shall compute the pooled-payments part of the whole tax contribution at the lowest rate which is a multiple of 0.1 percent, and which, if it had been applied uniformly to employees on the basis of their taxable wages in the twelve consecutive months ended on the next preceding September 30th, would have yielded an additional amount of revenue equal to the amount by which the balance in the fund at such time on such December 31st is below such 7½ percent, and such rate shall be added to the experience-rated part of the whole tax contribution, provided for in subsection (b) (1) of this section, to apply to taxable wages paid or payable in the following calendar year; provided, however, that, if the application of the foregoing formula for computation of the pooled-payments part of the whole tax contribution results in a rate of more than 1.3 percent, the pooled-payments part shall be at the rate of 1.3 percent."

Amendment No. 39

On page 5 of said bill, after line 50, insert

"SEC. 3. Section 40 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 40. The [commission] department shall keep separate records of the amounts paid into the fund by each employer in his own behalf, [or chargeable to him as benefits:] except contributions which may be required as the pooled-payments part of the whole contribution under Section 39, and of the amounts chargeable to him as benefits; but nothing in this [chapter] act shall be construed to grant any employer or his employees prior claims or rights to the amount contributed by him to the fund, either on his own account or on behalf of his own employees. The amount of employer contributions shall be pooled and available to pay benefits to any employee entitled to benefits under the provisions of Articles 1 to 9 inclusive regardless of the source of contributions.

SEC. 4. Section 41.1 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 41.1. (a) The [commission] department shall furnish each employer with itemized statements showing the charges to his account and with statements showing the credits to his account, the net balance of his reserve and his contribution rate for the next succeeding [rating period] calendar year; provided, however, that, for the purpose of establishing the net balance of his reserve, no employer's account shall be credited with any part of his contribution to the unemployment fund which may be required to be paid as a pooled-payments part of his whole contribution, as provided in Section 39. Such statements shall be furnished not less frequently than annually. Such statement or statements of account shall be mailed to each employer at his last known address as shown on the records of the [commission] department.

(b) The employer, within sixty days after the date of mailing of any such statement, may protest any of the items shown thereon except charges for benefit payments where the employer was notified, as required by the act or authorized regulations, of the claimant's eligibility for such benefits[.] and with respect to which the employer has not filed a protest of such eligibility or such a protest has been made and has been finally found or adjudicated to be without merit, or where such benefits have been paid before the department's having received such a protest of eligibility which was mailed or taken to the department more than five days after the department mailed notice of the claimant's new or additional claim to the claimant's most recent previous subject employer. The [commission] director may, for good cause, extend the time for filing of any such protest. Unless such protest is filed within the period prescribed herein, or within any extended period, such statement shall be conclusively presumed to be correct; provided, that the [commission] department, upon its own initiative, after notice to the employer and opportunity for him to protest as above provided, may amend any statement if it subsequently finds any entries thereon to be incorrect. A decision of the appeals board in any such protest proceeding shall be subject to judicial review, as provided by law, if an appropriate proceeding is filed by the employer within sixty days of the date of mailing of such decision; provided, however, that the [commission] director may in writing extend the time for a period of not exceeding two years from the time within which such proceeding may be instituted if written request for such extension is filed with the [commission] director within the sixty-day period.

(c) [In the event that a protest proceeding is pending with respect to any statement provided for above when any contribution becomes due, the employer shall pay the contribution at the rate indicated by the commission's computation. If a determination indicating that a lesser contribution rate should have been computed is subsequently made in favor of the employer, the commission immediately either shall refund to the employer or credit to his account any amount so determined to have been paid in excess of the amount which he would have been required to pay had the computation been made correctly. Such refund or credit also shall be made to the employer if the commission on its own initiative finds that an excessive contribution rate was computed for the employer. An amendment by the commission on its own initiative shall not affect the contribution rate for any rating period preceding the rating period during which such amendment was made but if such amendment results in a determination that a different contribution rate should have been computed for the current rating period the commission shall compute the proper contribution rate which rate shall be effective for the current rating period. Any additional contributions thus required to be paid shall be assessed as provided in this act and shall be deemed to be due as contributions for the quarter in which the employer is notified of such determination and shall be considered as "contributions paid on his own behalf" if paid on or before the delinquent date for the quarter in which he is notified of the determination.]

If an employer, within fifteen days after the date of mailing of any such statement or of any such amendment thereto, shall pay to the director a voluntary contribution for the unemployment fund, designating that such voluntary contribution shall be with respect to such statement or amendment, the department shall:

(1) Compute what shall be called the "net voluntary contribution" as being that amount which, plus interest at the rate of .06 percent per week or fraction thereof from the June 30th next preceding the calendar year for which his tax contribution rate is affected by such designated notice or amendment to the date of such payment, plus an assessment of twenty-five dollars ($25), is equal to the amount of such payment;

(2) Credit the net voluntary contribution to the reserve account of such employer as of the June 30th next preceding the calendar year for which his tax contribution rate is affected by such designated notice or amendment and thereafter consider any net balance of reserve of such employer exactly as if such net voluntary contribution had been paid on or before such June 30th as a tax contribution required under this act; and

(3) Within thirty days of the receipt of such a payment of a voluntary contribution, mail to such employer an amended such statement which shall give effect to such credit of net voluntary contribution; provided, however, that no effect shall be given to any voluntary contribution with respect to the contributor's contribution rate for any calendar year if such voluntary contribution is received by the department after the expiration of the first 120 days of such calendar year.

(d) In the event that a protest proceeding is pending with respect to any statement provided for above when any contribution becomes due, the employer shall pay the contribution at the rate indicated by the department's computation. If a determination indicating that a lesser contribution rate should have been computed is subsequently made in favor of the employer, the department immediately either shall refund to the employer or credit his account any amount so determined to have been paid in excess of the amount which he would have been required to pay had the computation been made correctly. Such refund or credit shall also be made to the employer if the department, on its own initiative, finds that an excessive contribution rate was computed for the employer. An amendment by the department, on its own initiative, shall not affect the contribution rate for any calendar year of which the last day is before the sixtieth day after the date on which notice was mailed to the employer that such amendment was made, but, if such amendment results in a determination that a different contribution rate should have been computed for a calendar year of which the last day is not before the sixtieth day after the date on which notice shall be mailed to the employer that such amendment shall have been made, the department shall compute the proper contribution rate, which rate shall be effective for such calendar year. Any additional contributions thus required to be paid shall be assessed as provided in this act and shall be deemed to be due as contributions for the quarter in which the employer is notified of such determination and shall be considered "contributions in his own behalf" if paid on or before the delinquent date for the quarter in which he is notified of the determination.

SEC. 5. Section 39.1 of said act is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 41 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 41. [The commission shall maintain a separate account for each employer, and shall credit his account with all the contributions paid on his own behalf. But nothing in this act shall be construed to grant any employer or individuals in his service prior claims or rights to the amounts paid by him into the fund whether on his own behalf or on behalf of such individuals. Benefits paid to an unemployed individual during any benefit year shall be charged against the account of his employer during his base period; provided, that if such individual performed services in employment for more than one employer during his base period, benefits paid to such individual shall be charged against the respective accounts of such employers in the proportion that the total wages paid to such individual in employment for each such employer bears to the total wages paid to such individual in employment for all such employers during the base period. The maximum amount of benefits chargeable against employers' accounts by reason of benefits paid to any one individual for any one benefit year shall not be in excess of 18 times the weekly benefit amount of such individual for such benefit year.]

(a) The term "maximum charge-back liability," as used herein with respect to charges against employers' reserve accounts for unemployment insurance benefits paid to their former employees, means the maximum amount of such benefits payable to one unemployed individual in any one benefit year, as provided in Section 53, which is not more than eighteen times his weekly benefit amount.

(b) If an unemployed individual had only one employer in his base period, unemployment insurance benefits of not more than the maximum charge-back liability therefor which are properly paid him shall be charged against the reserve account of such employer. If such individual performed services in employment for more than one employer during his base period, the maximum charge-back liability during his benefit year shall be shared among his base period employers, the share of each such employer being in the same proportion to the maximum charge-back liability as the amount of taxable wages he paid such individual for employment within such period bears to the total taxable wages paid such individual for employment within such base period, and thereafter, unemployment insurance benefits of not more than the maximum charge-back liability therefor which are properly paid for such unemployed individual shall be charged to the respective reserve accounts of such employers in the proportion which the share of each bears to the maximum charge-back liability.

(c) Any employer who has employed an unemployed individual in employment at any time since the beginning of his base period may protest the eligibility or qualification of such individual for unemployment insurance benefits at any time in his related benefit year, and any benefits paid to an unemployed individual for the period following his disqualification for having voluntarily left, or having been discharged for misconduct from, employment which was his most recent subject employment, as elsewhere defined and provided for in this act, and before the end of the continuous period of unemployment which began with such disqualification, shall not be charged to any employer's reserve account: provided, however, that, if notice of such protest is not given to the department within the time prescribed elsewhere in this act, and if such unemployed individual is not disqualified by reason of any criminal violation of this act, the period of any such disqualification shall be fixed by the department as beginning as of the second business day after the business day on which the department receives such notice, in which case any benefit payments made otherwise properly before the beginning of such disqualification period shall not be considered as overpayments to the unemployed individual and shall be charged to one or more employers' reserve accounts, as provided in subsection (b) of this section, as if such disqualification had not occurred.

(d) If an unemployed individual is found by the department to have voluntarily left, or been discharged for misconduct from, both as elsewhere defined in this act, employment by an employer during his base period who was not his most recent subject employer, such employer's reserve account shall not be charged for any benefit payments paid to such individual during his related benefit year, and the amount of what would otherwise have been such employer's share of the maximum charge-back liability for such payments shall not be charged to the reserve account of any employer; provided, that, if such employer has employed such unemployed individual for more than one period of continuous employment within such individual's base period, his reserve account shall be charged for his share with respect to each such employment period which was not ended by such individual's having voluntarily left, or having been discharged for misconduct from, employment by such employer; and provided, further that, if such employer shall not mail notice of protest of such charges to the department within five days after the department has mailed him notice of his potential liability for such charges to his reserve account, any such charges made prior to the second business day after the business day on which the department receives such notice shall stand as made.

SEC. 7. Section 41.5 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 41.5. Whenever any employing unit acquires the organization, trade, or business, or substantially all of the assets thereof, or a distinct and severable portion of such organization, trade, or business of any employer, excepting in such case, any assets retained by such employer incident to the liquidation of his obligations (whether or not such acquiring employing unit was an "employing unit" within the meaning of Section 8.5 of this act prior to such acquisition), and continues such organization, trade, or business, or such distinct and severable portion thereof without substantial reduction of personnel resulting from such acquisition, the separate account, actual contribution and benefit experience and pay rolls of the predecessor or that part thereof, as determined by authorized regulations, which pertains to the organization, trade, or business, or portion thereof acquired, shall be transferred to the successor employer for the purpose of determining its rate of contribution after such acquisition with the same effect for such purpose as if the operations of the predecessor had at all times been carried on by the successor. Such separate account shall be transferred by the commission to such successor employer and, as of the date of such acquisition, shall become the separate account or part of the separate account, as the case may be, of such successor employer, and the benefits thereafter chargeable to such predecessor employer on account of employment relating to such transferred organization, trade, or business or transferred portion thereof prior to the date of such acquisition shall be charged to such separate account. This section shall not apply to any acquisition which is determined by the commission to have been made solely or primarily for the purpose of obtaining a more favorable rate of contribution under Section 39.

The provisions of this section shall apply to acquisitions prior as well as subsequent to the effective date of this act; provided, that notice of such acquisition shall have been given to the commission within one year of the date of such acquisition, or within ninety days after the effective date of this act, whichever is later; and provided further, that transfer of accounts with respect to acquisitions consummated prior to the effective date of this act, not previously authorized prior to said effective date, shall not affect any rate of contribution for any period prior to said effective date.

In event of a denial of application for transfer of reserve account, any interested party shall have the right to petition for hearing before the appeals board and the decision of the appeals board, after affording the parties reasonable opportunity for fair hearing, shall be final unless within sixty days after the mailing of the notice of determination of the appeals board any interested party may bring an action against the commission with respect to such determination to require the transfer of the reserve account as required by law. The commission, in writing, at any time prior to the expiration of said sixty-day period may extend the time during which such action may be instituted for a period not exceeding two years of the date of mailing of the determination of the appeals board.

(b) [The commission may prescribe regulations for the establishment, maintenance, and dissolution of joint accounts by two or more employers, and shall in accordance with such regulations, upon application by two or more employers to establish such account or to merge their several individual accounts in a joint account, maintain such joint account, as if it constituted a single employer's account.] Whenever an employer combines his operations, or any part of his individual operations with those of one or more other employers, or one or more others, to accomplish a contract or project as a joint venture and to pay wages to one or more individuals employed in employment by the joint venture from funds committed, advanced or charged to the joint venture, they shall jointly so notify the department, and the department shall then establish and maintain a separate joint employer-reserve account for the venture and shall compute the tax contribution rate applicable to wages paid by the venture as if the venture were a single employer; provided that, when such joint venture is terminated, the participants shall jointly so notify the department, stating the ratio of interest of each participant in the joint venture, and when all liability for charges for benefits against the reserve account of that joint venture shall have ceased, the department shall divide and transfer any debit or credit balance remaining in such joint reserve account to the separate reserve accounts of each of the employers who were also participants in the ratio of the participation of each to the participation of all of them in such joint venture; provided, however, that all participants in such a joint venture shall be jointly and severally liable for any money due the State from such venture under the provisions of this act; and provided, further, that the form, content and time for filing of notices prescribed by this subsection shall be in accordance with regulations necessary for the purposes of administration.

SEC. 8. Section 45.11 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 45.11. [(a) If the commission determines that any amount of contributions, penalty or interest has been erroneously or illegally collected it shall set forth in its records the amount collected in excess of the amount legally due and the name of the employing unit or other person by whom it was paid and shall if a claim has not already been filed give notice to such employing unit or other person of such amount. The excess amount shall be credited on any amounts then due from or accrued against the employing unit and the balance shall be refunded to the employing unit or its successor, administrators or executors. No refund or credit shall be allowed, however, unless

(1) A claim therefor is filed with the commission within three years from the last day of the calendar month following the close of the calendar quarter for which the overpayment was made or with respect to assessments made under Sections 45.5 or 45.6 of this act within six months after the assessments become final or within sixty days from the date of overpayment, whichever period expires the later, and

(2) The employing unit conforms to authorized rules and regulations with respect to the refund to workers entitled thereto of any moneys deducted by the employing unit under Section 44 of this act.

Every claim shall be in writing and shall state the specific grounds upon which the claim is founded. Failure to file a claim with the commission or after denial thereof by the commission, to file a petition for review with the appeals board within the time prescribed by this section constitutes a waiver of any demand against the State or the commission on account of overpayment.

(b) The commission shall give notice to the claimant whenever it disallows any claim in whole or in part, notice to be served in the manner prescribed for service of notice of assessments under Section 45.5. Within thirty days of notice of disallowance, the claimant may file with the appeals board a petition for review of the claim. If the petition is filed within the time prescribed the appeals board shall review the claim and, if requested by the claimant, shall, unless a hearing has previously been afforded claimant on the same grounds on which the claim is based, grant a hearing before the board or its duly authorized representative, giving 10 days notice of the time and place of the hearing. Regardless of any prior proceedings, the claimant may file an affidavit setting forth new and additional evidence in support of his claim, and the appeals board may grant an additional hearing as provided in this section.

(c) Interest shall be allowed and paid only to the extent that interest and penalties collected under this act are available therefor upon any overpayment of contributions at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum from the date of overpayment to the date of the allowance of the refund or credit, provided, however that no interest shall be allowed if the commission determines that any overpayment has been made intentionally or by reason of negligence on the part of the employing unit.

(d) No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall issue in any suit, action or proceeding, in any court against this State or against any officer thereof to prevent or enjoin under this act the collection of any contribution sought to be collected. No suit or proceedings shall be maintained in any court for the recovery of any amount of contributions, interest or penalties alleged to have been erroneously or illegally assessed or collected unless a claim for refund or credit has been filed pursuant to this section. Within ninety days after the mailing of the notice of the action by the appeals board upon a claim filed pursuant to this section, the claimant may bring an action against the commission on the grounds set forth in the claim in a court of competent jurisdiction in the County of Sacramento for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount with respect to which the claim has been disallowed; provided however, that the commission may in writing extend for a period of not exceeding two years the time within which such action may be instituted if written request for such extension is filed with the commission within the 90-day period. Failure to bring action within the time specified constitutes a waiver of any demand against the State on account of alleged overpayments. If the commission fails within sixty days to mail notice of an action on a claim after the claim is filed the claimant may consider the claim denied and file a petition for review of the denial with the appeals board as set forth in this section. If the appeals board fails to mail notice of action of any petition for review within ninety days after such petition is filed with the appeals board the claimant may consider the claim disallowed and may bring an action against the commission as provided herein.

If in any such action judgment is rendered for the plaintiff, the amount of the judgment shall first be credited on any contribution, interest and penalties due from the plaintiff under this act, and the balance of the judgment shall be refunded to the plaintiff. In any such judgment, interest shall be allowed and paid only to the extent that interest and penalties collected under this act are available therefor, at the rate of 6 percent per annum upon the amount of contributions found to have been illegally collected from the date of payment thereof to the date of such judgment.]

(a) If the department determines that it has collected, illegally and erroneously, any amount of contributions, penalty, or interest from any employer, it shall refund to such employer or his successor, administrators or executors, the amount collected in excess of the amount legally due, or it shall credit such excess amount against any amounts that may then be due from, or accrued against, such employer and refund the balance, if any.

(b) If any employer determines that he has paid, illegally or erroneously, any amount of contributions, penalty or interest, he may file a claim to recover any amount paid in excess of the amount legally due. Such claim shall be in writing and shall state the specific grounds upon which the claim is founded. Failure to file a claim with the department or, after denial thereof by the department, to file a petition for review with the appeals board within the time prescribed by this section constitutes a waiver of any demand against the State or the department on account of overpayment.

(c) No refunds shall be made or credits allowed under subsection (a) of this section and no claims may be filed under subsection (b) of this section after three years from the last day of the calendar month following the close of the calendar quarter for which the overpayment was made, or, with respect to assessments made under Section 45.5 or 45.6 of this act, after six months after the assessments become final or after sixty days from the date of overpayment, whichever period expires the later, and in no circumstances shall any refund or credit be allowed to any employer who fails to conform to authorized rules and regulations with respect to the refund to workers entitled thereto of any moneys deducted by the employer under Section 44 of this act.

(d) The department shall give notice to the claimant whenever it disallows any claim in whole or in part, notice to be served in the manner prescribed for service of notice of assessments under Section 45.5. Within thirty days of notice of disallowance, the claimant may file with the appeals board a petition for review of the claim. If the petition is filed within the time prescribed, the appeals board shall review the claim and, if requested by the claimant, shall, unless a hearing has previously been afforded claimant on the same grounds on which the claim is based, grant a hearing before the board or its duly authorized representative, giving 10 days notice of the time and place of the hearing. Regardless of any prior proceedings, the claimant may file an affidavit setting forth new and additional evidence in support of his claim, and the appeals board may grant an additional hearing as provided in this section.

(e) Interest shall be allowed and paid, only to the extent that interest and penalties collected under this act are available therefor, upon any overpayment of contributions at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum from the date of overpayment to the date of the allowance of the refund or credit, provided, however, that no interest shall be allowed if the department determines that any overpayment has been made intentionally or by reason of negligence on the part of the employing unit.

(f) No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall issue in any suit, action or proceeding, in any court, against this State or against any officer thereof, to prevent or enjoin under this act the collection of any contribution sought to be collected. No suit or proceedings shall be maintained in any court for the recovery of any amount of contributions, interest or penalties alleged to have been erroneously or illegally assessed or collected unless a claim for refund or credit has been filed pursuant to this section. Within ninety days after the mailing of the notice of the action by the appeals board upon a claim filed pursuant to this section, the claimant may bring an action against the department on the grounds set forth in the claim in a court of competent jurisdiction in the County of Sacramento for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount with respect to which the claim has been disallowed; provided, however, that the director may in writing extend for a period of not exceeding two years the time within which such action may be instituted, if written request for such extension is filed with the department within the 90-day period. Failure to bring action within the time specified constitutes a waiver of any demand against the State on account of alleged overpayments. If the department fails within sixty days to mail notice of an action on a claim after the claim is filed, the claimant may consider the claim denied and file a petition for review of the denial with the appeals board, as set forth in this section. If the appeals board fails to mail notice of action on any petition for review within ninety days after such petition is filed with the appeals board, the claimant may consider the claim disallowed and may bring an action against the department as provided herein.

If, in any such action, judgment is rendered for the plaintiff, the amount of the judgment shall first be credited on any contribution, interest and penalties due from the plaintiff under this act, and the balance of the judgment shall be refunded to the plaintiff. In any such judgment, interest shall be allowed and paid, only to the extent that interest and penalties collected under this act are available therefor, at the rate of six percent (6%) per annum upon the amount of contributions found to have been illegally collected from the date of payment thereof to the date of such judgment.

SECOND READING OF SENATE BILLS (OUT OF ORDER)

Senate Bill No. 921—An act to repeal Section 56 of the Unemployment Insurance Act, relating to unemployment insurance.

Bill read second time.

Motion to Amend

Senator Dillinger moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

On page 1, in the title of the printed bill, strike out "repeal Section 56", and insert "amend Section 2".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 1 and 2, and insert

"SECTION 1. Section 2 of the Unemployment Insurance Act is amended to read: Sec. 2 (a) This act is enacted as a part of a National plan of unemployment reserves and social security, and for the purpose of assisting in the stabilization of employment conditions. The imposition of the tax herein imposed upon California industry alone, without a corresponding tax being imposed upon all industry in the United States, would, by the corresponding penalty upon California industry, defeat the very purposes of this act set forth in Section 1. Therefore this act shall take effect only if and when there is enacted legislation by the United States Government providing for a tax upon the payment of wages by employers in this State, against which all or any part of the contributions required by this act may be credited.

Whenever such legislation enacted by the United States Government is repealed, amended, interpreted, affected or otherwise changed in such manner that no portion of the contributions required by this act may be thus credited, then upon the date of such change, the provisions of this act requiring contributions and providing for payments of benefits shall cease to be operative and any assets in the Unemployment Fund or Unemployment Administration Fund shall in the discretion of the State Treasurer be held in the then existing depositories or otherwise in the State Treasury. In the case of the Unemployment Administration Fund, such moneys may thereafter be dealt with by the State Treasurer pursuant to the conditions of the grant thereof to the State by the United States Government or agency thereof.

(b) If the federal bureau or official, then empowered by federal law to do so, shall hold, and shall officially so notify the California Employment Stabilization Commission, that any provision of this act is not in conformance with federal requirements, and that enforcement of such provision will result either in loss to the State of all or any part of any federal grant for administration of the State's employment service or unemployment insurance activities which it would otherwise receive, or in loss to any employer, who is subject both to this act and to any related federal tax, of any right to obtain any credit against such federal tax of any amount of the tax contributions required of him under this act which he would otherwise have, then the commission, unless such provision is expressly exempted from the provisions of this section, is authorized and directed to declare such provision not to be effective to the extent that such federal bureau or official shall have held it not to be in such conformance.

(c) If the commission shall declare any provision of this act not to be effective, as provided in subsection (b) of this section, it shall report such action, as soon as practicable, to the Governor, and to the Legislative Auditor, for his transmission, together with his recommendations, to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee of the California Legislature. Such report shall contain a statement of the facts and circumstances leading to such action, together with an appraisal, supported by statistics, if available, of the effects, on service to the public, to job applicants and to claimants under this act, and on the finances of the State and of employers subject to this act, which would result if such provision so declared not to be effective were then to be made effective without regard to such holding of nonconformance. Such appraisal shall be of the net result of such a course, not only in terms of the possible loss of federal grant to the State or of tax credit to employers, but also in terms of the possible increased value of services and saving to the unemployment fund, to the end that such report shall be an aid to the Governor and the Legislature in determining whether or not it would be to the net benefit of the State to ignore such holding of nonconformance and, if necessary, to appropriate state funds to administer all or any part of this act."

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Social Welfare.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received and read, and on motion of Senator Powers, ordered printed in the Journal:

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., April 22

*Hon. Harold Powers, President pro Tempore
California State Senate
State Capitol, Sacramento, Calif.*

In reply to your inquiry as to veracity of story in San Francisco Call on date of April 26 I refer you to story in San Francisco News of April 27 which is an accurate account of my statement. I did not on the occasion of my talk on the twenty-sixth nor at any other time make charges against any present or past Member of the Senate as inferred in story of twenty-sixth. I always have had and have now utmost regard for men who are my colleagues in the State Senate. I believe you and those who served with me know me well enough to feel that I treasure the friendships made during the period of my service. It is unfortunate that a story twisting my remarks was released which created anxiety and resentment amongst my friends. I sincerely hope that you will assure Members of the Senate that the story in the San Francisco Call was not a true report of what I said and I again refer you to the story in the San Francisco News which is a far more accurate report of my remarks. May I say I very greatly appreciate your inquiry on this matter and sincerely hope that you will convey the substance of this telegram to Members of the Senate. A letter containing the clipping of the News story will follow.

JOHN P. SHELLEY
President, California State Federation of Labor

Recently there has been a serious shortage in the sardines available, the exact cause of which has not been determined. However, immediate further restrictions on the taking of sardines as provided in this act are necessary and delay therein will increase the existing shortage and further diminish a valuable food supply of the people of this State."

Public Employees' Loyalty Oaths—No. 6588

DEAR SENATOR TENNEY: We have your request of May 4, 1949, asking whether Senate Bill No. 280, as amended in Senate, April 14, 1949, requiring a loyalty oath of public employees, must be referred to the Senate Finance Committee under Senate Rule 12, Subdivision 5.

Senate Rule 12, Subdivision 5, as printed in the Senate Journal of April 11, 1949, at pages 1131 and 1132, reads:

“Any bill which would require the expenditure of additional state moneys in any manner and any bill which would require the expenditure of additional state money in any manner, including any bill which creates an additional state agency or office, or adds any functions, duties, or responsibilities to an existing agency or office, shall be referred to the Finance Committee before being placed on third reading.”

The problem involved in the application of this rule is to determine whether any new function or additional expense to the state appears to be necessarily inferred as a matter of law from the context of the measure. In one sense, practically any change in the functions of a state agency will involve the element of a change in the operating costs of the agency. For example, if the Fish and Game Code were amended to include protection of additional species of fish or game, this would naturally result in an increased burden upon the department. Whether this would result in an additional cost would not be apparent until it is determined whether additional personnel would be required to enforce the provision or whether the work would be absorbed by the existing employees. The function of protecting the new species would not be a new function, but merely an additional item in the existing function for which the department is already established and operating.

Applying this problem to Senate Bill No. 280, as amended in Senate, April 14, 1949, it appears that there is now in the State Government a personnel board charged with the function of keeping employees' records. Section 18704 of the Government Code reads:

"The board shall establish and maintain in suitable form an official roster of all persons holding positions under this part and enter thereupon their names, complete record of state employment, and other facts prescribed by board rule."

Rule 36 of the State Personnel Board reads:

"At the Sacramento office of the board, the executive officer shall maintain an official roster containing the names and complete employment records of all employees holding positions in the state civil service. The roster shall contain complete records of all salary payments or other compensation allowed each employee for services rendered during his state employment."

The Government Code in Sections 18150 to 18158, inclusive, contains provisions for the filing of oaths for state employees. Section 18153 provides for the filing of such oaths by civil service employees with the State Personnel Board.

From these provisions of the law, it is apparent that the State Personnel Board is already charged with the duty of keeping a record of employees' oaths.

Senate Bill No. 280, it is true, creates an additional item in respect to the performance of this function. The bill contains this provision:

"Every person described in Section 1401 (any employee of the State or any of its counties, etc.) shall make and file an affidavit, as herein provided, at least once in each year of continuous employment * * *" (Sec. 1402.)

Section 1403 of the Government Code as added by the bill reads in part:

"Every employee of the State shall file the affidavit, as provided in this article, with the State Personnel Board."

These provisions call upon the Personnel Board in the performance of the functions, duties, and responsibilities already assigned to it to keep an additional record. Whether the keeping of such a record would entail the employment of additional help or otherwise result in an additional state expenditure may not be inferred as a matter of law. The board already maintains a roster with employee information available for any pay roll check which may be required and the additional check, if any, may possibly be absorbed by the board.

It appears to us that the question of additional expense to the State is factual and not legal and cannot be determined from the face of the bill. We are, therefore, of the opinion that as a matter of law we cannot say that Senate Bill No. 280, as amended, must be referred to the Senate Finance Committee, pursuant to Rule 12, subdivision 5.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, May 5, 1949

Hon. Jack B. TenneySenate Chamber

Loyalty Oaths—No. 6563

DEAR SENATOR TENNEY:

Question

You have asked us whether we are of the same opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 280, as amended April 14, 1949, relating to public employees' loyalty oaths, as we concluded in our opinion dated April 20, 1949, taking into particular consideration Section 3 of Article XX of our State Constitution prohibiting the requirement from any officer of any oath other than the oath there prescribed.

Opinion

We are still of the opinion that Senate Bill No. 280, as amended, is constitutional.

Analysis

Section 3 of Article XX provides:

"Members of the Legislature, and all officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as may be by law exempted, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of -----, according to the best of my ability."

"And no other oath, declaration, or test, shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust." (Emphasis added.)

It is noted that Senate Bill No. 280 also would add Section 1405 to the Government Code to read:

"The provisions of this article shall not apply to Members of the Legislature, all officers of this State, executive and judicial, or to employees of the University of California." (Emphasis added.)

From a comparison of Section 1405 with the first paragraph of Section 3 of Article XX, it appears that the persons exempt from the provisions of Section 1405 are the same persons which Section 3 states shall take the oath set forth in that section. It would seem clear that this provision in Senate Bill No. 280, as amended, would eliminate from its purview any person required by the Constitution to take an oath under Section 3 and would apply only to state employees not included in Section 3 of Article XX.

Considering that portion of Section 3 of Article XX, that "no other oath * * * shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust," it appears that "public trust" as so used refers to those officers required to take the oath as enumerated in the first paragraph of Section 3.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

Loyalty Oaths and Checks—No. 6486

DEAR SENATOR O'GARA:

Question

Would Senate Bills Nos. 280 and 515, as amended, be unconstitutional in view of Cummings v. Missouri (1866), 71 U. S. 277?

Opinion

It is our opinion that the above bills are constitutional.

Analysis

The assertion has been made that the above bills are invalid as bills of attainder and ex post facto laws on the basis of Cummings v. Missouri (1866) 71 U. S. 277. That case involved a loyalty oath, required by the Missouri Constitution. The United States Supreme Court declared it unconstitutional as in violation of the sections of the Federal Constitution which provide, "that no state shall pass any bill of attainder or ex post facto law."

However, a comparison of the oath required in the Missouri Constitution and the oath required in Senate Bill No. 280 makes it clear that the only similarity between the two oaths is the fact that they are both titled "loyalty oaths."

The Missouri Constitution required that persons swear among other things that they had never indicated, in the past, in any terms their dissatisfaction to the Government of the United States or had otherwise sympathized with or advocated triumph of enemies of the United States. This oath had to be sworn to before any citizen could

- "1. Vote at any election.
2. Hold any office.
3. Be a candidate for office.
4. Serve as a juror.
5. Practice as an attorney or counselor at law.
6. Be an officer, councilman, director, trustee or manager of any corporation.
7. Be a professor or teacher in any school, public or private.
8. Hold any property in trust for any church, religious society or congregation.
9. Act as a bishop, priest, deacon, minister, elder or other clergyman of any religious denomination.
10. Or preach, or teach, or solemnize marriages."

If the citizen could not so swear he was denied any of the above listed rights or privileges.

In comparing the above oath with the oath in Senate Bill No. 280, the employee is required to swear as to whether or not he advocates or is a member of any organization which advocates the violent overthrow of the government. As distinguished from the Missouri oath, he is permitted to take the oath whether he advocates or does not advocate the violent overthrow of the government. He is not denied employment even in the state service for any reason other than failure to give his affidavit, but that affidavit regardless of his feelings or advocacy is not impossible to render. In the Missouri oath if a person had in the past acted or indicated in any terms his dissatisfaction of the government, he was denied employment due to his inability to take the oath.

The Missouri oath related to past actions, the oath in Senate Bill No. 280 requires an affidavit that the employee does not now advocate or is a member of an organization which advocates the violent overthrow of the government other than organizations which he lists in his affidavit. He is also required to swear that he will not in the future become a member of any other organizations which so advocate during the time he is in the employment of the State.

There is a provision in the oath in Senate Bill No. 280 whereby the State Personnel Board may list organizations, designated as subversive and un-American by the Attorney General of the United States and by the congressional committees investigating un-American activities, which the employee may be required to check as to whether he has ever been a member of such organizations as are listed therein. However, as stated in the bill this list is solely for evidentiary purposes. If it is used for such purposes, it does not deny the employee the right to prove that he is not now a member of such organization or that while he may still be a member of such organization that the Attorney General of the United States or the congressional committees were wrong in their classification and in either case that such evidence should therefore be disregarded.

Senate Bill No. 280, as distinguished from the Missouri Constitution, does not punish any employee for actions. In fact, it does not punish any employee for any actions except failure to submit the required affidavit. The employee is not denied employment by this bill; he is not denied any of his now existing rights or remedies for appeal from any action which the State Personnel Board might take as a result of his affidavit to the courts of this State or the United States.

Thus, it would seem that the Cummings case is distinguishable on its facts and no conclusions as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 280 could be based upon that case.

In regards to Senate Bill No. 515 as amended, it would seem clear that the objections as to the constitutionality of this bill raised by Mr. McTernan's letter would not be applicable. Senate Bill No. 515 does not authorize an employer to hire or fire an employee for any reason, and does not deny any person employment for failure to take an oath. Senate Bill No. 515 does remove from the application of a law passed by the Legislature (Section 1101 of the Labor Code), a limited classification of employers and by so doing would permit an employer engaged in national defense to require such an oath from his employee without liability under Section 1101 of the Labor Code.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the California Toll Bridge Authority and the Department of Public Works are hereby authorized and directed to deliver to the Senate as promptly as possible but not later than the twenty-seventh of May, 1949, a report as to the feasibility and practicability of acquiring the bridges as of the first day of January, 1950, or the first day of July, 1950, or as soon, in any event, as such acquisition in each case may be in the public interest, such acquisition to be by purchase or condemnation by the State, or the California Toll Bridge Authority and the Department of Public Works. The report shall include: An appraisal of the value of the structures, if acquired; the amount of compensation to the owner which, in the judgment of the authority and the department, should be paid on the basis of the value of the structures and the length of time which the franchises have yet to run; the feasibility of providing funds for such acquisition by issuing and selling revenue bonds; the rate of tolls estimated as necessary to collect, pending the retirement of such revenue bonds; and an estimate of the reduction, if any, in the rate of tolls which may be effected immediately upon acquisition of said toll bridges; and be it further

(c) Estimated annual cost of the operation and maintenance of each bridge and of collecting tolls thereon for a period of 20 years, together with a report upon the propriety and feasibility of paying such maintenance, operation and toll collection costs from the Highway Users Tax Fund.

(d) A report upon the effect the lowering of tolls upon each bridge may have with respect to the volume of traffic which may be expected to use the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

(e) Itemized statement, showing annually, for the years 1940 to 1948, inclusive, the real and personal property taxes paid in respect of each bridge property and of all payments to each county pursuant to the franchises under which the bridges are operated together with a copy of each franchise and of all amendments thereto; and be it further and Members of the State Senate*

California Legislature, Sacramento, California

MR. PRESIDENT AND GENTLEMEN OF THE SENATE:

Your Committee on Institutions acting as a special committee pursuant to Rule 12.5 and Senate Resolutions No. 24 and No. 55 of the 1949 Session, to investigate the advisability of repealing Chapter 1051, Statutes of 1947, which chapter authorized the removal of the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi to some other location, appropriating money for the purchase of a site therefor, and authorizing the disposal of the properties at the present location and Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 32 relative to the cessation of expenditures under said Chapter 1051 of the Statutes of 1947, until ninety (90) days after the final adjournment of the present session of the California Legislature, herewith submits its preliminary report and recommendations as a result of the special investigation and study for which said special committee was created.

The special committee, composed of members of the Senate Standing Committee on Institutions, personally visited the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi, had the opportunity to observe, first hand, the conditions and other phases of operation thereof, has taken the testimony on hearings at Tehachapi and Sacramento of approximately twenty witnesses and as a result thereof presents its preliminary report containing recommendations as to need for legislative action and suggestions to the Department of Corrections and the department having to do with the personnel of said institution and the business management of the said California Institution for Women.

The California Institution for Women at Tehachapi is situate in beautiful Cummings Valley in the Tehachapi Mountains 11 miles from the thriving City of Tehachapi, 40 miles from Bakersfield and 118 miles from Los Angeles. A well-maintained state highway extends from Tehachapi to the institution. The institution buildings are well constructed, have an appearance unlike a prison—more like a large mountain resort—surrounded by 1,720 acres of grazing and agricultural land with an abundance of water supply for domestic use and irrigation.

In this preliminary report, attention is particularly called to the following findings and recommendations which have been unanimously approved by the committee. As a result of the investigation authorized by this Senate and the study made by this committee and because of the desire of the committee that information be given the Senate as to such observations, investigations and study, pending the filing of a detailed report, the committee recommends:

(1) That the California Institution for Women at Tehachapi be not removed from its present location and the properties at Tehachapi be not disposed of as provided in the above mentioned 1947 statute. No sufficient reason for its removal has been found by this committee, particularly in view of the enormous cost for the construction of the buildings at a new site and the loss to the State in the disposition of the present buildings. This committee finds that the reasons given by the proponents for the removal of the institution in 1947 and which were apparently acted upon by the Legislature are not substantiated by the actual facts. The principal reasons given were isolation of institution, by reason thereof difficulty to retain staff, inability to obtain professional staff, insufficiency of water supply and lack of transportation facilities to and from the institution. The committee finds that many of these reasons are now given by those desiring the removal but they are not sustained by the evidence submitted to this committee at the hearings. The final report of this committee to be filed later will cover these findings in detail.

The main buildings at the Institution at Tehachapi were built during the depression years and represent the lowest cost of building construction. The cost to duplicate these buildings alone is estimated in excess of twice the original cost. The estimated cost of the new institution buildings and facilities will be $4,380,000. The cost of the present buildings, capital outlay to date, is $706,319.77. Two hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated for the purchase of a new site. One hundred eighty thousand dollars has been allocated for architectural fees, costs and expenses. To these sums must be added furnishing facilities which will bring the total cost to the State of some $6,000,000, less an estimated salvage in the sale of the present buildings at $100,000. The sum of $1,500,000 has already been allocated to the Department of Corrections for the new institution. In other words, to proceed under the act of 1947, it will cost the State in excess of $6,000,000 for a new institution at a new site when we now have a going concern and institution which has the reputation, at its present location, of being the finest institution of its kind in this Country. This reputation was gained by the efficiency of the institution at its present location at Tehachapi.

(2) A further study should be made as to the disposition of the excess acreage comprising the institution property and considered unused and unnecessary. That a thorough study be made of the agricultural possibilities at the Tehachapi site, that would aid in obtaining the best results in development of a program that is suitable at that location from the standpoint of aid to that institution and other state institutions as well as provide an activity that would aid also the program of rehabilitation of the inmates. This is in accordance with the information obtained at the meetings of this committee and contained in final report to be filed.

(3) That notwithstanding, the present building program to improve the housing facilities for the personnel as well as increasing dormitory space for inmates, the contract which was recently let will represent an anticipated investment of approximately $110,000, further steps should be taken to increase the housing facilities for members of the staff at the present location, both inside and outside of the gate.

(4) That all moneys now appropriated to be used during the coming year and in the near future for temporary buildings be used for buildings of the permanent type and that in addition to the sum now available, additional sums be appropriated for construction of what permanent buildings are required for housing of staff and adequate housing for inmates. That all other buildings, such as recreational hall and for use of education and vocational training and other work projects, be constructed for permanency.

(5) That a study of personnel and business procedure be made.

That a proper classification with title and duties to correspond with what is now termed as correctional officer (male) as are now employed at the California Institution for Women be established. Those whose present duties are guards and general utility men should be given the title corresponding to their duties that they would require examination for such new classification only. This examination should pertain strictly to the specified duty. The term "correctional officer" should not be used except for those employees whose principal duties are in connection with the direct supervision and contact with inmates and carry out the program of aid and rehabilitation of the inmates.

(6) That the Department of Corrections, Superintendent of California Institution for Women, Department of Finance and Personnel Board, work out a solution for the program of technical and professional staff, study the cause and correct the situation, whether it be salary scale or proper and adequate housing facilities for said technical and professional staff, or the proper classification of employees according to duties.

(7) This committee was impressed with the successful results of the effort of the superintendent of the institution in the rehabilitation of the inmates at its present location and believes that with the additional facilities for the staff and inmates, as hereinbefore recommended, the superintendent will maintain the institution with the highest standard of efficiency of any institution of its kind anywhere.

(8) Approve and recommend for passage at this session of the Legislature, Senate Bill No. 740, relating to institutions and providing for the repeal of an act entitled "An act relating to institutions under the jurisdiction of the Department of Corrections, making an appropriation to be expended pursuant to the Property Acquisition Act for the acquisition of a new site for the California Institution for Women, authorizing the Director of Corrections to transfer the California Institution for Women from its present location near Tehachapi to the new site, and authorizing the disposition of the Tehachapi property," approved July 2, 1947, being Chapter 1051, Statutes of 1947.

And further, approval is expressed of the provision in the said Senate Bill No. 740 that the unexpended balance of the money appropriated by the act so sought to be repealed be returned to the State General Fund.

The foregoing recommendations adopted unanimously by the committee. Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 32 has been adopted by the Senate.

Respectfully submitted,

F. PRESLEY ABSHIRE

SEC. 6. Section 55 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 55. Each eligible individual who is unemployed in any [week] fortnight shall be paid with respect to such [week] fortnight, provided he is otherwise entitled thereto under this act, a benefit in an amount equal to his [weekly] fortnightly benefit amount less the amount of wages, if any, in excess of [three] six dollars ([§3] $6) payable to him for services rendered during such [week] fortnight. Such benefit if not a multiple of one dollar ($1) shall be computed to the next higher multiple of one dollar ($1). For the purposes of this section only, "wages" shall be deemed to include any and all amounts payable as compensation for personal services, regardless of whether such personal services are or are not rendered in employment otherwise subject to this act.

SEC. 7. Section 57 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 57. An unemployed individual shall be eligible to receive benefits with respect to any [week] fortnight only if the [commission] department finds that:

(a) A claim for benefits with respect to such [week] fortnight has been made in accordance with such regulations as the [commission] department may prescribe.

(b) He has registered for work, and thereafter continued to report, at a public employment office or such other place as the [commission] department may approve, except that either or both of the requirements of this subdivision may be waived or altered by authorized regulation as to partially employed individuals attached to regular jobs.

(c) He was able to work and available for work for such [week] fortnight.

(d) [He has been unemployed for a waiting period of one week.] No [week] fortnight shall be counted as a [week] fortnight of unemployment for the purposes of this subsection:

(1) Unless it occurs within [the] a benefit year which includes the [week] fortnight with respect to which he claims payment of benefits [.]; [provided that this requirement shall not interrupt the payment of benefits for consecutive weeks of employment, and provided further that the week immediately preceding a benefit year, if part of one uninterrupted period of unemployment which continues into such benefit year shall be deemed (for the purposes of this subsection only) to be within such benefit year as well as within the preceding benefit year.]

(2) If benefits have been paid with respect thereto[.];

(3) Unless the individual was eligible for benefits with respect thereto in all respects, except for the requirements of this subsection (d) and Section 53[.];

(e) He has during his base year been paid wages for employment by employers of not less than three hundred dollars ($300) provided, however, that if more than 75 percent of his base-period wages were paid during a single calendar quarter, he shall not be eligible for benefits unless his total wages, during the base period are not less than [30] fifteen times his [weekly] fortnightly benefit amount.

(f) He has made such effort to seek work on his own behalf as may be required in accordance with such regulations as the [commission] department shall prescribe.

SEC. 8. Section 57.5 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 57.5. An individual shall not be eligible for benefits on account of unemployment for any [week] fortnight with respect to which or a part of which he has received or is seeking unemployment benefits under an unemployment compensation law of any other state or of the United States; provided, that if the appropriate agency of such other state or of the United States finally determines that he is not entitled to unemployment benefits, the provisions of this section shall not apply.

SEC. 9. Section 57.7 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 57.7. Notwithstanding any inconsistent provisions of this act the benefit rights of trainees shall be determined in accordance with the following provisions of this section for the periods and with respect to the matters specified herein. Except as herein otherwise provided, all other provisions of this act shall continue to be applicable in connection with such benefits.

(1) The term "military service" as used in this section means active service in the land, [or] naval or air forces of the United States, but the service of an individual in any reserve component of the land, [or] naval or air forces of the United States who is ordered to active duty in any such force for a period of thirty days or less shall not be deemed to be active service in such force during such period.

(2) The term "trainee" as used in this section means an individual who entered military service after April 1, 1940, and who continued such service for not less than ninety consecutive days and whose military service was terminated on or before October 1, 1947.

(3) (a) With respect to any trainee who has an unexpired benefit year at the time of induction into the armed forces, the unexpended balance of benefits remaining to his account shall be reestablished beginning with the first day of the first week succeeding the date of his termination of service. Whenever this balance is exhausted the trainee may file a claim and his base period shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of subsection (4) hereof, except that all reestablished balances shall lapse 65 weeks after termination of such military service.

(b) The benefit year of all other trainees shall be 52 weeks from the first day of the first week following the date of termination of military service.

(4) With respect to the determination of the benefit rights of any trainee, the base period shall consist of the first four out of the last five completed calendar quarters, excluding those quarters during which the trainee was in military service sixty days or more. For all quarters so excluded there shall be substituted an equal number of quarters immediately preceding his entry into military service, except that the quarter of entry into military service shall be counted as a completed quarter if the commission finds that the inclusion thereof would be more equitable to the trainee.

(5) No disqualification shall be applied to any trainee after the termination of his military service, by reason of any act or course of action on his part prior to the date of his entry into such service.

(6) If, under an act of Congress, payments with respect to the unemployment of individuals who have completed a period of military service are payable by the United States, a trainee shall be disqualified for unemployment compensation benefits with respect to any [week] fortnight for which he receives such benefits and no unemployment compensation benefits shall be paid under this section until he has exhausted all his rights to such payments from the United States.

SEC. 10. Section 58 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 58. (a) An individual shall be disqualified for benefits if:

(1) He has left his most recent work voluntarily without good cause, if so found by the commission;

(2) He has been discharged for misconduct connected with his most recent work, if so found by the commission; provided that, an individual shall be presumed to have been discharged for reasons other than misconduct in connection with his work and not to have voluntarily left his work without good cause unless his employer shall have given notice to the contrary to the commission in writing within five days after the termination of service, setting forth such facts as are necessary to establish a prima facie case in support thereof. If the employer files such notice, the question shall immediately be determined in the same manner as benefits claims;

(3) He has wilfully made a false statement or representation or wilfully failed to report a material fact to obtain any benefits under the provisions of this act;

(4) He, without good cause, has refused to accept suitable employment when offered to him, or failed to apply for suitable employment when notified by a public employment office.

(b) If an individual is disqualified under the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, under a determination transmitted to him by the department he shall be ineligible to receive benefits for the [week] fortnight subsequent to the occurrence of the cause of his disqualification in which he first registers for work and for not more than four weeks which immediately follows such [week] fortnight. An individual so disqualified shall be required to report at a public employment office as provided in Section 57 (b) and an additional [week] fortnight of disqualification shall be imposed for each [week] fortnight during which he does not so report unless good cause for such failure is shown.

(c) In cases of the successive disqualifications under the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, the commission may in its discretion extend the period of ineligibility provided for in subsection (b) of this section for an additional period not to exceed eight additional weeks.

Sec. 11. Section 67 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 67. (a) Claims for benefits shall be made in accordance with authorized regulations. Except as hereinafter otherwise provided, benefits shall be promptly paid if the claimant is found eligible or promptly denied if the claimant is found ineligible.

(b) A notice of the filing of a new or additional claim shall be given to the employing unit by which the claimant was last employed immediately preceding the filing of such claim.

(c) Upon receipt of notice of the filing of a new or additional claim the employing unit so notified shall submit any facts then known which may affect the eligibility of the claimant for benefits.

(d) The facts submitted by an employer pursuant to subsection (c) shall be considered and a determination made as to the eligibility of the claimant for benefits. The claimant and any employer who prior to the determination has submitted any facts or given any notice relating to such claim required under this act or authorized regulations shall be promptly notified of the determination and the reasons therefor and may appeal therefrom to a referee within seven days from mailing or personal service of notice of the determination, whichever is the later, provided that said seven days may be extended for good cause.

(e) Upon the filing of a new claim for benefits, a computation on the claim shall promptly be made, which shall set forth the maximum amount of benefits potentially payable during the benefit year and the [weekly] fortnightly benefit amount. The claimant and each of the claimant's base period employers shall be promptly notified of the computation.

(f) Upon the receipt of notice of the computation, the claimant and any base period employer so notified may protest the accuracy of the computation. Any such protest shall be considered and a determination as to the accuracy of the computation made thereon. The claimant and the base period employer submitting the protest shall be promptly notified of the determination and may appeal therefrom in the manner prescribed in subsection (d) hereof.

(g) Upon the receipt of notice of the computation, any base period employer so notified shall submit any facts then known which he was not previously required to submit under subsection (c) which may affect the eligibility of the claimant for benefits. A determination shall be made thereon and the claimant and the base period employer submitting the facts shall be promptly notified of the determination and the reasons therefor. An appeal therefrom may be taken in the manner prescribed in subsection (d) hereof.

(h) Any computation or determination provided for in this section may for good cause be reconsidered by the department prior to the filing of an appeal therefrom. Notification of any reconsidered determination shall be given promptly to the claimant and any employer or employing unit which received notification, under subsections (b) and (e) of this section, of the claim, the determination on which is being reconsidered, and the claimant or employer may appeal therefrom in the manner provided herein for appeals from other determinations.

(i) Notices, protests, and information required under this section shall be submitted in accordance with authorized regulations.

Sec. 12. Section 68 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 68. (a) A referee after affording a reasonable opportunity for fair hearing, shall, unless such appeal is withdrawn, affirm, reverse, or modify any determination which is appealed under Section 67. The claimant and any employer becoming a party to the appeal by submitting a protest or information pursuant to Section 67 shall be promptly notified in writing of the referee's decision, together with his reasons therefor, which decision shall be deemed to be final, unless within ten days after mailing of such decision, further appeal is initiated to the Appeals Board pursuant to Section 72 of this act; provided, that said 10-day limitation may be extended for good cause.

(b) If an appeal is duly filed, benefits with respect to the period prior to the final decision on the appeal shall be paid only after such decision, except that (1) if benefits for any [week] fortnight are payable in accordance with a determination by the department irrespective of any decision on the issue set forth in the appeal, such benefits shall be promptly paid regardless of such appeal, or (2) if a referee affirms a determination allowing benefits, such benefits shall be paid regardless of any appeal which may thereafter be taken, and regardless of any action taken under Section 72 of this act or otherwise by the [commission] department, appeals board, or other administrative body or by any court, but if such determination is finally reversed, no employer's account shall be charged with benefits so paid as to each determination so reversed."

Benefits paid to an unemployed individual during any benefit year shall be charged against the account of his employer during his base period; provided, that if such individual performed services in employment for more than one employer during his base period, benefits paid to such individual shall be charged against the respective accounts of such employers in the proportion that the total wages paid to such individual in employment for each such employer bears to the total wages paid to such individual in employment for all such employers during the base period. The maximum amount of benefits chargeable against employers' accounts by reason of benefits paid to any one individual for any one benefit year shall not be in excess of 18 times the weekly benefit amount of such individual for such benefit year.]

(a) Except as otherwise provided in subsections (c) and (d) of this section, the term "maximum charge-back liability," as used herein with respect to charges against employers' reserve accounts for unemployment insurance benefits paid to their former employees, means the maximum amount of such benefits payable to one unemployed individual in any one benefit year, as provided in Section 53, which is not more than eighteen times his weekly benefit amount.

(b) If an unemployed individual had only one employer in his base period, unemployment insurance benefits of not more than the maximum charge-back liability therefor which are properly paid him shall be charged against the reserve account of such employer. If such individual performed services in employment for more than one employer during his base period, the maximum charge-back liability during his benefit year shall be shared among his base period employers, the share of each such employer being in the same proportion to the maximum charge-back liability as the amount of taxable wages he paid such individual for employment within such base period bears to the total taxable wages paid such individual for employment within such base period, and thereafter, unemployment insurance benefits of not more than the maximum charge-back liability therefor which are properly paid to such unemployed individual shall be charged in inverse chronological order against the respective reserve accounts of such employers in such manner that the reserve account of an employer who was not the most recent employer in the base period shall not be charged any amount until the reserve account of each one or more employers who were more recent employers shall have been charged their respective shares of such maximum charge-back liability in full; provided, however, that, if one employer has employed such individual for more than one period of continuous employment within that individual's base period, such employer shall have a separate share of the maximum charge-back liability for each such employment period, and each such period and its respective share shall be treated in charging employers' reserve accounts as if such employer had been a different employer for each such period.

(c) Any employer who has employed an unemployed individual in employment at any time since the beginning of his base period may protest the eligibility or qualification of such individual for unemployment insurance benefits at any time in his related benefit year, and any benefits paid to an unemployed individual for the period following his disqualification for having voluntarily left, or having been discharged for misconduct from, employment which was his most recent subject employment, as elsewhere defined and provided for in this act, and before the end of the continuous period of unemployment which began with such disqualification, shall not be charged to any employer's reserve account; provided, however, that, if notice of such protest is not given to the department within the time prescribed elsewhere in this act, the period of any such disqualification may be fixed by the department as beginning as of the second business day after the business day on which the department receives such notice, in which case any benefit payments made otherwise properly before the beginning of such disqualification period shall not be considered as overpayments to the unemployed individual and shall be charged to one or more employers' reserve accounts, as provided in subsection (b) of this section, as if such disqualification had not occurred.

(d) If an unemployed individual has voluntarily left, or been discharged for misconduct from, both as elsewhere defined in this act, employment by an employer during his base period who was not his most recent subject employer, such employer may give the department a notice of protest of any charges for unemployment benefits paid to such individual during his related benefit year, and thereafter such employer's reserve account shall not be charged for any such benefit payments, the amount of what would otherwise have been such employer's share of the maximum charge-back liability for such payments shall not be charged to the reserve account of any employer, the amount of such maximum charge-back liability shall be reduced by the amount which would otherwise have been such employer's share, and the reserve accounts of one or more other employers in such base period shall be charged as if such employer were not a base period employer; provided, that, if such employer has employed such unemployed individual for more than one period of continuous employment within such individual's base period, his reserve account shall be charged for his share with respect to each such employment period which was not ended by such individual's having voluntarily left, or having been discharged for misconduct from, employment by such employer; and provided, further that, if such employer shall not mail notice of protest of such charges to the department within five days after the department has mailed him notice of his potential liability for such charges to his reserve account, any such charges made prior to the second business day after the business day on which the department receives such notice shall stand as made, and the maximum charge-back liability shall be reduced by the amount of such employer's share less such prior charges.

The following resolution was offered:

By Senators Dilworth, Burns, Kraft, Tenney, Sutton, and Watson:

Senate Resolution No. 93

Relative to the defense of pending civil actions brought against the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities, and its members

WHEREAS, There are now pending in the Federal District Court certain actions against the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities and the members thereof; and

WHEREAS, It is sought through such actions to impede, impair, and, if possible, prevent the committee (created by Senate Resolution 75 of the 1947 General Session) from continuing with its work as authorized and directed by resolution of this Senate; and

WHEREAS, The issues and principles involved in said actions challenge the right of the Legislature, as a necessary incident to the exercise of the law-making power, to appoint committees for the purpose of ascertaining facts and reporting back to the Legislature in order that the Legislature may act advisedly in the exercise of its power to legislate; and

WHEREAS, Such issues and principles involve the power of the Legislature to properly organize for the orderly conduct of its business and to exercise such auxiliary powers as are necessary adjuncts to the exercise of the power to legislate, all of which are fundamental to the very existence of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, If plaintiff prevails in any of such actions, it may seriously impede and impair the power of the Legislature to conduct its lawful functions through committees; and

WHEREAS, All of such issues and principles are of vital interest to the Senate, to the Legislature, and to the State as a sovereign state in its relations with the Government of the United States; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities is directed to defend said actions, and the Rules Committee of the Senate is hereby directed to employ legal counsel to represent said Committee on Un-American Activities and its members in the maintenance of such defense and to spend such amounts of money as the Senate Committee on Rules finds are necessary therefor, which shall be payable out of moneys heretofore allocated by the Senate for the expenses of said Committee on Un-American Activities or from such other moneys as may now or hereafter be made available by the Senate to either said Committee on Un-American Activities or to said Senate Committee on Rules.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered :

By Senators Dillinger, Gibson, Dilworth, Swing, and Rich :

Senate Resolution No. 96

WHEREAS, Eighty years ago today, at Promontory Point, in Utah, occurred one of the most important and far-reaching events, not only in the history of California, but in the history of the whole United States; and

WHEREAS, At this point, 690 miles east of Sacramento and 1,034 miles west of the Missouri River, East met West, and never the twain shall part, President Lincoln having signed the bill for the Pacific Railroad, Leland Stanford, president of the Central Pacific, and T. C. Durant, president of the Union Pacific, having driven the last spike, a golden spike, on this momentous tenth day of May, 1869, President Grant announced to the Country, and to the world, the completion of this epoch making project. The bell in the Capitol at Washington rang out, the Mayor of New York ordered a hundred gun salute, and all the land rejoiced; and

WHEREAS, The physical construction of this great project, over obstacles that seemed insurmountable to others, was due to a youthful engineer of that period, whose vision to see, whose courage to dare, and whose determination to do, overcame all obstacles. Literally, that railroad was built with pick and shovel. They had only black powder and none of the equipment used today. The flinty blue rock was so hard that often the powder only backfired from the holes.

Theodore Judah, that young engineer, who surveyed the route and was chief engineer, who was the great-uncle of our esteemed colleague, Senator Ray Judah of Santa Cruz, former State Highway Commissioner, is honored today, in the schools and by a monument here in our Capital City, where a ceremony is being held. Though he was claimed by death at the early age of 37 years, at the very threshold of his promising career, his illustrious achievements, over such great odds, his vision, his courage, which have added lustre to the history of our pioneers, have been and will always be, an inspiration to us, and to posterity.

For all these reasons, it is a privilege to honor the memory of this great builder, and to express our grateful appreciation for the service that he rendered; therefore, be it

Resolved, That when the Senate of the State of California shall adjourn this day, it shall do so in honor of the memory of Theodore Judah; and be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to have a suitably engrossed copy of this resolution prepared, and to present the same to Senator Ray Judah.

Resolution read, and on the motion of Senator Dillinger, was unanimously adopted.

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, May 9, 1949

Hon. Gerald J. O'Gara

Constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 516 as amended
April 14, 1949—No. 6673

DEAR SENATOR O'GARA: You have asked our opinion as to whether Senate Bill No. 516, as amended April 14, 1949, which provides that labor unions shall have the right to refuse membership to any person or expel from its membership any person who advocates or is a member, secretly or openly, of any organization which advocates the support of a foreign government against the United States in the event of hostilities or advocates or has as his or its objectives or one of his or its objectives the overthrow of the Government of the United States, or of this State by force and violence or any other unlawful means, is constitutional.

It is our opinion that Senate Bill No. 516, as amended, is constitutional under both Federal and State Constitutions.

There does not seem to be any particular problem constitutionally involved in this bill.

Labor unions have the right, as have all associations, to make reasonable rules and regulations to govern the members and applicants for membership (See Cameron v. Int. Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Motion Picture Operators of the United States and Canada, 118 N.J. Eq. 11, 176 Atl. 692 and 31 Am. Jur. 861).

It is true that labor organizations have been somewhat more restricted, in their powers to regulate membership, than have other types of associations, by the decisions of the courts but these decisions result from cases that are based on the arbitrary rules of the unions in denying membership in the union either where there is a closed shop and membership is closed to protect the present members of the union in their seniority rights or where they have denied membership to persons applying on the basis of color, creed or race. (See Cameron v. Int. Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Operators of the United States and Canada, 118 N.J. Eq. 11, 176 Atl. 692, James v. Marin Ship Corporation, 25 Cal. 2d 721, and Williams v. The Int. Brotherhood of Boilermakers, Iron Ship Builders and Helpers of America, 27 Cal. 2d 586.)

In this bill there is no such problem as this seems to be a reasonable type of regulation which is suggested to unions but is not mandatory upon them. It enables the union to require such affidavits and to expel members for advocacy of the violent overthrow of the government. This right the unions have at present.

Thus it seems clear there is no question of constitutionality in this bill.

Very truly yours,

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, May 9, 1949

Hon. Gerald J. O'Gara
Senate Chamber

Oath of Officers—No. 6599

DEAR SENATOR O'GARA: You have asked our opinion as to whether Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 14, as amended April 19, 1949, is constitutional.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 14, as amended, would provide that:

"Members of the Legislature, and all officers, executive and judicial, except such inferior officers as may be by law exempted, shall, before they enter upon the duties of their respective offices, take and subscribe the following oath or affirmation:

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be), that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I am not pledged nor am I now a member, secretly or openly, of any organization pledged to support a foreign government against the United States in the event of hostilities; and that I do not advocate nor am I now a member of any political party or organization that advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States, or of the State of California, by force or violence or any other unlawful means."

We have been unable to find any conflict with the provisions of the Constitution of the United States by the amendment to the oath required by the Constitution of this State for the above officers and legislators.

Article VI, Section 3 of the Constitution of the United States, relating to oaths to be taken by members of the state legislatures and all executive and judicial officers of the several states simply provides for an oath or affirmation to support the Constitution of the United States, with the added proviso that no religious test shall be required as a qualification for any office or public trust under the United States.

The oath in the California Constitution as amended by Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 14 does not seem to conflict with this provision in the United States Constitution relating to religion or any other part of that section.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senator Collier:

Senate Resolution No. 98Relative to an investigation concerning a regulatory dam at Iron Gate on the Klamath River

WHEREAS, The Klamath River area was created by nature as a recreational area of great scenic beauty and affords unsurpassed facilities for sporting fishing and other healthful recreation; and

WHEREAS, The operation of Copco dam in the upper reaches of the Klamath River results in a wide fluctuation of the flow throughout almost all of the length of the stream depending upon the time of the day or night at which water is released from said dam; and

WHEREAS, The release of waters from said dam causes the water to rise rapidly below the dam and presents a serious hazard to fishermen fishing in the stream or from bars in the stream and a considerable number of drownings have resulted therefrom; and

WHEREAS, There are a number of other undesirable conditions which could be corrected by a regulatory dam below Copco dam to stabilize the flow in the portions of the river below such regulatory dam; and

WHEREAS, The elimination of recurring high water and low water would widen the area for the production of bottom fish food which takes place only in areas always covered by water, would prevent the stranding of fish and roving fish food organisms, would provide additional areas for salmon spawning grounds, and would eliminate a real danger to fishermen in the stream; and

WHEREAS, The State has embarked upon a wildlife conservation and recreation program of great magnitude and as a part of said program due consideration should be given to the recreational and wildlife values that would be created or preserved by the stabilization of the flow of the Klamath River; and

WHEREAS, The feasibility of a regulatory dam at Iron Gate on the Klamath River and the advantages of such a dam are matters upon which this Senate needs to be informed in order that it may act advisedly in the premises; and

WHEREAS, The Wildlife Conservation Board and the Fish and Game Commission have data and information and facilities for obtaining such further facts and information as may be necessary; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California. That the Wildlife Conservation Board and the Fish and Game Commission are hereby requested to investigate all facts and matters relating to the construction of such a regulatory dam as is hereinabove referred to, including the probable cost thereof and the advantages to be derived therefrom, and to render a report of such investigation to the Senate not later than June 6, 1949.

Resolution read, and on motion of Senator Collier, adopted.

The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees, and the individual proprietor or partners if an employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. No director of a corporate employer shall be

The policy must insure all eligible persons, or all except any as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer.

(c) The policy must cover at date of issue at least 100 persons and not less than an average of five persons per employer unit; and if the fund is established by the members of an association of employers the policy may be issued only if (i) either (a) the participating employers constitute at date of issue at least 60 percent of those employer members whose employees are not already covered for group life insurance or (b) the total number of persons covered at date of issue exceeds six hundred; and (ii) the policy shall not require that, if a participating employer discontinues membership in the association, the insurance of his employees shall cease solely by reason of such discontinuance.

(d) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection by the insured persons or by the trustees, employers or unions. No policy may be issued which provides term insurance on any person which together with any other term insurance under any group life insurance policy or policies issued to the employers, or any of them, or to the trustees of a fund established in whole or in part by the employers, or any of them, exceeds $20,000.

3466a. Sale or lease of unredeemed land. After the lapse of one year from and after the expiration of the period of redemption of any land sold to the district, or county treasurer as trustee for the district, either pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3466, 3480 or Section 3480a of this code, the county treasurer of the main county, when and as directed by the board of trustees of the district, may in their discretion then sell the whole or any part of any tract of land remaining unsold to the highest bidder for cash at the front door of the courthouse of the main county of the district after giving previous notice of such sale, and the time and place of holding the same, by publication thereof in some newspaper published in the county in which the land to be sold or some portion thereof is situated for two times, to wit: once a week for two successive weeks. It shall be sufficient to describe said land in said notice by reference number as set forth in the assessment lists to which reference shall be made in said notice, and to the date and time of filing same, for further particulars. In the event of a sale of a part of any tract of land remaining unsold then the assessment or assessments thereon shall be reapportioned as provided in Sections 3454 and 3460 of the Political Code.

Conduct of sale: Effect of deed. The trustees of the district shall have the right to reject any and all bids and no bid shall be accepted for an amount less than such price as shall be approved by them. No parcel shall be sold for an amount less than the fair market value thereof as such value shall be ascertained by the board of trustees. One or more parcels of such land may be included in the same notice and sold severally at the time and place set forth in said notice. Upon such last mentioned sale being made as herein provided the said county treasurer shall execute a deed to the purchaser conveying the land sold, upon payment of the price bid, which deed shall have the effect of conveying title to the land sold to the purchaser free of encumbrance, except district assessments (including the unpaid balance of said assessment for the delinquency of which said property was sold) which upon the date of the sale herein provided had not been called, and except as may be otherwise provided by law, and such deed duly executed and acknowledged shall be prima facie evidence that all the proceedings for the levy and collection of the delinquent assessment for which said land was sold, and all of the proceedings for the sale of said land have been duly and regularly taken, and all notices required to be given or published have been so duly given and published for the time and manner as required by law.

Rights of district after default: Leases. Where any land has been sold for a delinquent assessment, pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3466, 3480 or 3480a of the Political Code for a delinquent assessment or installment of the same and no redemption has been made and the time for redemption has expired, the district shall have the right to the possession of the land so sold and unredeemed and the board of trustees shall have the right to bring and maintain any and all actions in equity or law in connection with said land and the protection of the district's rights therein to the same extent as any other owner; and the costs and expenses of such action or actions shall be a charge against the district. The board of trustees shall also have the right to expend funds of the district in such amounts that may from time to time be necessary for the purpose of retiring any and all liens against such land superior to the title of the county treasurer therein.

The trustees of the district shall have the management and control of, and right to lease out to a tenant or tenants for such reasonable rental and upon such terms as such trustees may deem advisable, any and all lands in the district which have been sold to the county treasurer, as trustee, for delinquent assessments, where the time for redemption has expired and said lands remain unsold and to receive and collect the rental for the same.

Out of said rentals the trustees shall annually pay to the county treasurer of the county in which the land is situated, in lieu of taxes, such sum of money as the county assessor shall determine annually on or before November 1st, as will equal the taxes that would have been assessed and levied for that year if the land were in private ownership.

Disposition of rents. All rentals collected or moneys received by the trustees of the district from such lease of land or for the use or occupation of such land may be applied by them to the payment of the incidental expenses of holding and leasing said lands and to the payment of any other incidental expenses of, or legal charge against the district or for the purpose of purchasing any outstanding bonds of the district matured or unmatured together with the coupons thereunto appertaining at not more than the face value of such bonds plus the accrued interest thereon; which said bonds and/or coupons when so purchased shall be forthwith delivered to the county treasurer and canceled, and to the payment of any call of any maintenance assessment on any tract of land theretofore bought in by county treasurer as trustee of the district for a delinquent installment of any assessment theretofore levied on any such tract of land and then remaining unsold by said county treasurer; provided, however, that after the period of redemption has expired all rentals collected or moneys received from lease of land sold to the county treasurer as trustee of the district pursuant to the provisions of Section 3480 or 3480a of this code or for the use or occupation of such land, less the incidental expenses of leasing or holding the same and less the amount required to pay any called or delinquent installment of any maintenance assessment on any tract of land which has been theretofore bought in by the said county treasurer for the payment of any delinquent installment of any assessment theretofore levied on any such tract of land, and then remaining unsold by such county treasurer, shall, in the event said district shall be in default for the interest or principal payments on any of said bonds issued by said district, be deposited in said county treasury of the main county, to the credit of the bond fund of the district. An amount equal to the revenues derived from each tract by reason of the leasing, use or occupation thereof, less the incidental expenses of leasing and holding same, shall be credited by the county treasurer on the assessment lists against the delinquent charges on said tract.

Application of section. The provisions hereof shall apply to all lands heretofore sold for delinquency to a district or to the county treasurer, as trustee as well as to future sales under assessments whether heretofore, or hereafter to be, levied.

SEC. 2. Section 3480 of said code is amended to read:

The present provisions of Assembly Bill No. 1870 as amended April 8

SEC. 3. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it will have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional."

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator O'Gara asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following analysis of the Federal Housing Act of 1949 by the Legislative Counsel, printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

COPY

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, May 5, 1949

Hon. Gerald J. O'Gara
Senate Chamber

Analysis of the Federal Housing Act of 1949 as proposed by
S. 1070—No. 6394

DEAR SENATOR O'GARA: You have requested an analysis of the Federal Housing Act of 1949 as proposed by S. 1070, recently passed by the United States Senate.

Analysis

This act provides for federal aid in the form of loans and contributions to assist slum-clearance projects and low-rent public housing projects initiated by local agencies, and provides for financial assistance by the Secretary of Agriculture for farm housing, and for other purposes.

In preparing this analysis we have followed the organization of the act. Thus, we have divided the analysis into three main parts: (1) Slum clearance and community development and redevelopment; (2) low rent housing; and, (3) farm housing.

I. SLUM CLEARANCE AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT AND REDEVELOPMENT

Under Title 1 of the act the Housing and Home Finance Administrator is authorized to make loans and grants to local public agencies for the purpose of assisting local communities in eliminating slum and blighted areas and in developing new areas for residential purposes. Local public agencies as defined in this act include states, cities, or any governmental entity or public body which is authorized to undertake the project for which assistance is sought. These loans and grants are limited to financing the cost of the acquisition of the land, the renewal of the buildings thereon, the construction of streets and installation of utility services, and the preparation of the land, but not for the purpose of the actual construction of the new housing.

A. Loans

Loans can be made to local public agencies if such loans are to be used for the assembly, clearance, preparation, and sale and lease of land for redevelopment purposes. Note that such loans cannot be made for the purpose of actual construction of new housing.

These loans are matching loans in that they cannot exceed the expenditures to be made by the local public agency. The term of such loans cannot exceed forty years.

In order to finance these loans the administrator is authorized to issue notes and obligations in an amount not to exceed 25 million dollars after July 1, 1949, 225 million on July 1, 1959, and by further amounts of 250 million each, on July 1, 1951, 1952, and 1953. The President is authorized to increase the total amount by 250 million so long as a total limit of one billion is not exceeded.

B. Capital Grants

The administrator is authorized to make grants to local public agencies to make land in project areas available for the uses specified in the redevelopment plans. Grants cannot be made with respect to a project which consists of open unplatted urban or suburban land. It will be noted that this qualification does not apply to loans.

As to any single local agency the aggregate grants under this part of the act cannot exceed two-thirds of the net cost of the project. The net cost of the project is defined as the total costs with respect to all undertakings necessary to carry out the project (not including the costs of actual construction of new housing) and the amounts of local grants-in-aid to the agency by the State, municipality or other entity other than in cash, less the total sales price of all lands sold and the total capital value of all land leased by the agency.

As to any one project the grant cannot exceed the difference between the net project cost and local grants-in-aid actually made for that project.

To finance these grants the administrator is authorized to contract for such grants in an amount not to exceed 100 million after July 1, 1949. This amount is increased 100 million dollars on July 1 in each of the years 1950, 1951, 1952, and 1953, respectively. The President is authorized to increase the total by an amount not to exceed 100 million dollars. The total amount cannot exceed 500 million dollars.

Capital grants cannot be made to finance any project unless the local grants-in-aid from the state, municipality or other public entity or body for all the projects of such local agency equal one-third of the aggregate net project costs involved for such projects.

C. Local Determinations

Certain general requirements are specified for any contract of financial aid to these local agencies.

The redevelopment plan must be approved by the governing body of the locality in which the project is situated and findings must be made by that body stating that financial aid is necessary and that the plan fits into some general plan for the redevelopment of the locality as a whole.

Before any land acquired or held in connection with the project, is leased or sold, the purchasers or lessees must contract to carry out the redevelopment plan, begin construction within a reasonable time and comply with such other conditions as the administrator finds are necessary.

There must be a feasible method for the temporary relocation of families displaced from the project area. The facilities provided in the project for such families must be safe and sanitary, within the means of such families, equal in number to the displaced families and reasonably accessible to their places of employment.

If a contract for financial aid is entered into before July 1, 1951, there can be no demolition of residential structures if the local governing board of the area determines that this would create an undue housing hardship in that locality.

D. Miscellaneous

The act would provide that not more than 10 percent of the funds provided for grants and loans under this title can be expended in any one state.

The act would authorize the President to transfer to the administrator any interest held by the Federal Government or its agencies in any land which is surplus to the needs of the Federal Government and which is within the plan of a project under this act.

Any contract for financial aid under this title must contain a guaranty that the wages or fees prevailing in the locality will be paid.

II. LOW-RENT HOUSING

The bill amends and revises the United States Housing Act of 1937, as amended. This act authorizes loans and annual contributions to assist public housing agencies in the development and acquisition of low-rent housing and slum clearance projects by such agencies. The act is administered by the Public Housing Administration.

A. Local Responsibilities and Determinations; Tenancy Only by Low-Income Families

The bill adds certain new provisions requiring local determination of the need for low-rent housing in order to meet housing needs not adequately being met by private enterprise.

The bill provides that the administration cannot make any preliminary loans to public housing agencies for surveys and planning as to any low-rent housing projects initiated after March 1, 1949 unless: (1) The governing body of the locality involved, approves, by resolution, the application of the public housing agency for such preliminary loans; and (2) the agency demonstrates a need for low-rent housing which is not being met by private enterprise.

The administration is prohibited from making any other loans or annual contributions after March 1, 1949 unless: (1) The governing body of the locality in which the project is located has entered into an agreement with the particular public housing agency providing for the local cooperation required under this bill, and (2) the public housing agency demonstrates to the administration that there is a gap of at least 20 percent between the upper rental limits of the proposed housing and the lowest rents at which private enterprise is now providing housing.

The present act gives the administration the authority to make annual contributions to public housing agencies to assist them in achieving and maintaining the low-rent character of their housing project.

The bill specifies additional restrictions on such contracts for annual contributions. Such a contract must provide that the public housing agency is to fix maximum income limits for admission to and occupancy of such housing. These limits are to be subject to the approval of the administration. The contract must further provide that the administration may require a revision of such limits.

The contract for annual contributions must provide that the public housing agency is to make reports to the administration showing that an investigation of each family admitted to the housing showed the family's net income did not exceed the maximum limits and that such family prior to admission lived in unsafe or overcrowded dwellings or was without housing or had been displaced by a housing project. As to selection of tenants, the contract must provide: (1) That the agency cannot discriminate against families because their income comes from public assistance; and, (2) in the initial selection of tenants the agency shall give preference to families having the most urgent housing needs and shall thereafter give consideration to housing needs.

B. Veterans' Preferences

The bill sets out certain priorities for the occupancy of housing projects for which the administration makes a contract for annual contributions. The preferences set up are as follows:

(1) The first priority must be given to families who are to be displaced by low-rent housing projects or by public slum clearance or redevelopment projects, or who have been so displaced within three years prior to their application to be admitted. Within this group, the families of disabled veterans are given first priority and the families of other veterans and service men are given second priority.

(2) The second priority is given to families of other veterans and service men not falling within Group (1). Within this second group disabled veterans are given first priority.

The bill defines veterans to include veterans of World War I and World War II.

C. Cost Limits

The bill adds certain additional limitations relating to the costs of housing under a project for which the administration lends assistance.

The act now provides limits of $4,000 per family dwelling unit and $1,000 per room of such a unit. As to housing in cities having a population over 500,000, the limits are $5,000 per family dwelling unit and $1,250 per room of such a unit.

The bill provides that as to any housing completed after January 1, 1948, the administration cannot assist any project where the cost for construction and equipment of the housing is more than $1,750 per room. A special provision is made for Alaska. The bill further provides that the administrator can increase these limits up to $750 per room if such limits are not feasible in the area in which the project is to be located.

The bill also provides that the administration shall first approve any main construction project, taking into account the level of construction costs in the locality.

D. Private Financing

Certain additions and amendments to the act are made in order to stimulate private financing of low-rent housing projects.

The present act provides that in any contract for annual contributions the payment on any loan due the administration from the agency involved shall be given first priority as to the expenditure of such contributions. These provisions are removed so as to put private loans on an equal basis with administration loans to the agency insofar as the expenditure of these contributions are concerned.

The bill provides that every contract for annual contributions may provide: (1) If there is a substantial default by the agency in its contract, the agency at the option of the administration shall either convey title or deliver possession to the administration of the project; and (2) the administration shall be obligated to reconvey title or redeliver possession of the project to the agency as soon as practicable and upon such terms as shall be prescribed in the contract.

The bill provides that when a contract for annual contributions does contain the above provisions and if the annual contributions have been pledged by the agency as security for any of its obligations the administration shall continue to make annual contributions to the project so long as any of such obligations remain outstanding. Certain limitations are placed upon the amount of annual contributions in this situation.

The bill makes certain changes as to the provisions of the present act relating to loans to public agencies.

The present act sets a 60-year limit on the terms of such loans. The bill states that as to projects initiated after March 1, 1949, with respect to which annual contributions are contracted for, there is a 40-year limitation on the term of such loans. Similar changes are made in the provisions relating to contracts for annual contributions.

The bill provides that every contract for annual contributions shall specify that if the receipts of the public housing agency exceed its expenditures, that excess amount shall be applied so as to reduce the amount of subsequent annual contributions under the contract.

The act now allows the administration to consent to a modification of any contract for financial assistance entered into pursuant to the act. The bill revises this provision to allow the administration to amend or suspend any such contract in order to comply with certain changes this bill makes in the going federal rate on the basis of which the annual contributions or the interest rate on the loans are fixed. The bill provides, however, that these contracts cannot be amended so that the rights of holders of any outstanding obligations of the public housing agency involved for which annual contributions have been pledged, will be prejudiced thereby.

The amount of the obligations the authority can incur in carrying out the provisions of the act is increased by the bill. The act now sets an $800,000,000 limitation on the amount of such obligations. The bill increases this to $1,500,000,000. The act now provides that these obligations must mature within sixty years and the interest cannot exceed 4 percent. The bill amends this to leave the term of the obligations up to the discretion of the administration subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. The interest rate is left up to the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury.

E. Annual Contributions

The amounts per year of annual contributions that the administration can make to public housing agencies is now limited by the act to $28,000,000. The bill adds additional amounts. With the approval of the President, the administration after July 1, 1949, may contract to provide annual contributions up to $85,000,000. This is increased by $55,000,000 on July 1 in each of the years 1950, 1951 and 1952. On or after July 1, 1953, the administration is authorized to contract in the amount of $58,000,000. The bill provides that the President can increase this total up to $55,000,000, subject to a limit on the total additional authorizations of $308,000,000 per year.

The bill provides that 10 percent of each authorization to enter into contracts for annual contributions, shall, for three years after the authorization is available, be available only for annual contributions contracts with respect to projects to be located in rural nonfarm areas.

The bill sets certain limits as to the number of dwelling units which the administration may authorize at the beginning of construction with respect to projects initiated after March 1, 1949.

The bill revises the provisions of the act dealing with tax exemption of the property of the public housing agencies. The act now provides that no annual contributions shall be made available unless the state, city or other political subdivision in which the project is situated shall contribute in the form of cash or tax remissions, 20 percent of the annual contributions provided.

This provision is deleted by the bill. In its place, the bill provides that every contract for annual contributions entered into after March 1, 1949, shall provide that no contributions shall be made unless the project is exempt from all real and personal property taxes. The bill does provide, however, that these contracts for contributions can authorize the public housing agencies to make payments to these local subdivisions in lieu of such taxes. These payments are limited to an annual amount not to exceed 10 percent of the shelter rents charged annually in such projects. If the project is not exempt from taxes in a state, in lieu thereof, the contract may provide that there shall be no contributions made unless the state, county, city or other political subdivision in which the project is situated contributed at least 20 percent of the annual contributions paid by the administration. As to projects initiated prior to March 1, 1949, the bill authorizes payments in lieu of taxes with certain limitations. It is further provided that these contracts can be amended to make similar provisions in relation to tax exemptions and in lieu payments as may be contained in contracts initiated after March 1, 1949.

F. Special Provisions for Large Families of Low Income

The bill provides that dwellings in low rent housing shall be available only to families whose net annual income at the time of admission to such housing, less a $100 exemption for each minor member of the family, does not exceed five times the annual rent (including the value or cost to them of utilities) of such dwelling. As to continued occupancy the bill permits the public housing agency to allow an exemption for each minor in the family of $100 or all of his income.

III. HOUSING RESEARCH

The bill directs the housing and home finance administrator to conduct a program of research in relation to housing construction and to report to the President and to Congress, estimates of national urban and rural nonfarm housing needs and the progress that is being made toward meeting such needs.

IV. FARM HOUSING

A. Financial Assistance by Secretary of Agriculture

Under this title the Secretary of Agriculture is authorized by the bill to extend financial aid through the Farmers Home Administration to farm owners to enable them to construct, repair, or replace dwellings and other farm buildings in order to provide themselves, their tenants, farm employees, and share croppers with decent living accommodations. The term "farm" as used in this bill is limited to land which produced or is capable of producing agricultural products having a gross annual value of at least $400 in 1944.

This financial assistance is of three types: (1) Loans for housing and buildings on adequate farms, (2) loans for housing and buildings on potentially adequate farms, and (3) other special loans and grants for minor improvements. "Adequate" is used in the sense of financial ability to repay loans.

The eligibility requirements applicable to all these types of financial assistance are as follows: (1) The applicant must be the owner of a farm without safe and sanitary dwellings for himself or his tenants, share croppers, or farm laborers, or without other adequate farm buildings; (2) the farm owner cannot provide this himself, and (3) he is unable to secure credit from other sources for this purpose.

B. Loans for Housing and Buildings on Adequate Farms

If the farm owner is eligible under the above requirements, the secretary is authorized by this bill to make a loan to him if the applicant has the financial ability to repay the loan.

The period of this type of loan is limited to 33 years. The interest rate cannot exceed 4 percent.

The loan instrument must provide for (1) security upon the applicant's equity in the farm and such additional security as the secretary deems necessary, (2) repayment pursuant to a plan prescribed by the secretary, and (3) such other covenants as the secretary shall prescribe in order to secure payment of the loan and to protect the secretary.

C. Loans for Housing and Buildings on Potentially Adequate Farms

If the secretary determines that the applicant meets the general requirements but may not reasonably be expected to repay a loan in full within the prescribed period but that his income will be increased sufficiently within ten years as a result of improvements or adjustment of farm practices and methods, the secretary is authorized to make the loan under the conditions previously set out. In such a case the secretary may provide annual contributions to the owner during the ten-year period in the form of credits on the borrower's indebtedness. These annual contributions are limited to 50 percent of the annual installment of principal and interest during this ten-year period.

D. Other Special Loans and Grants for Minor Improvements

If an otherwise eligible applicant cannot qualify for either of these types of loans due to his financial status, the secretary is authorized to make a grant or a combined grant and loan to provide for minor repairs and improvements to make the farm dwellings safe and sanitary.

With respect to any one farm or dwelling or building, a grant is limited to $500 and a combined loan and grant to $1,000. In any event, the total grant, loan, or combination thereof to any one individual under this provision cannot exceed $2,000.

E. Loan Funds

The secretary is authorized to issue notes and obligations in such sums as Congress may determine from time to time for loan purposes. After July 1, 1949 the secretary is authorized to issue such obligations for loan purposes up to a limit of $25,000,000. After July 1, 1950 an additional $50,000,000 is provided, $75,000,000 after July 1, 1951, and $100,000,000 after July 1, 1952. These obligations are to be repaid from the payments on the loans and other funds appropriated by this bill.

F. Contributions

In connection with loans made on potentially adequate farms the secretary is authorized to make contributions up to the following amounts: After July 1, 1949, $500,000 per year; after July 1, of the years 1950, 1951, and 1952, respectively, $1,000,000, $1,500,000, and $2,000,000 per year.

G. Miscellaneous

As to any loans, the secretary is authorized to grant a moratorium on the payment of principal and interest upon a showing by the borrower that he cannot pay due to circumstances beyond his control.

The secretary is authorized to require all repairs and construction for which a loan, contribution, or grant is made, to comply with such plans and specifications as the secretary may require. The secretary is authorized to furnish advice on the construction of farm dwellings and other buildings and to conduct programs of research and studies to promote such construction.

As between eligible applicants for financial assistance, the secretary is directed to give preference to veterans and the families of deceased service men. "Veterans" includes veterans of any war in which the United States has participated.

The secretary is authorized to use the services of existing local farmers' committees operating under laws or regulations carried out by the Department of Agriculture, and to appoint such committees in localities where none now exist. Compensation is provided for the members of such committees. He may authorize these committees to examine applications for financial assistance and to submit recommendations on whether such assistance should be rendered.

For the purposes of carrying out this title the secretary is given other powers in relation to standards of adequate farm housing, foreclosure, collection of obligations, and other matters.

V. MISCELLANEOUS

The bill makes certain minor amendments relating to advisory committees of the Housing and Home Finance Administrator, the National Housing Council, the National Banking Act, and the Housing Census.

The bill provides that any low-rent or veterans' housing project under a state or local program shall be approved as a low-rent housing project under the United States Housing Act if: (1) A contract for state assistance has been entered into between January 1, 1948, and January 1, 1950; (2) the project is eligible for assistance under the United States Housing Act, and (3) the public housing agency operating the project applies for federal assistance pursuant to the United States Housing Act.

Very truly yours,

Loyalty Oaths by Attorneys—No. 6729

DEAR SENATOR O'GARA: You have asked our opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 298 as amended May 11, 1949, relating to loyalty oaths for attorneys.

It is our opinion that this bill is constitutional both under the Constitutions of the United States and of the State of California.

Senate Bill No. 298 as amended would add Article 10 to Chapter 4, Division 3 of the Business and Professions Code, comprising Sections 6175 to 6178, inclusive. Section 6175 requires that the affidavit required by this bill shall be filed within ninety days after the effective date of the bill. The oath contained in this section which is required of both present members of the Bar and applicants for membership provides:

(a) That such persons swear or affirm that they will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign or domestic. This part of the affidavit is much the same as the oath required of every person upon admission to the State Bar of California.

(b) Subsection (b) requires that the applicant or member swear or affirm that he is not at present a member of any organization pledged to support a foreign government against the United States in the event of hostilities and that he does not advocate nor is now a member of an organization which advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States or of California by force, violence or any other unlawful means, except those organizations which he lists in his affidavit. He further affirms that he will not in the future become a member of such an organization or will not so advocate. In Re Lavine, 2 Cal. 2d 324 held that the Legislature may prescribe minimum standards for admission to the practice of the law and stated at page 330:

“ * * * When it does legislate fixing a standard of qualifications required of attorneys at law in order that public interests may be protected, such qualifications constitute only a minimum standard and limit the class from which the court must make its selection.”

The court also in this case discussed the case of Ex Parte Garland 71 U. S. 333, wherein the court held a federal statute requiring an attorney, in order to appear before federal courts, to take an oath that he had never aided the Confederate States in the Civil War, but as the California court stated, this statute was held to be an ex post facto law. The oath in question does not seem to deny any person the right to practice law except for failure to file an affidavit and such affidavit pertains to that person's present position and his future position, and further, it does not require him to swear he is not now a member of any of the organizations therein contained, but requires him to list them.

The Supreme Court in the case of Cohen v. Wright 22 Cal. 293, 319 stated:

“The right to practice law is not an absolute right, derived from the law of nature. It is the mere creature of the statute, and when the license is issued and the official oath taken, which authorizes the attorney to exercise the right, it confers but a statutory privilege, subject to the control of the Legislature.”

(c) Subparagraph (d) requires a further affidavit for the person to affirm as to whether or not he has been a member of therein listed organizations which the bill states may be listed by the State Bar for evidentiary purposes. If such organizations are listed in the affidavit and this list, as marked, is used by the State Bar for some purpose, this does not prevent the applicant or member from proving that the organization has been improperly classified by either the Attorney General or the mentioned congressional committees or that he is not now a member of such organization.

Section 6177 provides for a penalty for the swearing of a false affidavit. If the Legislature has the power to require such affidavit it has the power to penalize the rendering of a false affidavit. In fact, under the present law a person who swears falsely to the present oath would be guilty of perjury. (See Section 118a, Penal Code.) There does not seem to be any problem of constitutionality involved in this section.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By HARRY J. ENGLEBRIGHT, Deputy

Copies to authors of Senate Bill No. 298 pursuant to Joint Rule 34.

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

May 11, 1949

Report on Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 14

As amended in Senate April 19, 1949

Senators Tenney, Kraft, Dilworth, Williams, Watson, Weybret, and Hugh M. Burns

Subject: Oaths of office by members of the Legislature and all officers, executive and judicial.

Form: Approved. Title: Approved.

Constitutionality: Approved.

Analysis: Adds to the present oath, that the above officers or members take, an oath to defend the Constitution of the United States and of this State against all enemies, foreign and domestic.

The measure requires a further oath that the officer or member is not now pledged nor a member of any organization pledged to support a foreign government against the United States in event of hostilities and further requires that an oath be taken that said person does not advocate and is not a member of any organization which advocates the overthrow of the government of the United States or of this State, by force, violence or any other unlawful means.

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By HARRY J. ENGLEBRIGHT, Deputy

SECOND READING OF SENATE BILLS (OUT OF ORDER)

Senate Bill No. 194—An act to provide for the incorporation and government of metropolitan rapid transit districts; prescribing the powers thereof, and providing for the performance of certain functions relating thereto by officers of counties and cities and counties, and relating to rail, monorail, and subway transportation in metropolitan areas.

Bill read second time.

Motion to Amend

Senator O'Gara moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out line 4, and insert

"SEC. 2. Metropolitan rapid transit districts may be created as herein provided and when so created may exercise the powers herein granted. Any such district may lie within the boundaries of one or more counties or cities and counties; and may include unincorporated territory of the county or counties and any part of any city or cities.

SEC. 3. A board of supervisors desiring to form or join in forming a metropolitan rapid transit district shall (1) adopt a resolution of its intention to do so, or (2) by initiative petition as hereinafter set forth. The resolution shall contain the following: (1) a statement of the intention to form a district; (2) the boundaries of the proposed district or some other designation of its territorial extent; (3) the name of the proposed district; (4) the time and place when and where objections to the formation of the district or to its extent will be heard, which time shall not be less than thirty (30) days after the adoption of the resolution; (5) the name of the newspaper or newspapers in which the resolution shall be published. It shall be published at least once in some newspaper published in the county, and the board may order it published in more than one such newspaper. The first publication shall be at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of hearing. After publication of said resolution of intention, it shall be the duty of each county board of supervisors to notify each city council within the boundaries of the respective counties, of the time and place when and where objections to, or arguments favoring, the formation of the district or to its extent will be heard, and it shall be the duty of the chairman of each city council to designate at least one of its members to appear before said board of supervisors to explain the viewpoint of said city council. Said notice shall be sent by registered mail and shall be mailed not less than ten (10) days prior to the date of the hearing.

SEC. 3a. Any city of a county or any section of a county may, by initiative petition filed with the board of supervisors of said county and signed by the qualified electors of said city or section equal in number to at least 15 percent of the entire vote cast within said city or section for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding gubernatorial election at which a governor was elected, request that said city or section be included in the district, and it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to submit said petition to the vote of the electors (1) at the next election to be held within said city or section, or (2) at a special election called for the purpose, which special election shall be not more than one hundred and twenty (120) days after the filing with the board of supervisors the certificate of the person responsible for the checking of the signatures on said petition, certifying to the number of petitioners whose names are attached to the petition, to the number of votes cast at the last election for Governor, and that the petition is signed by more than 15 percent of the qualified electors who voted for the office of Governor at said gubernatorial election.

SEC. 4. Written objections to the formation of the proposed district or to its extent within the county or city and county may be filed in the office of the clerk of any board of supervisors within the proposed district at any time prior to the hour fixed for the hearing. At the time fixed for the hearing or at any time to which said hearing is continued the board or boards of supervisors within said district shall hear said objections or protests. Said hearing may be continued from time to time by order of the board or boards of supervisors entered on the minutes.

SEC. 5. The board or boards of supervisors within said proposed district may exclude any territory within their respective counties or cities and counties that in its or their opinion will not be benefited by inclusion in the proposed district. Said board or boards may overrule any and all protests or objections by a vote of four-fifths of its members. If the board or boards of supervisors determines that the district should be formed, it or they shall by resolution entered on the minutes (1) define and describe the boundaries thereof or otherwise designate its territorial extent; (2) state the name of the proposed district; (3) call an election to be held in the county or city and county or portion thereof within the proposed district for the purpose of determining whether or not the district shall be formed; (4) fix the date of the election and the hours the polls will be open; (5) establish election precincts and designate polling places for the election; and (6) appoint the election officers. Such resolution shall be published by two insertions in at least one newspaper or newspapers published in each county or city and county in the proposed district, and the first publication shall be at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of the election. It may be published in more than one such paper by order of the board or boards of supervisors. In all particulars not provided for in this act said election shall be held and conducted as provided by law for the holding of special elections in each said county or city and county.

SEC. 6. The canvass of the returns of said election shall be made at the same time and in the same manner and by the same officers as provided by law for special elections in each county or city and county in which the proposed district lies. The canvass of votes shall be made separately in each individual county within the district. If the canvass is made by an officer other than the board of supervisors such officer shall transmit the results to the board of supervisors. The supervisors shall thereupon declare the result of said election. If a majority of all votes cast at said election within each county are in favor of the organization of the district; provided, however, that in any incorporated city or unincorporated area within the county where the majority of the votes have been cast against the organization of the district said city or area shall be excluded from the district, and the board of supervisors by resolution entered on its minutes shall declare the county, or said included portion of the county, as an integral portion of said proposed district duly organized under this act. A certified copy of said resolution shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of each county or city and county in which the district is situated. A certified copy of such resolution shall also be filed with the Secretary of State. Upon the filing of said certified copy with the Secretary of State the district shall be formed.

SEC. 7. After formation of the district is completed, a council shall be appointed. The council shall consist of at least one representative from each municipality which lies in whole or in part within the metropolitan rapid transit district, and if there be any unincorporated territory in any county lying within the district, at least one representative from the unincorporated territory within such county. Any representative of a municipality shall be appointed by the mayor, or in cities which do not have a mayor by the chairman of the governing body thereof, in either case, with the consent and approval of the governing body of such municipality. Any representative of unincorporated territory shall be appointed by the board of supervisors. Each municipality with a population over two hundred thousand shall have one extra representative for each additional two hundred thousand population or fraction thereof.

There is no eligibility requirement for appointment as a member of the council save and except that the person designated shall be a registered voter of the city or county by which he is appointed.

The affirmative votes of members representing more than fifty (50) percent of the total number of votes of all members shall be necessary and, except as otherwise herein provided, shall be sufficient to carry any order or resolution coming before the council.

Members of the council shall be appointed for a term of four years, and until their respective successors shall be duly appointed and qualified; provided, however, that any member of the council may be removed at any time in the same manner as he was appointed. Any vacancy on said council shall be filled by appointment in the same manner as hereinbefore provided. Each member shall be paid the sum of twenty dollars ($20) for each meeting attended, but not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) in any calendar month, and shall be allowed such necessary traveling and personal expenses incurred in the performance of his duties, as authorized by the council.

A majority of the council shall constitute a quorum.

Members of the first council shall be appointed within forty (40) days after the date of the formation of the district, and the first meeting of said council shall be held on the first Wednesday of the month following the appointment of the members thereto, in the city hall of the city with the largest population.

SEC. 8. The officers of the district shall consist of a president and one or more vice presidents, each of whom shall be a member of the council, a secretary, a general counsel, a treasurer and an auditor, none of whom shall be a member thereof. The secretary, general counsel, treasurer and auditor shall be appointed by the council. Until a board of management is appointed, the council may appoint or employ such engineers and attorneys and such other employees from time to time as it may determine.

SEC. 9. Any district incorporated hereunder shall have power:

(1) To provide rapid transit facilities for the transportation of passengers within the district and also for the transportation of mail, express and freight therein.

(2) To acquire and construct rights of way, rail lines, stations, platforms, switches, yards, terminals, and any and all other facilities necessary or convenient for rapid transit within the district, underground, upon or above the ground and under, upon or over public streets or other public ways or water ways, together with all physical structures necessary or convenient for the access of persons and vehicles thereto, and to acquire any interest in or rights to the joint use of any or all of the foregoing.

(3) To sue and be sued in all actions and proceedings and in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

(4) To take by grant, purchase, bequest, devise or lease and to hold, enjoy, lease, sell or otherwise dispose of any and all real or personal property of any kind within or without the district necessary or convenient to the full exercise of its powers.

(5) To have and exercise the power of eminent domain, within or without the district, including the power to acquire real property in fee simple or any lesser estate or interest, for rights of way or other uses of the district, and to acquire by eminent domain or otherwise, transit facilities, stations, terminal facilities and other property or any interest therein necessary for purposes of the district whether or not devoted to public use; provided, however, that this provision shall not apply to property owned by or under the control of any governmental body and used for public purposes.

(6) To construct, operate and maintain rapid transit works and facilities in, under, upon, over, across or along any public street, highway or water way under agreement with the United States of America or the State of California or the governing body of the city and county which has jurisdiction over such street, highway or water way, and in, under, upon or over any vacant public lands which are now or may become the property of the United States of America or the State of California by agreement with the United States of America or the State.

(7) To enter into agreements for the joint use of any property and rights by the district and any public utility operating transit facilities; to enter into agreements with any public utility operating any transportation facilities either within or without the district for the joint use of any property of the district or public utility of the establishment of through routes, joint fares, transfer of passengers or pooling arrangements.

(8) To fix rates and fares over the facilities owned by the district.

(9) To lease or contract for the use of its rapid transit facilities to any operator, and to provide for subleases by such operator.

(10) To borrow money, incur bonded indebtedness therefor, and levy taxes for the payment of principal and of interest thereon, in the manner provided in this act, but no such bonded debt shall exceed twenty (20) percent of the assessed valuation of taxable property within the district; to borrow money and issue nonnegotiable notes therefor, as provided in this Section 9, subsection (12); to borrow money and issue equipment trust certificates, short term negotiable notes or revenue bonds therefor in the manner and payable only from revenues. Except as in this subsection provided, and except for equipment trust certificates or short term notes or revenue bonds, no district shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any fiscal year not payable from the income and revenues provided for such fiscal year.

(11) To levy and collect or cause to be levied and collected taxes for the general administrative and preliminary engineering expenses of the district; provided, however, that the tax rate for such purposes in any fiscal year after the first tax levy shall not exceed ten cents ($.10) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of taxable property in the district.

(12) To borrow, for the purpose of defraying general administrative and preliminary engineering expenses of the district prior to the time moneys to be raised by the first tax levy for the district will be available, a sum which with interest thereon to maturity shall not exceed five cents ($.05) on each one hundred dollars ($100) assessed valuation of taxable property in the district at the time the moneys are borrowed, and to evidence such borrowing by nonnegotiable notes bearing interest at a rate to be fixed by said council. Said notes shall be signed by the president of the district and countersigned by the secretary of the council. Said notes shall be payable from the first tax levy made by the district and said tax levy shall contain a sum sufficient to provide for the payment of said notes and the interest thereon.

(13) To deposit any moneys of the district, in accordance with the provisions of the general laws of the State of California governing the deposit of public moneys of counties, in such bank or banks in the State of California as may be authorized to receive deposits of public funds, in the same manner and upon the same security as public moneys of counties are deposited in such banks and with like force and effect, and to invest any moneys in any sinking fund or reserve fund, or any surplus in the treasury of the district not required for the immediate necessities thereof, in accordance with the general laws of the State of California relating to investments of county funds.

(14) To do any and all things necessary to carry out the purposes of this act.

(15) All real and personal property and equipment owned or to be acquired by any district for the purpose of providing any and all of the following rail, monorail, subway, bus and any other rapid transit facilities are herein and hereinafter referred to as "rapid transit works" or "rapid transit facilities."

Sec. 10. The council shall have all of the powers granted to the district, except those powers expressly granted to the board of management by the district or the council, including the following specific powers:

(1) To fix the time and place at which its regular meeting shall be held, and to provide for the calling and holding of special meetings.

(2) To adopt a seal for the district;

(10) To prescribe the procedure for the presentation and payment of claims against the district. No claims other than claims based on written contract shall be allowed or paid unless filed with the district within six (6) months after the claim first arose or accrued. The council may allow or reject any claim, in whole or in part, filed prior to the appointment of a board of management, and the board of management may allow or reject any claim, in whole or in part, filed after its appointment. No action may be maintained on any claim rejected by the council or by the board of management, in whole or in part, unless brought within six (6) months after the date of such rejection. Failure to act on any claim or demand within ninety (90) days from the date the same is filed may be deemed by claimant a rejection thereof;

(11) To lease any or all property and facilities of the district or to make contracts for the use thereof upon such terms and conditions as it may deem proper, and in the public interest;

(12) To levy and collect taxes as otherwise provided in this act; and

(13) To adopt all resolutions and orders necessary or convenient for the execution of the powers vested in the council by this act.

Sec. 11. If the issuance of bonds for the acquisition and construction of rapid transit facilities shall have been authorized, the council shall thereafter appoint a board of management, consisting of five (5) members.

The members of the board of management shall be qualified by training and experience to conduct the operation of rapid transit facilities.

Members of the board of management shall serve at the pleasure of the council and until their respective successors are appointed and qualified.

The board of management shall hold regular meetings not less than once a month and may hold such additional meetings as it may see fit. The time and place for the holding of all of its meetings shall be fixed by the board of management. Members of the board of management shall be allowed necessary traveling and personal expenses incurred in the performance of their duties.

The board of management shall have the power:

(1) To fix the time and place or places at which its regular meetings shall be held, and to provide for the calling and holding of special meetings;

(2) Except as to powers expressly reserved to the council, to make and pass resolutions and orders necessary for the government and management of the business and affairs of the district, for the execution of the powers vested in the district, and for the carrying into effect of the provisions of this act;

(3) To prescribe by resolution a system of business administration and to establish or change the powers and duties and compensation of all officers appointed by it and of employees appointed by heads of departments.

(4) To delegate and redelegate, by resolution, to officers of the district, power to employ clerical, legal, and engineering assistants and labor and, under such conditions and restrictions as shall be fixed by the board of management, to bind the district by contract;

(5) To prescribe methods for the preparation of plans and for the letting of contracts for the preparation of plans required for the carrying out of any of the purposes of this act;

(6) To prescribe methods for the construction of works and for the letting of contracts for the construction of works, structures or equipment, or the performance or furnishing of labor, materials, or supplies, required for the carrying out of any of the purposes of this act, subject to specific provisions hereinafter set forth;

(7) To hold public hearings, subpoena witnesses and perform all other acts necessary to arrive at proper rates and fare structures, and report thereon to the council, or to delegate such authority to certain officers of the district;

(8) To prepare and submit to the council, at the start of each fiscal year, a financial statement and budget for the ensuing fiscal year, and during the year such reports as may be required by the council;

(9) As soon as practicable after the district is in operation, and when the public interest shall require, the council shall establish a reasonable depreciation fund, and expenditures therefrom shall be limited to replacement of capital improvements and equipment; and

SEC. 12. Before incurring any bonded indebtedness, the council shall employ competent engineers for the purpose of developing a comprehensive rapid transit plan for the district. Such engineers shall make a report to the council which shall include (a) a description of the rapid transit facilities to be acquired and or constructed by the district, (b) the estimated total cost of constructing or acquiring, or both, such rapid transit facilities, (c) the period of construction of such facilities, (d) an estimate of the revenues which may be expected to be derived therefrom, and (e) the amount of bonds which will be required to pay the estimated total cost and to pay interest on the bonds during the estimated period of construction, and for six months thereafter. Such report shall be filed with the secretary of the district before any bond issue is submitted to vote.

SEC. 13. After such report has been filed, if the council determines that it is necessary for the district to incur a bonded indebtedness for the acquisition and construction of the rapid transit lines, facilities and works generally described or set forth in said report and the acquisition of such rolling stock and other property as may be necessary for purposes of operation and the providing of operating funds, it shall so declare by resolution adopted by a vote of three-fourths (3/4ths) of all of the members thereof. The resolution shall contain:

(a) A statement of the proposition to be submitted to the electors, including the purpose for which the proposed debt is to be incurred.

(b) The amount of debt to be incurred.

(c) The maximum term, which shall not exceed seventy-five years, that the bonds proposed to be issued shall run before maturity.

(d) The maximum rate of interest to be paid which shall not exceed 6 percent per annum.

(e) A statement that interest, to be paid upon such bonds, during the period of construction of the works of the district and before any revenue is obtained therefrom shall be a capital charge, and shall be payable out of the principal sum realized from the sale of the bonds.

SEC. 14. The council shall fix a date upon which a special election shall be held for the purpose of authorizing the bonded indebtedness to be incurred and shall provide for holding the election on the date so fixed; provided, however, the council shall have no power or authority, within six months after an election at which a proposition submitted to the qualified voters of the district failed to receive the requisite number of votes as provided in Section 19 hereof, to call or order another election for incurring any indebtedness for purposes substantially the same as voted upon at such prior election. Any election submitting the proposition of incurring indebtedness and the issuance of bonds called pursuant to the provisions of this act, may be held separately, or may be consolidated with any other election authorized by law at which the qualified voters of any county or city are entitled to vote; provided, however, that in the event any such election called pursuant to the provisions of this act is consolidated with any other election, the provisions of this act setting forth the procedure for the calling and holding of the election called pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall be complied with, except, that the resolution calling such election need not set forth the election precincts, polling places and officers of election, but may provide that the precincts, polling places and officers of election shall be the same as those set forth in the ordinance, order, resolution or notice or other proceedings calling or providing for or listing or designating the precincts, polling places and election officers for the election with which the election called pursuant to the provisions of this act, is consolidated, and shall refer to such ordinance, order, resolution or notice or other proceeding by number and title, or date of adoption, or by date or proposed date of publication and the name of the newspaper in which publication has been or will be made or by any definite description.

SEC. 15. The council shall give notice of the holding of the election. The notice shall:

(a) Refer to the resolution adopted by the council calling the election.

(b) Specify the precincts or consolidated precincts in each county or portion of a county which are adopted for the purposes of the election; designate the location of the polling places, and the names of the officers selected to conduct the election, who shall consist of one inspector and two judges in each precinct; or, refer to the ordinance, order, resolution or notice or other proceedings calling or providing for or listing or designating the precincts, polling places and election officers for the election with which the election called pursuant to the provisions of this act is consolidated.

SEC. 16. The notice shall be published for two weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation and not more than three newspapers designated by the council, which are printed and published in each county or city or portion of a county within the district. The notice as published in each county shall contain only the reference to the precincts, polling places and election officers in the county or portion of the county in which it is published.

If there is no newspaper published in any county the notice shall be posted in three public places in that county.

SEC. 17. All the expenses of holding the election shall be borne by the district, except, when the election is consolidated with another election pursuant to Sections 10050 to 10058, inclusive, of the Elections Code, in which case the expense borne by the district shall be that agreed upon by the council and the other governing body or bodies calling the elections.

SEC. 18. The returns of the election shall be made and the votes canvassed by the council within thirty (30) days after the holding of the election, and the results thereof designated and declared in accordance with the general election laws of the State insofar as they may be applicable, and except as otherwise provided in this act. In the event that the election is consolidated with any other election, the returns of the election, the method of canvassing, and the results thereof shall be designated and declared in accordance with Sections 10050 to 10058, inclusive, of the Elections Code.

As soon as the result is declared the secretary shall enter a statement of the results in the record of the council.

SEC. 19. If more than two-thirds of the votes cast at the election are in favor of incurring the indebtedness, the council may by resolution at any time it deems proper, provide for the form and execution of the bonds, and for the issuance of any part thereof, and may sell or dispose of the bonds so issued at such times or in such manner for cash in lawful money of the United States as it may deem to be to the public interest.

SEC. 20. If after any bond has been duly signed by any properly authorized officer and that officer ceases to hold office, the bond may nevertheless be delivered with the same effect as if it had been signed by the person holding the office at the time of delivery.

SEC. 21. The district bonds may be registerable as to principal alone, or as to both principal and interest, under such terms and conditions as may be fixed by the council prior to the issuance thereof.

SEC. 22. All bonds and revenue bonds issued by the district shall be legal investments for savings banks, and shall have the same force and effect and be entitled to the same privileges as bonds issued by any municipality; and all bonds issued under any of the provisions of this act and the interest thereon shall, at all times, be exempt from taxation within this State.

SEC. 23. Whenever the council deems it necessary or advisable to refund any outstanding bonds, it may, by resolution, declare such necessity or advisability and outline a general plan of refunding, including the issuance of refunding bonds and the terms and conditions thereof.

Upon adopting a general plan of refunding, the council shall, by resolution, provide for submitting to the qualified electors of the district the proposition of whether the refunding bonds shall issue. The resolution shall provide for the manner of submitting the proposition to the electors, and shall state the purpose of the refunding, the terms and conditions of the bonds, and any other facts essential for the information of the electors. The election held on the proposition shall conform to the provisions of this act relating to bond elections.

If the proposition is favorably voted upon, the council has plenary power in the matter of executing the bonds and providing for their sale and disposition.

SEC. 24. During July of each year the council shall determine the amount of money required by the district which must be raised by taxation, and shall fix a rate of taxation which will raise that amount. If the purpose of the taxation is to supply funds for investigating the project prior to the issuance of bonds and the payment of the officers and employees of the district prior to the time when the works of the district are earning revenue, the tax rate shall not exceed ten cents ($.10) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation.

SEC. 25. All running expenses of the district prior to the time the works of the district are earning revenue, being a part of the cost of constructing or acquiring or both the works, may be paid from the proceeds of any bonds issued by the district.

SEC. 26. Within a reasonable time prior to the time that the boards of supervisors of the counties or cities and counties having any portion of their territory within the boundaries of the district are required by law to fix their tax rates, the council shall certify to the board of supervisors of each of the said counties the rate of taxation fixed for district purposes and at the time and in the manner required by law for the levying of taxes for county purposes, each shall levy and collect a tax for district purposes, in addition to any other tax levied by such board of supervisors at the rate certified by the board. The council must, in all cases, certify to the board of supervisors of each of said counties a rate of taxation sufficient to pay the principal and interest becoming due on any bonds issued hereunder, and it shall be the duty of the board of supervisors to levy and collect taxes in an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest on any bonds issued pursuant to this act.

SEC. 27. All county officers charged with the duty of collecting taxes shall collect district taxes at the same time and in the same form and manner as county taxes are collected, and when collected pay the proceeds to the district. The appropriate county officers shall pay the taxes collected for the district to the secretary of the district who shall deposit them in the district depository to the credit of the district.

SEC. 28. Each county auditor and tax collector affected by the provisions of this act shall annually file with the board of supervisors of his county itemized statements showing the additional expense to his office caused by the performance of the duties imposed upon him or his office under the provisions of this act, and upon the filing of such statements the board of supervisors shall, by an order spread upon its minutes, deduct such expenses from the tax money of the district, while in the hands of the tax collector, and transfer the amount deducted into the county salary fund; provided, that not more than one-half of 1 percentum on the amount collected shall be so charged or deducted by any county. The board or boards of supervisors of such county or counties may provide such extra help for their county offices or officers as in their judgment may be necessary for the proper performance of their duties hereunder.

SEC. 29. Taxes levied by the board of supervisors of a county for the benefit of the district shall be a lien upon all property within such county lying within the district, and shall have the same force and effect as other liens for taxes. Their collection may be enforced in the same manner as liens for county taxes are enforced.

SEC. 30. If during the month of July next preceeding the expiration of the time estimated for the construction of the works it appears to the council that the construction of the works may be delayed beyond the time so estimated the council shall estimate the period of such delay and cause a tax to be levied and collected in accordance with the provisions of this act which shall be sufficient to produce the amount required to pay one year's interest on the bonds or, if the estimated period of delay will be less than one year, the amount required to pay the interest which will accrue on the bonds during such estimated period of delay.

The amount of any such tax shall be reduced to the extent that the district has funds on hand and available for the purpose of paying such interest.

SEC. 31. The taxes required to be levied and collected under this act shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for county purposes, and all taxable property of the district shall be and remain liable to be taxed as provided in this act until the entire principal and interest of the bonded indebtedness of the district has been paid in full.

SEC. 32. The district shall have power to purchase rolling stock of all kinds, including busses, passenger cars, cars for transportation of mail and express, and service cars, and may execute agreements, leases, and equipment trust certificates in the form customarily used in such cases appropriate to effect such purchase, and may dispose of such equipment trust certificates. All money required to be paid by the district under the provisions of such agreements, leases, and equipment trust certificates shall be payable from the revenue or income to be derived from the operation of its rapid transit facilities. Payment for such equipment or rentals therefor may be made in installments, and the deferred installments may be evidenced by equipment trust certificates payable solely from such income and revenue, and title to such equipment shall not vest in the district until the equipment trust certificates are paid. The agreement to purchase may direct the vendor to sell or assign the equipment to a bank or trust company duly authorized to transact business in the State of California, as trustee, for the benefit or security of the equipment trust certificates and may direct the trustee to deliver the equipment to one or more designated officers of the district, and may authorize the trustee simultaneously therewith to execute and deliver a lease of the equipment to the district. Such agreements, leases and equipment trust certificates shall be authorized by resolution of the board of directors and shall contain such covenants, conditions and provisions as are hereinafter authorized in Section 35 hereof which may be deemed necessary or appropriate to insure the payment of the equipment trust certificates from the revenue or income to be derived from the rapid transit facilities. An executed copy of each such agreement and lease shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of each county in which the district lies, and such filing shall constitute notice to any subsequent judgment creditor or any subsequent purchaser. Each vehicle so purchased and leased shall have the name of the owner and lessor plainly marked thereon, followed by the words "Owner and Lessor."

SEC. 33. The district may borrow money for any of the purposes of the district upon short term notes or revenue bonds payable solely from revenues of the district. Such short term notes or revenue bonds shall be payable only from rates, charges or fares, funds received from leases or concessions, and other revenue of the district derived from sources other than taxation or the issuance of bonds, and moneys from such sources for the payment of such bonds shall be set aside monthly, quarterly, semi-annually or annually, as provided in the resolution authorizing the issuance thereof, prior to any other payments from said sources. No taxes shall ever be levied to pay the principal of or the interest on said notes or revenue bonds.

SEC. 34. The council may by resolution adopted by a vote of three-fourths of all of the members thereof determine that it is necessary for the district to borrow money and issue such short term notes or revenue bonds, payable solely from revenues of the district. The council shall determine the time, form, manner, terms and conditions of issuance of such short term notes and revenue bonds; and such short term notes or revenue bonds may be issued and sold from time to time as the council may determine, but for not less than par and accrued interest to date of delivery.

SEC. 35. (a) The council may enter into indentures providing for the aggregate principal amount, date, or dates, maturities, interest rate, denominations, form, registration transfer and interchange of such bonds and coupons, and the terms and conditions upon which the same shall be executed, issued, secured, sold, paid, redeemed, funded and refunded. Reference on the face of the bonds to such indenture by its date of adoption, or the apparent date on the face thereof, is sufficient to incorporate all of the provisions thereof and of this act into the body of the bonds and their appurtenant coupons. Each taker and subsequent holder of the bonds or coupons, whether the coupons are attached to or detached from the bonds, has recourse to all of the provisions of the indenture and of this act, and is bound thereby.

(b) An indenture pursuant to which bonds are issued may include such covenants and agreements on the part of the council as the council deems necessary or advisable for the better security of the bonds issued thereunder.

(c) An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the council to pay or cause to be paid punctually the principal of all such bonds and the interest thereon on the date or dates, at the place or places, and in the manner mentioned in such bonds and in the coupons appertaining thereto in accordance with such indenture.

(d) An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the council to continuously operate all improvements acquired, constructed, or completed, in whole or in part, from the proceeds of the bonds in an efficient and economical manner.

(e) An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the council to make all needful and necessary repairs, renewals and replacements to any improvements and to keep them at all times in good repair, working order and condition.

(f) An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the council to preserve and protect the security of the bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to warrant and defend such rights.

(g) An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the council to pay and discharge or cause to be paid and discharged all lawful claims for labor, materials and supplies or other charges which, if unpaid, might become a lien or charge upon the revenues, or any part thereof, of any improvements acquired, constructed or completed from the proceeds of the sale of the bonds, or upon any physical properties, of which might impair the security of the bonds.

(h) An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder which limits, restricts, or prohibits any right, power or privilege of the council to mortgage or otherwise encumber, sell, lease or dispose of any improvements constructed from the proceeds of the bonds, or to enter into any lease or agreement which impairs or impedes the operation of such improvement, or any part thereof, necessary to secure adequate revenues or which otherwise impairs or impedes the rights of the holders of the bonds with respect to such revenues.

(i) An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the council to fix, prescribe and collect rates, tolls, rentals or other charges in connection with the services and facilities furnished from the improvements acquired, constructed or purchased from part or all of the proceeds of the bonds, sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on the bonds as they become due and payable, together with all expenses of operation, maintenance and repair of the improvements, and with such additional sums as may be required for any sinking fund, reserve fund or other special fund provided for the further security of such bonds or as a depreciation charge or other charge in connection with such improvement.

(j) An indenture may include a clause relating to the bonds issued thereunder requiring the council to hold in trust the revenues pledged to the payment of such bonds and the interest thereon, or to any reserve or other fund created for the further protection of the bonds, and to apply such revenues or cause them to be applied only as provided in the indenture.

(k) An indenture may include a clause limiting the power of the council to apply the proceeds of the sale of any issue of bonds for the acquiring, constructing, or completing of any improvement or any part thereof, or more than one of such improvements.

(l) An indenture may include a clause limiting the power of the council to issue additional bonds for the purpose of acquiring, constructing or completing any improvement or any part thereof.

(m) An indenture may include a clause requiring, specifying or limiting the kind, amount and character of insurance to be maintained by the council on any improvement, or any part thereof, and the use and disposition of the proceeds of any such insurance thereafter collected.

(n) An indenture may include a clause providing the events of default and the terms and conditions upon which any or all of the bonds of the district then or thereafter issued may become or be declared due and payable prior to maturity, and the terms and conditions upon which such declaration and its consequences may be waived.

(o) An indenture may include a clause designating the rights, limitations, powers and duties arising upon breach by the district of any of the covenants, conditions, or obligations contained in any indenture.

(p) An indenture may include a clause prescribing a procedure by which the terms and conditions of the indenture may be subsequently amended or modified with the consent of the council and the vote or written assent of the holders of a specified principal amount of the bonds issued and outstanding. Such clause may provide for meetings of bondholders and for the manner in which the consent of the bondholders may be given. The clause shall specifically state the effect of such amendment or modification upon the rights of the holders of all of the bonds and interest coupons appertaining thereto, whether attached thereto or detached therefrom.

(q) The indenture may include a clause providing for such other acts and matters as may be necessary or convenient or desirable in order to secure the bonds or to make the bonds more marketable.

(r) The council shall fix and determine the conditions upon which any trustee shall receive, hold or disburse any or all revenues collected for or on account of the district. The council shall prescribe the duties and powers of such trustee with respect to the issuance, authentication, sale and delivery of the bonds and the payment of principal and interest thereof, the redemption of the bonds, the registration and discharge from registration of the bonds, and the management of any sinking fund or other funds provided as security for the bonds.

(s) The council may issue bonds in series or may divide any issue into one or more divisions and fix different maturities or dates of such bonds, different rates of interest, or prescribe different terms and conditions for the bonds of the several series or divisions. It is not necessary that all bonds of the same authorized issue be of the same kind or character, have the same security, or be of the same interest rate, but the terms thereof shall in each case be provided for by the council, at or prior to the issue thereof. The council may provide for successive issues or may provide for one maximum issue.

(t) Bonds may be issued as coupon bonds or as registered bonds. The council may provide for the interchange of coupon bonds for registered bonds and registered bonds for coupon bonds, and may provide that the bonds shall be registered as to principal only, or as to both principal and interest, or otherwise as the council may determine.

(u) Bonds shall bear interest at a rate of not to exceed six (6) percent per annum, payable annually or semiannually or in part annually and in part semiannually. Prior to the issuance of bonds the council may fix limitations or restrictions on the payment of interest.

(v) Bonds may be callable upon such terms, conditions, and upon such notice as the council may determine, and upon the payment of the premium fixed by the council in the proceedings for the issuance of the bonds. No bond is subject to call or redemption prior to its fixed maturity date unless the right to exercise such call is expressly stated on the face of the bond.

(w) The council may provide for the payment of the principal and interest of bonds at any place within or without the State of California, and in specified coin or currency of the United States.

(x) The council may provide for the execution and authentication of bonds by the manual, lithographed or printed facsimile signature of officers of the council, and by additional authentication by a trustee or fiscal agent appointed by the council. If any of the officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear upon the bonds or coupons cease to be officers before the delivery of the bonds or coupons, their signatures or countersignatures are nevertheless valid and of the same force and effect as if the officers had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds and coupons.

(y) Bonds shall bear dates prescribed by the council. Bonds may be serial bonds or sinking fund bonds with such maturities as the council may determine. No bond by its terms shall mature in more than fifty years from its own date and in the event any authorized issue is divided into two or more series or divisions, the maximum maturity date herein authorized shall be calculated from the date on the face of each bond separately, irrespective of the fact that different dates may be prescribed for the bonds of each separate series or division of any authorized issue.

(z) The council may fix terms and conditions for the sale or other disposition of any authorized issue of bonds. The council may sell bonds at less than their par or face value but no bond may be sold at a price below the par or face value thereof which would result in a sale price yielding to the purchaser an average of more than six (6) percent per annum, payable semiannually, according to standard tables of bond values.

(aa) Interest on bonds may be paid out of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds during the actual construction of any project for the acquisition, construction or completion of which the bonds have been issued, and for a period of not to exceed two (2) years thereafter as provided for in the indenture.

(bb) The council may provide in the proceedings for the issuance of bonds that the bonds and the interest thereon constitute such lien upon the revenues of any project acquired, constructed, or completed from the proceeds thereof as may be provided for in the indenture.

(cc) Pending the actual issuance or delivery of revenue bonds, the council may issue temporary or interim bonds, certificates or receipts of any denominations whatsoever, and with or without coupons, to be exchanged for definitive bonds when ready for delivery.

(dd) The council may provide for the issuance, sale or exchange of refunding bonds for the purpose of redeeming or retiring any revenue bonds issued by the district. All provisions of this act applicable to the issuance of revenue bonds are applicable to the funding or refunding bonds and to the issuance, sale or exchange thereof.

(ee) Funding or refunding bonds may be issued in a principal amount sufficient to provide funds for the payment of all bonds to be funded or refunded thereby, and in addition for the payment of all expenses incident to the calling, retiring or paying of such outstanding bonds, and the issuance of such funding or refunding bonds. These expenses include the difference in amount between the par value of the funding or refunding bonds and any amount less than par for which the funding or refunding bonds are sold, any amount necessary to be made available for the payment of interest upon such funding or refunding bonds from the date of sale thereof to the date of payment of the bonds to be funded or refunded or to the date upon which the bonds to be funded or refunded will be paid pursuant to the call thereof or agreement with the holders thereof, and the premium, if any, necessary to be paid in order to call or retire the outstanding bonds and the interest accruing thereon to the date of the call or retirement.

(ff) All bonds issued under the provisions of this act are negotiable instruments, except when registered in the name of a registered owner.

SEC. 36. Territory, whether incorporated or unincorporated, not included in any other rapid transit district, may be annexed thereto. A petition signed by the qualified electors of said territory equal in number to at least 15 percent of the total number of registered voters in the territory proposed to be annexed shall be presented to the council of said district. The petition shall describe the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed and shall request that such territory be annexed to the district. Each such petition shall be accompanied by a bond in a form to be approved by the council of said district and filed with the secretary as security for the payment by the petitioners of the reasonable costs of the election on annexation in the event that at the election less than a majority of the votes cast are in favor of annexation. If the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified signatures, the council shall fix a time and place for hearing thereon and shall give notice thereof by two publications in a newspaper of general circulation within the territory proposed to be annexed. At the time fixed for the hearing the council shall hear the petition and any protests or objections made thereto. If the council finds that it is in the best interests of the district and in the best interests of the territory proposed to be annexed for such annexation to be made, it may, by resolution, order an election to be held in the territory proposed to be annexed for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the question of the annexation of such territory to said district. The resolution shall describe the boundaries of the territory proposed to be annexed, state the date of election, designate voting precincts and polling places and appoint the officers of election. Such resolution shall be entered in the minutes and shall be conclusive evidence of the due presentation of a proper petition and of the fact that said petition was signed by the requisite number of qualified signers. Said resolution shall be published twice in some newspaper of general circulation in the territory proposed to be annexed, the first publication to be at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of election.

If a majority of the votes cast in such territory are in favor of annexation, the secretary of the district shall make and cause to be entered in the minutes a resolution approving the petition and declaring said territory described therein annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of said district. A certified copy of such resolution shall be filed in the office of the county recorder in which the territory lies and a certified copy shall be filed with the Secretary of State. The entry of said resolution upon the minutes is conclusive evidence of the fact and regularity of all prior proceedings of every kind required by law and of the facts stated in such resolution. The territory so annexed shall be subject to taxation for any of the purposes of the district, including outstanding indebtedness, upon the same basis as all other territory in the district.

SEC. 37. If district bonds for the acquisition and construction of the rapid transit facilities have not been voted by the electors thereof, the council of such district may call an election and submit to the qualified electors of such district the question of dissolving the district. The election shall be called as quickly as convenient and may be consolidated with any other election in the manner provided by law. If an election is required by law to be held throughout the district within one year after the decision to dissolve, then the council of the district may delay calling the election on dissolution for the purpose of consolidating the same with such election to be held throughout the district.

The election shall be called by resolution which shall state the time, place and purpose thereof, establish election precincts, designate polling places, and appoint election officers and, in all respects not provided in this section, said election shall be held and conducted in the same manner as other elections in the district. In the event said election shall be consolidated with any other election, the resolution calling the election hereunder need not describe the precincts, polling places, or appoint officers of election but may refer to the ordinance, order, resolution or notice calling or providing for such other election, or listing or designating the precincts, polling places and election officers therefor for the precincts, polling places and officers of election for the election called hereunder. Said resolution shall be published twice in some newspaper of general circulation in the district and the first publication shall be at least thirty (30) days prior to the date of election. If a majority of the qualified electors voting at said election vote in favor of such dissolution, the council shall, by resolution entered upon its minutes, declare the district dissolved. A certified copy of said resolution shall be filed with the county recorders and with the Secretary of State and also with the county assessors and the State Board of Equalization. Upon the adoption of said resolution, said district shall be dissolved. The council, if dissolution is voted, shall wind up the affairs of the district and pay all indebtedness thereof, and any moneys remaining thereafter shall be paid over to the cities and the counties in which the district lies, in proportion to the assessed valuation of taxable property in each of said cities and in the unincorporated area of the counties included in the district, as shown by the assessment rolls of the counties last equalized at the date of such dissolution.

SEC. 38. If any provision of this act, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of the act, or the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby."

Harold J. Powers

WHEREAS, Harold J. POINT OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Senator Tenney rose to a point of personal privilege that he was unjustly attacked in the Assembly this morning by Assemblyman Evans, in attacking the Committee on Un-American Activities and a certain employee of said committee.

MOTION TO PRINT REPORT RE SOCIAL WELFARE

Senator Tenney moved that the following report to the Chairman of the Senate Fact-Finding Committee on Un-American Activities concerning the State Department of Social Welfare be printed in the Journal.

Motion carried.

REPORT ON STATE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL WELFARE

The investigation of the appointments of Wilbur J. Bassett and Daniel G. Marshall to the State Department of Social Welfare reveals the following:

- (1) That all of the appointees submitted to the Senate, ostensibly by Director Myrtle Williams, were selected by an officer of the State Department of Social Welfare acting on and under the explicit orders of George H. McLain, head of the Citizens Committee for Old Age Pensions;
- (2) That the names submitted to the Senate were those that McLain directed Mrs. Williams to present;
- (3) That McLain dictated the letters seeking confirmation of the appointees now before the Committee on Rules;
- (4) That the agreements of the appointees to serve were obtained by Walter P. Chambers, Chief Administrative officer of the State Department of Social Welfare.

Confidential information reveals that Walter P. Chambers, although designated as Chief Administrative Officer for the State Department of Social Welfare, and presumably drawing a salary of $9,000 per year, has not performed, nor is he performing, the functions or duties of the office. While he has been signing time-sheets, accounting for time worked and time traveled as chief administrative officer in the performance of the duties of his office, he has not been performing the duties prescribed. There is good reason to believe that state funds are being diverted to purposes for which they were not appropriated. Chambers' time-sheets, personnel record, job description and expense vouchers should be carefully investigated.

Chambers has made a few appearances before legislative committees and has participated in a few interdepartmental conferences in his capacity as chief administrative officer. He apparently has been detached from these duties and, obviously, under the orders of George H. McLain, has been assigned to political activities to groups and organizations throughout the State. Information is to the effect that Chambers' reports and memoranda in reference to political activities are available and can be produced if subpoenaed. Information discloses that Chambers is not serving in the capacity of chief administrative officer but is used as an errand boy for Director Williams and McLain under the actual direction and express orders of McLain. Chambers reports directly to McLain and such orders as he receives from the director are orders originating with McLain.

An investigation will reveal that Chambers has used a state car to transport McLain on trips up and down the State for purposes that have nothing whatsoever to do with Chambers' State Department functions or duties. Some of these trips were to transport McLain to various places for addresses before sundry organizations in the furtherance of McLain's attack on the attempt to repeal Proposition No. 4, now Article XXV of the State Constitution. Undoubtedly Chambers has turned in expense accounts and received reimbursement from the State for such trips.

Chambers is reported to "check in" at the headquarters of the Citizens Committee for Old Age Pensions, located at 1931 South Grand Avenue, whenever he arrives in Los Angeles. On these occasions he reports to McLain, members of McLain's staff or to McLain's counsel.

C. A. Herbage, Deputy Director of the State Department of Social Welfare, takes his orders directly from McLain, and expressly ordered two persons not to make any attempt to comply with the duties of their offices and "to stay away from the administrative end of the State Department of Social Welfare and the offices in Los Angeles and San Francisco." Both of these persons (now terminated) had received express orders from Director Williams to work on political matters and especially to use their energy in defeating the efforts of the opponents of Article XXV to obtain signatures for repeal petitions, and to work with civic groups and political organizations against the repeal petition and in favor of Article XXV.

"Reluctant" witnesses are available who will testify (as will Herbage and Mrs. Williams) that Herbage knew that the men in question were not performing the duties which their job descriptions called for and for which they were being paid by the State. It can also be proven that Herbage was well aware that state cars had been assigned to these men and that they were traveling on state expense accounts.

An investigation will further disclose that Herbage is named defendant in a $1,000,000 libel suit by McLain which is not presently being prosecuted. "Reluctant" witnesses will testify that McLain stated before several persons that he had made a deal with Herbage for jobs; jobs that McLain was to fill from among his political henchmen; jobs to be directed solely toward the enhancement of the political future of Director Williams, McLain and his program.

Mrs. Williams, under pressure, will undoubtedly admit that she was fully aware of all these things and there is no doubt that Chambers and Herbage will declare that they acted under her orders. She may attempt to brazen out her "right" to have used these persons for the purposes described or attempted to so use them. Under questioning she will also undoubtedly admit that she took her orders and instructions from McLain. Apparently the facts are that during Director Williams' first few weeks in office she found that Chambers was not fulfilling the duties of chief administrative officer and that the reorganization of the Department was at a stand-still and the putting of Article XXV into operation was at a dead-end. It was at this impasse that she made the switch, under McLain's orders, and gave Herbage administrative charge and assigned Chambers to these other duties but still under the same title, same pay and same job description.

Testimony will be available to show that McLain is the actual director of the State Department of Social Welfare; that he demands written reports from its employees; demands lobbying activities and personal loyalty to him. Testimony will also reveal that in some instances state department employees have refused to take orders from McLain, to lobby on his particular bills, etc., and that McLain made it a point to get rid of them.

Any investigation of McLain's activities should include the production of his liquor bills, hotel bills, travel vouchers, air travel-card account, payments of his bills on his personal car by the aged people's so-called committee, payments of his personal bills from funds of aged people's committee, tailor bills, suite at the Sacramento Hotel, his $10,000 a month pay roll at the Citizens Committee for Old Age Pensions, his trick of selling the aged citizens "Recall Buttons" for $1 each, his trick of selling cheap two- to seven-cent brochures for 10 cents to $1, and, last but not least, the loans he has allegedly obtained from many old people who have been duped into following his program.

The advertising agency, allegedly owned and operated by McLain and Director Williams, also should be thoroughly investigated, together with reported illegal sales of mining stocks and shares by Myrtle Williams, since she has been in office.

Any investigation of this situation should not overlook the personnel in the State Department of Social Welfare, now allegedly being recruited by Chambers from the old discredited Olson State Relief Administration regime. The Communist Party, Robert W. Kenny and left-wing elements are definitely moving into the McLain movement and apparently into the State Department of Social Welfare. In this connection, Chambers' political relationship with Rose Segure and others should be investigated.

Confidential sources reveal that a number of State Department of Social Welfare employees are discouraged and privately indignant at the existing situation. While few, if any, of these employees will come forward willingly there is little doubt but that they will frankly and honestly testify before any governmental agency that summons them.

At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued, the board of [supervisors] directors shall consider all written and oral objections to the proposed joint project. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board [of supervisors] may abandon the proposed joint project or proceed with the same, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing written protests against the [proposed joint] said project signed by a majority in number of the registered voters residing within either of said zones be filed with the board of [supervisors] *directors of either of said zones, in which event said project must be abandoned. SEC. 14.1. When said district shall, by contract, undertake to represent any zone or zones or to construct, maintain, operate, extend, repair, or otherwise improve any work or improvement for the benefit of any zone or zones, as provided in Section 14 of this act, said district shall not be obligated to perform the same until the zone or zones to be benefited thereby have made adequate provision, by taxation or the issuance of bonds, or otherwise, to reimburse said district for their proportionate share of the cost of such performance.

SEC. 14. Section 15 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 15. (1) Whenever the board of [supervisors] directors of any zone shall determine that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any work or improvement in any zone, the said board may by resolution, passed by [unanimous vote] the vote of two-thirds of the entire board determine and declare the respective amounts of bonds in order to raise the amount of money necessary for each work or improvement and the denomination and rate of interest of said bonds. Said board shall cause a copy of said resolution, duly certified by the clerk, to be filed for record in the office of the recorder of Ventura County within five (5) days after its issuance. From and after said filing the said board shall be deemed vested with the authority to proceed with said bond election.

(2) After the filing for record of the resolution specified in subdivision (1) of this section, the said board [of supervisors] may call a special election in said zone at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said zone the question whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount or amounts determined in said resolution and for the purpose or purposes therein stated. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from annual taxes or assessments levied upon the property taxable by said [district] zone situated within the zone, and all such taxable property shall be and remain liable to be taxed for such payments as provided in this act.

(3) Said board [of supervisors] shall call such special election by ordinance and not otherwise and submit to the qualified electors of said participating zones the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in said zone in the amount and for the purposes stated in said resolution and shall recite therein the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the resolution adopted by said board [of supervisors], and on file for particulars; and said ordinances shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work and improvements, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and what part of such indebtedness shall be paid each and every year, and which shall be not less than one-fortieth ($\frac{1}{40}$) of the whole amount of such indebtedness, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such special election shall be held, and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. Said ordinance calling for such election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published in a newspaper of general circulation circulated in said zone for six consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said zone; or two times if published in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said zone; the last publication of such ordinance must be at least fourteen (14) days before said election, and if there be no such newspaper, then such ordinance shall be posted in five public places in said participating zone for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. No other notice of such election need be given.

Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such election shall not affect the validity of the bonds. If at such election two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) of the votes cast are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then the bonds of said [district] zone for the amount stated in such proceedings shall be issued and sold as in this act provided.

SEC. 15. Section 16 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 16. [The said board of supervisors] Any such board of directors shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe by resolution the form of said bonds, which must include a designation of the participating zones, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually at the discretion of the board each and every year on a day and date, and at a place to be fixed by said board, and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid.

The bonds shall be issued in such denomination as the said board [of supervisors] may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars ($1,000), and shall be payable on the day and at the place fixed in said bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of five per centum (5%) per annum, and shall be payable annually or semiannually, and said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board [of supervisors], and countersigned by the auditor of [said] Ventura County, and the seal of said [district] zone shall be affixed thereto. The interest coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the auditor of Ventura County by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officer whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

SEC. 16. Section 17 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 17. [The said board of supervisors] Any such board of directors may issue and sell the bonds of such [district] zones authorized as hereinbefore provided at not less than par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the treasury of the County of Ventura to the credit of said [district] zone for the uses and purposes of the zone voting said bonds; and the proper record of such transactions shall be placed upon the books of said county treasurer, and said respective zone funds shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance calling such special bond election as aforesaid, subject to the provisions in this act contained. Payments from said zone fund shall be made upon demands prepared, presented, allowed and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the County of Ventura.

SEC. 17. Section 19 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 19. The board of [supervisors] directors of the zone of issuance shall levy a tax or assessment each year upon all the taxable property in the zone [of issuance] sufficient to pay the interest upon said bonds for that year, and such portion of the principal thereof as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy. Such tax shall be levied and collected in the zone of issuance together with and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury of said Ventura County to the credit of the zone of issuance, and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on said bonds shall be paid by the county treasurer of said Ventura County in the manner provided by law for the payment of principal and interest on bonds of said county.

SEC. 18. Section 20.4 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 20.4. For the Fiscal Year [1944-1945] 1949-1950, but for no other fiscal year, notwithstanding Section 20 of this act, the assessment and equalization of property for the purpose of [district] zone taxation shall be effected as provided in this section.

Taxes of [the district] any zone for the Fiscal Year [1944-1945] 1949-1950 are liens on property the same as if they were county taxes, except that the [district] zone tax liens attach as of noon on the day after this [act] amendment becomes effective.

It is presumed that the assessments of property made by the county assessor and by the State Board of Equalization for county taxation purposes for the Fiscal Year [1944-1945] 1949-1950 are the correct assessments for purposes of taxation by [the Ventura County Flood Control District] any zone and the rolls prepared by the county assessor and the State Board of Equalization shall be used for purposes of levying and collecting the taxes for the [district] zone. If the ownership or taxable situs or value of any property changes between noon on the first Monday in March, [1944] 1949, and the date on which attaches the lien for taxes of the [Ventura County Flood Control District] zone for the Fiscal Year [1944-1945] 1949-1950, then, on petition of the taxpayer affected to the assessing authority, suitable entry shall be made on the assessment roll, in the manner prescribed by the State Board of Equalization, to indicate such change in the ownership or taxability or value of the property for purposes of taxation by the [Ventura County Flood Control District] zone.

In equalizing the assessments made by the county assessor, the board of supervisors, sitting as the county board of equalization, in addition to its regular equalization duties, shall also, in the same manner and under the same rules, equalize the valuation of property for purposes of taxation by [the Ventura County Flood Control District] any zone in accordance with the requirements of this section and any such changes made by the county board of equalization in the assessment roll shall be entered in the manner prescribed by the State Board of Equalization.

If, for purposes of taxation by [the Ventura County Flood Control District] any zone, a change in the assessment for county taxation purposes is not sought under this section before the end of the period during which such assessment may be equalized, or corrected on a petition for reassessment, such assessment, if valid for county taxation purposes, is conclusively presumed to be the correct assessment for taxation purposes of [the Ventura County Flood Control District] any zone.

The board of supervisors may, by ordinance, prescribe any necessary procedure, in accordance with the policy of this act, for the purpose of assessing, equalizing, levying, and collecting taxes for [the Ventura County Flood Control District] any zone for the Fiscal Year [1944-1945] 1949-1950. Except as provided in this section, Section 20 of this act is applicable to the assessment and equalization of property for the purpose of [district] zone taxation for the Fiscal Year [1944-1945] 1949-1950.

SEC. 19. Section 22 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 22. All bonds issued by [said district] any zone under the provisions of this act shall be free and exempt from all taxation within the State of California. It is hereby declared that [the district] any zone organized by this act is a reclamation district and an irrigation district within the meaning of Section 13, Article XIII, of the Constitution of this State.

SEC. 20. Section 23 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 23. All contracts for any improvement or unit of work except as hereinafter provided estimated to cost in excess of five thousand dollars ($5,000) shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder in the manner hereinafter provided. The said board of [supervisors of said district] directors of any zone proposing to enter into any such contract shall advertise by three (3) insertions in a daily newspaper of general circulation or two (2) insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said [district] zone inviting sealed proposals for the construction of, the improvement or work before any contract shall be made therefor, and may let by contract separately any part of said work or improvement. The board shall require the successful bidder to file with the board good and sufficient bonds to be approved by the board conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of their claims for labor and material in connection therewith, such bonds to contain the terms and conditions set forth in Chapter 3 of Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code and to be subject to the provisions of that chapter. The board shall also have the right to reject any and all bids. In the event all proposals are rejected or no proposals are received pursuant to advertisement therefor, or where the estimated cost of such work does not exceed the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), or the work consists of channel protection, or maintenance work, or emergency work when necessary in order to protect life and property from impending flood damage, the board [of supervisors] may without advertising for bids therefor have said work done by force account. The [district] zone shall have the power to purchase in the open market without advertising for bids therefor, materials and supplies for use in any work therewith either under contract or by force account.

SEC. 20.5. Section 24 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 24. Any improvement for which bonds are voted under the provisions of this act, shall be made in conformity with the report, plans, specification and map theretofore adopted, as above specified, unless the doing of any of such work described in said report, shall be prohibited by law, or be rendered contrary to the best interests of the [district] zone by some change of conditions in relation thereto, in which event the board [of supervisors] may order necessary changes made in such proposed work or improvements and may cause any plans and specifications to be made and adopted therefor.

SEC. 21. Section 25 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 25. Whenever bonds have been authorized by any zone of said district and the proceeds of the sale thereof have been expended as in this act authorized, and said board of [supervisors] directors shall by resolution passed by a vote of [all] two-thirds of its members determine that additional bonds should be issued for carrying out the work of flood control, or for any of the purposes of this act, said board [of supervisors] may again proceed as in this act provided, and submit to the qualified voters of said zone the question of issuing additional bonds in the same manner and with like procedure as hereinbefore provided, and all the above provisions of this act for the issuing and sale of such bonds, and for the expenditure of the proceeds thereof, shall be deemed to apply to such issue of additional bonds.

SEC. 22. Section 26 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 26. Should a proposition for issuing bonds for any zone submitted at any election under this act fail to receive the requisite number of votes of the qualified electors voting at such election to incur the indebtedness for the purpose specified, the said board of [supervisors of said district] directors of said zone shall not for six months after such election call or order another election in that zone for incurring indebtedness and issuing bonds under the terms of this act, either for the same objects and purposes, or for any of the objects and purposes of this act.

SEC. 23. Section 28 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 28. There is hereby granted to [Ventura County Flood Control District] each zone created by this act the right of way for the location, construction and maintenance of flood control channels, ditches, waterways, conduits, canals, storm dikes, embankments, and protective works in, over and across public lands of the State of California, not otherwise disposed of or in use, not in any case exceeding in length or width that which is necessary for the construction of such works and adjuncts or for the protection thereof. Whenever any selection if a right of way for such works or adjuncts thereto is made by [the district] any zone the board of [supervisors] directors thereof must transmit to the State Lands Commission, the Controller of the State and the recorder of the county in which the selected lands are situated, a plat of the lands so selected, giving the extent thereof and the uses for which the same is claimed or desired, duly verified to be correct. If the State Lands Commission shall approve the selections so made it shall endorse its approval upon the plat and issue to the [district] zone a permit to use such right of way and lands.

SEC. 24. Section 29 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 29. In case any street, road, highway, railroad, canal, or other property subject or devoted to public use shall become subject to flooding or other interference by reason of the construction or proposed construction of any works of the [district] zone or project, the board of [supervisors of the district] directors of the zone may acquire by agreement or condemnation the right so to flood or otherwise interfere with such property, within or without the [district] zone whether it be publicly or privately owned, and if such right be acquired by condemnation, the judgment may, if the court shall find that public necessity or convenience so requires, direct the [district] zone to relocate such street, road, highway, railroad, canal or other property in accordance with plans prescribed by the court and if by such judgment or by agreement the [district] zone shall be required to relocate any such street, road, highway, railroad, canal or other property subject or devoted to public use, the board shall have power to acquire in the name of the [district] zone, by agreement or condemnation, all rights of way and other property necessary or proper for compliance with said agreement or said judgment of condemnation and thereafter to make such conveyance of such relocated street, road, highway, railroad, canal, or other property as may be proper to comply with said agreement or judgment.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 857:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 6, 1949

To the Honorable Members of the Senate

Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 857, "An act making an appropriation to the emergency fund specified in Item 278 of the Budget Act of 1949, relating to the repair and restoration of property damaged or destroyed by storms or floods and the expenditure of money appropriated therefor," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This bill does not appropriate new funds, but appropriates the unencumbered balance of an appropriation made in 1947 to the emergency fund specified in Item 278 of the Budget Act of 1949, for the cost of repair or restoration of certain damage done by storm or flood. Consideration of this item before the budget has been recommended by the Director of Public Works to permit the State Engineer to begin work on these items as soon as possible.

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 857 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, May 17, 1949

*To the Honorable Members of the Senate
State of California
Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Senate Bill No. 220, entitled: "An act to amend Sections 11090 and 11091 of the Government Code, relating to state agency reports."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

This bill obviously does not accomplish what was intended by the Department of Finance in sponsoring it, and if signed it would call for immediate corrective legislation. Instead of limiting printing of biennial reports of state agencies, it applies to all reports which would prevent the printing of reports on snow surveys, water conditions, and other reports containing information essential to the public. Reports of this character are issued by many state agencies, particularly the Department of Public Works and the Department of Agriculture.

This bill also takes away from the Governor the authority to require state agencies to make reports to him, a change that would weaken his control of the departments of State Government.

I am informed that there is another bill before the Legislature which was to be used for corrective amendment in the event this bill should be signed, but in my opinion it would be better to withhold approval of this bill, which is defective, and to amend the other to accomplish the true purpose of the sponsor of this bill.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Request for Unanimous Consent

Senator Parkmen asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up Senate Bill No. 220, at this time, for consideration of Governor's veto.

"Sec. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Certain herbicides, including some forms of herbicide 2.4-D, have been developed that will kill broad-leaved plants but which, because of the relatively smaller exposed surface of narrow-leaved plants are not harmful to the latter. Since many weeds are broad-leaved such selective herbicides will operate effectively as weed-killers in fields of grass or other narrow-leaved plants. Such herbicides are, however, very light and will float on the breeze for considerable distances without losing their deadly effect upon broad-leaved plants. The application of such herbicides in areas where broad-leaved plants, such as grapes, are cultivated might readily result in wholesale destruction of grape vines and other broad-leaved plants in the area. There is at present no adequate provision of law which will prevent the application of such herbicides under conditions which might cause extensive destruction of grape vines and other plants of great value to the State. It is therefore necessary in order that this danger may be guarded against during the growing season of the current calendar year that remedial measures be provided for immediately."

OPINION OF THE LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, May 18, 1949

Hon. Harry E. Drobish
Senate Chamber

Un-American Activities—No. 6894

DEAR SENATOR DROBISH: You have asked our opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 130, as amended May 16, 1949, relating to the teaching of un-American systems of government upon school property.

The bill would make it a misdemeanor to teach Communism, Nazism, Fascism, or any other system or plan of government except the American system or plan, upon any school property of the State, if done with the intent to indoctrinate any pupil with, or inculcate a preference in the mind of any pupil, for any such system or plan.

Under the due process clause of the Constitution of the United States it has been held that a penal statute in order to meet the requirement of due process must be sufficiently explicit to inform those who are subject to it what conduct on their part will render them liable to its penalties (see Whitney v. California, 274 U. S., at page 368).

The terms "Communism," "Fascism," "Nazism," do not appear to have a definite and certain meaning. The "American system or plan" has none too certain a connotation. The expression "any other system or plan of government except the American system or plan" seems equally vague.

Whatever latitude in that regard might be constitutionally permissible in a statute that prescribes principles designed to guide the school authorities in laying out and conducting a course of instruction in the public schools is irrelevant because this is not such a measure. It has a much wider sweep. The "teaching" which it proscribes may occur within or without the schoolroom, by a classroom teacher conducting a course in civics or by a lecturer before a general audience in the auditorium or on the grounds outside the schoolhouse, if in the latter case there happens to be a "pupil" in the audience.

In our opinion, the essential provisions of this bill lack that degree of definiteness and certainty which the due process clause requires of a penal statute.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
HARRY J. ENGLEBRIGHT, Deputy

Copy to author of Senate Bill No. 130

"SEC. 2. Article 6 is added to Chapter 1, Part 6, Division 2 of said code, to read:

Article 6. Rebates and Commissions

12401. Every title insurer shall adopt, print and make available to the public a schedule of fees and charges for title policies. Such schedule shall show the entire charge to the public for each type of title policy regularly issued by the insurer, either by a statement of the particular charge for each type of policy in given amounts of coverage or by a statement of the charge per unit of the amount of coverage, or a combination of the two, and shall include the charge made by any underwritten title company for the title search, title examination, certificate or abstract of title upon the basis of which such title policy is issued. Such schedule may include a statement that additional charges are made when unusual conditions of title are encountered or when special or unusual risks are insured against and that additional charges are made for special services rendered in connection with the issuance of a title policy. Such schedule may provide different fees or charges for title policies covering property in different counties or separate schedules may be adopted for title policies covering property in different counties.

12402. Each person engaged in the business of handling escrows of real property transactions in connection with which title policies are issued by a title insurer, which person, if an artificial person, directly or indirectly, is controlled by, or controls, or is under common control with, a title insurer, or controls or is controlled by or is under common control with an underwritten title company, or, if a natural person, is employed by or controlled by a title insurer, or by an underwritten title company, is herein, for the purposes of this article, called a "controlled escrow company." Each person engaged in the business of preparing title searches, title examinations, certificates or abstracts of title upon the basis of which a title insurer regularly writes title policies is herein called, for the purposes of this article, "an underwritten title company."

12403. The schedules provided for in Section 12401 shall be printed in type not smaller than 10-point, shall be dated to show the dates they became effective, and so long as they are effective shall be kept at all times readily available to the public and prominently displayed in a public place in each of the offices of the title insurer, the controlled escrow company and the underwritten title company in the particular county to which they relate. On request, copies of such schedules shall be furnished to the public. All or any part of any schedule may be changed or amended at any time or from time to time. Each change or amendment shall be printed and dated to show the effective date of such change or amendment. No change or amendment shall become effective until at least five days after it has been displayed in the offices above mentioned in this section in the same manner as above provided for the display of schedules, and no change or amendment, increasing fees or charges, shall apply to title policies ordered prior to the effective date of such change or amendment. Each title insurer, controlled escrow company and underwritten title company shall keep a complete file of its schedules and of all changes and amendments thereto until at least five years after they shall have ceased to be in effect, and such file shall be available for inspection by the commissioner at any appropriate time.

12404. No title insurer, no controlled escrow company, and no underwritten title company shall pay to any person who is acting as agent, representative, attorney, or employee of the owner, lessee, mortgagee or of the prospective owner, lessee, or mortgagee of the real property or any interest therein, either directly or indirectly, any commission, or any part of its fees or charges or any other consideration as an inducement for or as compensation on any title insurance business or any escrow or other title business in connection with which a title policy is issued.

12405. No title insurer, no controlled escrow company, and no underwritten title company shall make any rebate of any portion of the fee or charge shown by the schedule required by Section 12401. No title insurer, no controlled escrow company and no underwritten title company shall quote any fee or make any charge for a title policy to any person which is less than that currently available to others for the same type of title policy in a like amount covering property in the same county and involving the same factors as set forth in its then currently effective schedule of fees and charges. The amount by which any fee or charge is less than that called for by the then currently effective schedule of fees and charges of the title insurer is an unlawful rebate; provided, that nothing contained in this article shall prohibit bulk rates or special rates for customers of prescribed classes if such bulk or special rates are provided for in such schedule.

12406. No title insurer shall issue any title policy in any transaction in connection with which it or any person which is a controlled escrow company or underwritten title company by reason of its relationship with such title insurer has paid or contemplates paying any commission in violation of Section 12404 or in connection with which it or any such controlled escrow company or underwritten title company has made or contemplates making any unlawful rebate in violation of Section 12405.

12407. The commissioner, if he has reason to believe that any controlled escrow company or any underwritten title company has violated or is violating any of the provisions of this article, has the power and it is his duty to forthwith examine its books, records and accounts and in making any such examination he has all the power set forth in Article 4, Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of this code and any company so examined shall pay to the commissioner the cost of such examination on demand. Any moneys collected by the commissioner pursuant to this section shall be deposited by him in accordance with Section 736 of this code. Whenever the commissioner examines a title insurer, he shall make such examination of its books, records, and files as may be necessary in his judgment to determine whether or not it has violated or is violating any of the provisions of this article.

12408. Every title insurer shall include in its annual statement furnished the commissioner pursuant to Article 1, Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1 of this code, the name of each person which is a controlled escrow company or underwritten title company by reason of its relationship with such title insurer.

12409. Every title insurer and every controlled escrow company and every underwritten title company which pays any commission or which makes any unlawful rebate in violation of this article shall be liable to the people of California for five times the amount of any such commission or unlawful rebate, the amount thereof to be recovered by the commissioner pursuant to Section 12976 of this code in addition to any other penalty imposed by law.

12410. In enforcing any of the provisions of this article, the commissioner shall be entitled to the remedies provided for in Section 12928.6 of this code.

12411. The commissioner may cancel the certificate of authority of any title insurer which, after ten days' written notice from the commissioner requiring it so to do, fails to print, display and make available to the public its schedule of fees and charges in the manner provided in this article. The commissioner may likewise cancel the certificate of authority of any title insurer which, after ten days' written notice from the commissioner requiring it to cease and desist, continues to pay any commission or to make any rebate in wilful violation of the provisions of this article, or to issue any title policy in wilful violation of Section 12406.

12412. Nothing in this article prohibits the division of fees or charges between two or more title insurers or between one or more title insurers and one or more underwritten title companies; provided, that a title insurer shall specify on any title policy issued by it, in a single amount, the entire charge made to obtain such title policy including the charge made by any underwritten title company for the title search, title examination, certificate or abstract of title upon the basis of which such title policy is issued. Such specification of charge on a title policy shall be deemed to be a compliance with the provisions of Section 381(f) of this code notwithstanding that only a portion thereof is income to the title insurer."

Amendment No. 3

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 4 to 29, inclusive.

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill read second time.

Senator Watson moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Amendment No. 1

On page 2 of the printed bill, strike out lines 12 to 40, inclusive, and insert "district existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district is not so represented. A member of the governing body of each sanitary district existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district, the whole or part of which is included in the sanitation district, is a member of the board.

If the sanitation district includes territory which is unincorporated and not included in a sanitary district, then a member of the county board of supervisors is a member of the board.

If the sanitation district includes all or part of one city and no sanitary district, or one sanitary district existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district and no city, then two members of the board of supervisors are members of the board, unless the population included in the city or sanitary district existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district is more than half of the population of the whole sanitation district, in which case one member of the board of supervisors and two members of the governing body of the city or sanitary district existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district constitute the board of directors.

If the total number of cities and sanitary districts existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district included in the sanitation district, in whole or in part, excepting cities wholly within sanitary districts existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district is two, and if the sanitation district does not include any territory not in cities or sanitary districts existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district, then the district board includes two members from each of the governing bodies of the cities and sanitary districts existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district in whole or in part within the sanitation district, excepting cities within sanitary districts existing at the time of the formation of a sanitation district.

"3466a. After the lapse of one year from and after the expiration of the period of redemption of any land sold to the district, or county treasurer as trustee for the district, either pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3466, 3480 or Section 3480a of this code, the county treasurer of the main county, when [and as] directed by the board of trustees of the district [as herein provided, may in their discretion then] shall sell the whole or any part of any tract of land remaining unsold to the highest bidder for cash at the front door of the courthouse of the main county of the district after giving previous notice of such sale, and the time and place of holding the same, by publication thereof in some newspaper published in the county in which the land to be sold or some portion thereof is situated for two times, to wit: once a week for two successive weeks. It shall be sufficient to describe said land in said notice by reference number as set forth in the assessment lists to which reference shall be made in said notice, and to the date and time of filing same, for further particulars. One or more parcels of such land may be included in the same notice and sold severally at the time and place set forth in said notice.

Such land shall be offered for sale within three years from and after the expiration period of redemption thereof, or within two years from and after the effective date of this amendment, whichever period is greater, in parcels of 160 acres or such lesser number of acres as the board of trustees may determine will be most desirable for purposes of assuring the sale thereof.

Prior to the sale of any parcel, the county treasurer of the main county shall cause its fair market value to be ascertained by means of an appraisal made by a board of appraisement consisting of:

(a) One member who is an officer or an authorized appraiser of a banking corporation formed under the laws of this State, or by the manager of a branch bank of such banking corporation, or an officer or cashier of a national banking association, having a place of business in the county in which the parcel or some portion thereof is situated. If there is no such banking corporation or national banking association having a place of business in the county in which the parcel or some portion thereof is situated, one member shall be an officer or an authorized appraiser, or the manager of a branch bank of such a banking corporation, or an officer or cashier of a national banking association, having a place of business in a county adjacent thereto.

(b) One member who is an inheritance tax appraiser of the county in which the parcel is located.

(c) One member, a disinterested person, who is a licensed real estate broker, selected by the two other members of the board.

In the event that all of the members of the board of appraisement cannot agree as to the fair market value of the parcel, (a) if two of the members of the board agree as to the fair market value, the amount so agreed upon shall constitute the board's appraisal, or, (b) if no two members of the board agree as to the fair market value, then each member of the board shall make a separate appraisal and the average of the three appraisals shall constitute the board's appraisal.

Each appraisal shall be verified by the members of the board of appraisement. The verification shall state that the appraisal is made in good faith, and that the valuation is honestly determined and represents the bona fide opinion of the board. If any member of the board of appraisement does not concur in the appraisal, the verification shall contain a statement as to the manner in which the board determined the appraised fair market value.

At the time of the sale of any parcel of such land, the county treasurer of the main county shall announce the fair market value of the parcel, as appraised, and shall not accept any bid therefor less than such fair market value.

In the event that any parcel of such land remains unsold for want of an acceptable bid, the county treasurer shall have the parcel reappraised and offer it for sale to the highest bidder for cash in the manner herein provided, at least once each year until the parcel is sold.

In the event of a sale of a part of any tract of land remaining unsold then the assessment or assessments thereon shall be reapportioned as provided in Sections 3454 and 3460 of the Political Code.

[The trustees of the district shall have the right to reject any and all bids and no bid shall be accepted for an amount less than such price as shall be approved by them. No parcel shall be sold for an amount less than the fair market value thereof as such value shall be ascertained by the board of trustees. One or more parcels of such land may be included in the same notice and sold severally at the time and place set forth in said notice.] Upon such last mentioned sale being made as herein provided the said county treasurer shall execute a deed to the purchaser conveying the land sold, upon payment of the price bid, which deed shall have the effect of conveying title to the land sold to the purchaser free of encumbrance, except district assessments (including the unpaid balance of said assessment for the delinquency of which said property was sold) which upon the date of the sale herein provided had not been called, and except as may be otherwise provided by law, and such deed duly executed and acknowledged shall be prima facie evidence that all the proceedings for the levy and collection of the delinquent assessment for which said land was sold, and all of the proceedings for the sale of said land have been duly and regularly taken, and all notices required to be given or published have been so duly given and published for the time and manner as required by law.

Where any land has been sold for a delinquent assessment, pursuant to the provisions of Sections 3466, 3480 or 3480a of the Political Code for a delinquent assessment or installment of the same and no redemption has been made and the time for redemption has expired, and until the sale thereof, the district shall have the right to the possession of the land so sold and unredeemed and the board of trustees shall have the right to bring and maintain any and all actions in equity or law in connection with said land and the protection of the district's rights therein to the same extent as any other owner; and the costs and expenses of such action or actions shall be a charge against the district. The board of trustees shall also have the right to expend funds of the district in such amounts that may from time to time be necessary for the purpose of retiring any and all liens against such land superior to the title of the county treasurer therein.

The trustees of the district shall have the management and control of, and the right to lease out to a tenant or tenants for such reasonable rental and upon such terms as such trustees may deem advisable, any and all lands in the district which have been sold to the county treasurer, as trustee, for delinquent assessments, where the time for redemption has expired and said lands remain unsold and to receive and collect the rental for the same.

All rentals collected or moneys received by the trustees of the district from such lease of land or for the use or occupation of such land may be applied by them to the payment of the incidental expenses of holding and leasing said lands and to the payment of any other incidental expenses of, or legal charge against the district or for the purpose of purchasing any outstanding bonds of the district matured or unmatured together with the coupons thereunto appertaining at not more than the face value of such bonds plus the accrued interest thereon; which said bonds and or coupons when so purchased shall be forthwith delivered to the county treasurer and canceled, and to the payment of any call of any maintenance assessment on any tract of land theretofore bought in by county treasurer as trustee of the district for a delinquent installment of any assessment theretofore levied on any such tract of land and then remaining unsold by said county treasurer; provided, however, that after the period of redemption has expired all rentals collected or moneys received from lease of land sold to the county treasurer as trustee of the district pursuant to the provisions of Section 3480 or 3480a of this code or for the use or occupation of such land, less the incidental expenses of leasing or holding the same and less the amount required to pay any called or delinquent installment of any maintenance assessment on any tract of land which has been theretofore bought in by the said county treasurer for the payment of any delinquent installment of any assessment theretofore levied on any such tract of land, and then remaining unsold by such county treasurer, shall, in the event said district shall be in default for interest or principal payments on any of said bonds issued by said district, be deposited in said county treasury of the main county, to the credit of the bond fund of the district. An amount equal to the revenues derived from each tract by reason of the leasing, use or occupation thereof, less the incidental expenses of leasing and holding same, shall be credited by the county treasurer on the assessment lists against the delinquent charges on said tract.

The provisions hereof shall apply to all lands heretofore sold for delinquency to a district or to the county treasurer, as trustee as well as to future sales under assessments whether heretofore, or hereafter to be, levied."

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1364.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 29, 1949

To the Honorable Members of the Senate
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 1364, "An act making an appropriation in augmentation of the appropriation in Item 341 of the Budget Act of 1948, for educational assistance to veterans, Department of Veterans' Affairs, to take effect immediately."

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This bill provides an additional appropriation for educational assistance to veterans for the balance of the present fiscal year. This matter is one of urgency because as of March 31, 1949, the available funds for educational assistance to veterans are over-encumbered to the extent of $194,690. Additional requests by veterans for educational assistance for the Spring semester are still being received. In order to pay these claims it is necessary that this measure be passed by the Legislature before enactment of the Budget Bill.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 1364 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EARL WARREN, Governor

Amendment No. 1

In line 3 of the title of the printed bill as amended in Senate on May 16, 1949, strike out "state school property", and insert "any property belonging to any agencies included in the Public School System".

The Legislature in prohibiting the advocacy or teaching of Communism, Nazism, or Fascism with the intent to indoctrinate any pupil with or inculcate a preference in the mind of any pupil for, such doctrines does not intend to prevent the teaching of the facts of any of the above subjects but intends to prevent the advocacy of, and inculcation and indoctrination into Communism, Fascism, or Nazism, as is hereinafter defined, for the purpose of undermining the patriotism for, and the belief in, the Government of the United States and of this State in the minds of the pupils in the Public School System.

For the purposes of this section, Communism is a political theory that the presently existing form of Government of the United States or of this State should be changed, by force, violence, or other unconstitutional means, to a totalitarian dictatorship which is based on the principles of Communism as expounded by Marx, Lenin and Stalin.

For the purposes of this section, Fascism is a political theory of the absolute sovereignty of the state which is organized in the corporate form and of the duty of citizens to render blind obedience to its commands under the leadership of an elite; wherein the state controls all the affairs of the nation, including the industrial, commercial and personal affairs of its citizens and in particular as was created in Italy and copied in Germany.

For the purposes of this section, Nazism is a political theory that embodies the doctrines of Fascism as above defined and that embodies a belief in a master race to the ultimate enslavement of all other peoples of the world."

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Senator Tenney asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to have the following Opinion of the Legislative Counsel regarding the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 130 printed in the Journal:

Opinion of the Legislative Counsel

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
 SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, May 23, 1949

Hon. Jack B. Tenney
Senate Chamber

Un-American Teaching—No. 6921

DEAR SENATOR TENNEY: You have asked us for an opinion as to the constitutionality of Senate Bill No. 130 as amended May 20, 1949.

Senate Bill No. 130 as amended provides essentially that a teacher under the guise of giving instruction in Communism, Fascism and Nazism shall not advocate the doctrines of the above subjects or attempt to indoctrinate any pupil into belief of the above subjects, and further, the bill expresses its intent to prevent any such indoctrination or advocacy but does not intend to prevent instruction in the facts of the above subjects, and further provides, for the purposes of this section being added to the Education Code, definitions to guide teachers and disciplinary boards of the schools.

Breach of this law allows the appropriate school disciplinary board to dismiss the guilty teacher in accordance with the provisions and procedures set out in the Education Code (Article 2, Section 11, Division 7, Education Code).

It would seem clear that the Legislature has the power under the Constitution of the State of California to enact legislation regulating the subjects to be taught in the Public School System and this power over the educational system of the State was generally granted in Article 9, Section 1, of the Constitution of the State of California. Further, this subject falls within the field of subjects over which the State may exercise its police power, as education and teaching in the school system would seem to be matters concerning the general welfare (see generally 11 Am. Jur. 1015).

The main constitutional problem raised by this bill seems to be whether it sets up a definite enough standard to guide the persons affected by it. As the bill sets forth a general definition of the meaning of the prohibited subjects, it would seem that it is sufficiently definite to guide a person teaching these subjects. Further, as the persons affected have the full right of review in any action taken under this proposed section, both under the procedures set up by the Education Code and for the right of appeal to the courts, it seems that such persons are fully protected.

As was stated in the case of the Board of Education v. Jewett, 21 Cal. App. 2d 64, at page 72:

"The preservation of our Nation depends on the patriotism of its people. Our School Code gives recognition to the principle that patriotism is to be instilled in the pupils attending our public schools. This purpose is not accomplished by the retention on our teaching staffs of instructors who entertain the beliefs held by appellant, and who seek to impress those beliefs upon their pupils."

The above case upheld the dismissal of a teacher in the Public School System of the State of California for the attempted indoctrination of his pupils into anti-American beliefs held by him.

It is therefore our opinion that the bill in question would be constitutional.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By HARRY J. ENGLEBRIGHT, Deputy

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, strike out lines 5 to 10, inclusive, and insert

"SEC. 2. This act is enacted in furtherance of the declared policy of the State to stimulate the maximum use of the harbor in San Francisco Bay in order to foster and develop international and other trade for the benefit of the entire State.

The geographical situation of the San Francisco Bay which makes it one of the finest harbors in the world, at the same time prevents the full utilization of the harbor by acting as a physical barrier to the rapid and effective transportation of persons between the various portions of the metropolitan area surrounding the bay.

Private enterprise has not and cannot construct or maintain an integrated, rapid and efficient means of transporting persons throughout the area. It is therefore necessary to create a political subdivision with the consent of the people therein, to finance, construct, operate or cause to be operated and maintain such a transit system in the interest of the people of the State as a whole.

The City and County of San Francisco and the City of Oakland are necessary, integral parts of such a system.

The Legislature expressly finds and declares that because of the unique transportation problem presented by the San Francisco Bay Metropolitan Area it is necessary to enact this legislation applicable solely to such area.

SEC. 3. As used in this act:

(a) "District" means San Francisco Bay Metropolitan Area Rapid Transit District.

(b) "Rapid transit" means transportation of passengers by means of rail, monorail or by similar means; upon, above or below the surface of land or water, over a course on which, generally, other traffic does not operate and which is, for the most part, grade separated from intersecting traffic.

(c) "Rapid transit works" or "rapid transit facilities" means all real and personal property, equipment, rights or interests owned or to be acquired by the district for rapid transit.

SEC. 4. The district may be created as herein provided and when created may exercise the powers herein granted.

The district shall include the City and County of San Francisco and the City of Oakland and may include in addition all or any portion of the following counties or of any city situated therein: Marin, Sonoma, Napa, Solano, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo and Santa Clara."

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Senators Weybret, Watson, and Tenney:

Senate Resolution No. 107

Relative to the creation of the Special Senate Committee to Investigate the State Department of Social Welfare

WHEREAS, Charges have been made that the Director of the Department of Social Welfare has permitted George H. McLain, a pension promoter, to act as the actual director of the State Department of Social Welfare to such an extent that he dictates who shall be named to fill the positions said director is required to fill; and

WHEREAS, It has been charged that, although he has no official connection with the department, McLain demands written reports from employees of the department, demands lobbying activities and personal loyalty to him from said employees, and has secured the dismissal of employees who refuse to comply with his demands; and

WHEREAS, It has been charged that Walter P. Chambers, Chief Administrative Officer for the department has not performed the duties of his office, although accepting compensation therefor, but has instead engaged in political activities, served under the actual direction of George H. McLain as said McLain's errand boy, and has reported directly to McLain and used a state car to transport said McLain on his private business; and

WHEREAS, If these charges are false the persons accused should be granted an opportunity to demonstrate that fact, but if such charges are true it is apparent that legislative action is necessary to prevent the needs of our elder citizens from becoming a pawn in the hands of a promoter having no statutory or constitutional duty to any one; now, therefore, be it

6. MY DEAR MR. BECK: I have received your letter with which you enclosed a copy of Senate Joint Resolution No. 22 relating to the recent acts of religious persecution in Eastern Europe which was adopted by the Legislature of the State of California on April 12, 1949.

The department is glad to be informed of the observations of the members of the California State Legislature which are an expression of their deep interest, and encloses for their information material concerning this Government's position in the matter.

The Voice of America has broadcast in full the views expressed by responsible officials of this Government and also is carrying the comments of other representative public figures throughout the world who have denounced these actions of religious persecution. STATEMENT BY SECRETARY OF STATE DEAN ACHESON

The trial of Jozsef Cardinal Mindszenty, upon whom the Hungarian Government has now imposed a sentence of life imprisonment, confirms the Government and people of the United States in the views expressed by the Acting Secretary of State on December 29, 1948. By this conscienceless attack upon religious and personal freedom, as well as by the persecution of Lutheran Bishop Lajos Ordass and other respected church leaders, the Soviet controlled Hungarian authorities seek to discredit and coerce religious leadership in Hungary in order to remove this source of moral resistance to Communism.

In their conduct of the case of Cardinal Mindszenty, the Hungarian authorities do not appear to have omitted any of the usual methods practiced by a police state. Such proceedings constitute not the administration of justice but wanton persecution. They have evoked universal condemnation, and the Hungarian Government must bear full responsibility for its action.

The cases of Cardinal Mindszenty and other Hungarian church leaders are not isolated developments. During the past two years, with governmental power entirely in the hands of the minority Communist party, the people of Hungary have been increasingly denied the exercise of fundamental human rights and freedoms. Parliamentary opposition, an element indispensable to the democratic process, has been ruthlessly eliminated, the totalitarian controls of State and Party have been laid like a deadening hand upon every phase of daily personal existence, and the Hungarian people have been divested of any real independence.

The people of the United States, and, without question, peoples of other freedom loving nations, are sickened and horrified by these developments and fully comprehend the threat they constitute to free institutions everywhere.

Senator Salsman Presiding

At 1.45 p.m., Senator Byrl R. Salsman, Vice Chairman of the Committee on Rules of the Senate, presiding.

In memory of George W. Beattie

WHEREAS, In the death of George W. Beattie in Highland, San Bernardino County, California, on May 16, 1949, has lost a revered citizen, a scholar, teacher, and historian of extraordinary merit, and the people of the San Bernardino Valley mourn a beloved friend and neighbor; and

WHEREAS, At the age of 90 years George W. Beattie could travel in memory over the long span of his life, to his childhood with his mother, Mrs. Angelica Strong Beattie and his grandmother, Mrs. Laura Strong, to the time of his early manhood 72 years ago when he first began to teach, in a one-room schoolhouse, and in moving again down the path of public service which he followed, could find some worthy monument for almost every one of those well-spent years: His administration as county superintendent of schools, his part in the founding of Pomona College, his work on the commission which devised the system of state credentials for teachers; and

WHEREAS, At a mature age and after years of teaching he entered the University of California, majoring in chemistry and receiving a Master of Science Degree in 1901, going then to the Philippine Islands where he served as teacher and superintendent of schools, organized and served as dean of the junior college of Manila, helped organize the University of the Philippines, and served as acting dean of its college of liberal arts until his return to California in 1911, where he immediately entered again into leadership in the public life of the community, serving in many capacities, including chairmanship of a selective service board during World War I;

WHEREAS, He then devoted his time to years of scholarly research among the records of western pioneers, and then, with his wife, Helen, wrote with infinite care his book, "The Heritage of the Valley," and by his example inspired the restoration of historic landmarks and the writing of other scholarly works upon the history of our State, the life of which so nearly paralleled his own which began in 1859; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, That the Members of this Senate express deep regret at the closing of a life and the passing of a spirit which had so served and enriched his community and our beloved State; and be it further

Relative to the creation of the Senate Committee on Water Problems

WHEREAS, The industry and agriculture of our State is dependent upon an adequate water supply which can be obtained only through the full development and utilization of our water resources; and

WHEREAS, Our present water supply is insufficient to fulfill even the present needs of the people of this State and the urgent need for the immediate completion of a comprehensive and coordinated program for the conservation of all of our water resources; and

WHEREAS, Much state legislation is pending and contemplated for consideration for the purpose of making the maximum possible beneficial use of the waters of the State; and

WHEREAS, There is much federal legislation now pending and in contemplation for enactment which would provide for various federal activities in connection with the solution of our water development and conservation problems, and there is much confusion as to just how California and the Federal Government may best cooperate in solving these problems, and a comprehensive plan should be carefully worked out for such cooperation between them; and

WHEREAS, The Central Valley Project is an integral part of the full development of the water resources and it is necessary to study means whereby the State can best assist in accomplishing its completion at the earliest possible date; and

WHEREAS, The San Francisco Bay Area and coastal counties are in need, desperately, of an additional supply of fresh water; and

WHEREAS, It is necessary that a study be made of the means by which such a supply can be obtained for this area; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, As follows:

2. The committee shall consist of five Members of the Senate appointed by the Committee on Rules thereof. Vacancies occurring in the membership of the committee shall be filled by the appointing power.

4. The committee and its members shall have and exercise all of the rights, duties and powers conferred upon investigating committees and their members by the provisions of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly and of the Standing Rules of the Senate as they are adopted and amended from time to time at this session, which provisions are incorporated herein and made applicable to this committee and its members.

5. The committee has the following additional powers and duties:

(a) To select a chairman and a vice chairman from its membership.

(f) To employ engineers and such other technical and clerical assistants as may be necessary to enable the committee to properly conduct its studies.

6. The sum of one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Senate for the expenses of the committee and its members and for any charges, expenses or claims it may incur under this resolution, to be paid from the said contingent fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer.

Bill read second time.

Motion to Amend

Senator McBride moved the adoption of the following amendments:

Amendment No. 1

In the title of the bill, strike out the second line and insert "amending Sections 9.07 and 9.10 thereof,".

Amendment No. 2

Strike out lines 1 to 7, both inclusive, of said bill, and insert

"SECTION 1. Section 9.07 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9.07. Security for Loans. For each loan made by a building and loan association a note or notes or other obligation or obligations expressing a rate of interest must be executed by the borrower and must be secured, except as otherwise permitted under Section 9.18 or 9.19, (a) by a first mortgage or first trust deed upon fee title to real property or upon a leasehold interest in real property under a lease for not less than ninety-nine years which is renewable or under a lease having a period of not less than fifty years to run from the date of the loan, (b) by the pledge of shares or investment certificates of such association and/or (c) by the pledge of bonds or other collateral. Two or more mortgages or trust deeds, all owned or purchased by the same association, shall collectively be deemed a first mortgage or a first trust deed, as the case may be, for all the purposes of this act, if they create successive liens or charges upon the same real property or leasehold interest and if one thereof is in fact a first mortgage or first trust deed. In lieu of making two or more separate loans, each secured by mortgage, trust deed or pledge of one or more properties or leasehold interests or securities in amounts permitted by this act, an association may make a single loan secured by all such properties, by all such leasehold interests and/or by all such securities, if the principal amount of such single loan does not exceed the aggregate of the principal amounts which would be permitted for such separate loans. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this act, any security, whether or not the same be a first encumbrance or charge, on property, either improved or unimproved and either real or personal, may be taken at any time and without limit as additional security for any loan held by such association.

SEC. 2. Section 9.10 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9.10. Loans Upon Real Property. Loans may be made upon the security of improved real property in an amount not in excess of 60 percent of the appraised value of such real property; provided, however, that amortized loans may be made in an amount not in excess of 70 percent of the appraised value of such real property; provided further, that amortized loans upon the security of improved real property may be made in an amount not in excess of 80 percent of the appraised value of such real property if such appraised value does not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or not in excess of 80 percent of the first ten thousand dollars ($10,000) of such appraised value if it exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000) plus 70 percent of the remainder of such appraised value, subject to the following conditions in the case of each such loan exceeding 70 percent: (1) the principal improvement on such real property shall consist of a single family dwelling; and (2) the note or other obligation evidencing such loan shall provide for reduction of principal by monthly installments commencing in the case of construction loans not later than nine months after the date of such loan, and in case of any other loan not later than three months after the date of such loan.

Loans may be made upon the security of unimproved real property in an amount not in excess of 33 1/3 percent of the appraised value of such real property.

In respect of any loan made upon the security of real property where it is agreed and/or contemplated that improvements will be made thereon to become a part of such security, said real property shall be deemed to be improved real property and the value of such proposed improvements shall be included in the appraised value of such real property; provided, however, that at no time shall the amount advanced by the association on such loan exceed the ratio of loan to value authorized by this section in respect to such loan, excluding from such value the value of such proposed building or buildings when completed but including in such value the value of such building or buildings to such time.

The term "real property" as used in this section and in Sections 9.14, 9.18 and 9.19, whether unmodified or modified by the terms "improved" or "unimproved," includes (a) fee title to real property, (b) a leasehold interest in real property under a lease for not less than ninety-nine years which is renewable and (c) a leasehold interest in real property under a lease having a period of not less than fifty years to run from the date of the loan. If the security is a leasehold interest, the value appraised shall be the value of such leasehold interest and not of the fee title.

The provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of Section 9.18 and of Section 9.19."

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered printed, and re-referred to Committee on Financial Institutions.

On page 1 of said bill, after line 14, insert

"Sec. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

At the present time there exists a serious shortage of storage space for cotton in the shipping areas of this State. This State is the major shipping point for the Orient, but in 1948, of 900,000 bales of cotton shipped to the Orient, only 140,000 bales passed through California ports, due to the lack of storage space for cotton in this State. The growing and shipping of cotton plays an important part in the economy of this State. The impairment of these industries would disrupt this important segment of our economy, thereby endangering the public peace, health and safety. This act authorizes increased storage space for cotton, thereby relieving the present emergency."
